W. German Jews Worship In Peace

Armed Police Guard Their Synagogues

BERLIN (AP) — Jews in West Germany and West Berlin observed their Sabbath Saturday in synagogues protected by armed policemen.

It was the first time since the end of the Nazi era that the Jews in Germany had celebrated a Sabbath under the shadow of such outspoken anti-Semitism around the world.

The guards were put in front of the synagogues earlier last week, after Nazi swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans had been painted on Jewish homes and temples.

Even as the police marched up and down, fresh evidence of anti-Jewish feeling cropped up. Swastikas were found at a labor office in Bayreuth, the center of the production of operas by Richard Wagner, who was an idol of the Nazis.

Other reports of vandalism came from such widely separated cities as Rome, Lisbon; Stockholm; Lille, France; Baltimore; Montreal and Toronto, Canada.

In West Berlin the independent newspaper Der Abend apologized for a swastika that turned up in one of its crossword puzzles. The paper said it was an accident.

The official Communist East German news agency ADN said an increasing number of elevated trains are arriving in East Berlin from Western-occupied West Berlin with swastikas daubed on them.

Authorities in West Germany and Austria reported new arrests.

In West Berlin four men—from 20 to 40 years old—were arrested for making anti-Semitic statements on a drinking spree. This boosted to 27 the number arrested in West Berlin on charges of Neo-Nazi activities.

In Aschaffenburg, West Germany, two youths, 17 and 18 were arrested for painting swastikas on the walls of a school.

In Bonn, two men, 19 and 24, were charged with painting swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans on a Roman Catholic church.

In Austria, police arrested three youths for plastering walls with swastikas and Nazi slogans.

West German army authorities announced they discharged a 19-year-old soldier who had pinned two anti-Semitic leaflets on a barracks bulletin board.

German authorities also took other steps to counter anti-Semitism. West Berlin school Supt. Carl-Heinz Evers warned that teachers who refuse to tell their students the truth about the Nazis will face disciplinary action.

Evers said he was acting because most of the men arrested for the recent neo-Nazi activity have been youths who got their schooling after the collapse of Nazi regime.

Nasser Launches Aswan Dam Project

ASWAN, Egypt (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser yanked a switch Saturday and launched his cherished Aswan Dam project—long a pawn in the East-West cold war in the Middle East.

Before cheering thousands, Nasser thanked the Soviet Union for financing the first stage of the billion-dollar hydroelectric-irrigation project after the United States and Britain had withdrawn their offer of help in 1956.

Yet possibly mindful that he still may need help from the West to finish the ambitious project to control the Nile and expand its work for Egypt, Nasser declared he bore no rancor.

"We remember the country (the Soviet Union) which agreed to help us in this project," Nasser told the crowds in this town in Upper Egypt. "We celebrate the building of the dam without hatred of those who fought us."

A big Soviet delegation was present, headed by I. T. Novikov, minister of power station construction sent from Moscow especially for the occasion. Visiting King Mohammed V of Morocco was another spectator.

Nasser said his United Arab Republic had been able to begin construction on the 645-foot dam — which will be the world's highest —despite "threats and economic pressure" from other countries.

It will take four years to complete the first stage, construction of a coffer dam and a diversion canal. The second stage—the construction of the dam and its hydroelectric tunnels — will take nearly six years.

The dam, which will use 17 times more granite than the great Pyramid of Cheops at Giza, ultimately is expected to produce 10 billion kilowatt hours of electricity annually, about 10 times more than Egypt now produces.

Water behind the dam will form the world's largest man - made lake. It will be used for irrigation to expand the cultivation area of the Egyption area of the U.A.R. by about 30 per cent.

Northern States Feel Pinch Of Subzero Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Subzero cold numbed the northern border states Saturday from the Great Plains to New England.

Scattered snow fell from North Dakota into the Great Lakes region and from western Montana into Washington and over the Sierras.

Midday temperatures were below zero from northern Michigan to Maine, Rumford, Maine, recorded -6, Caribou -5, Burlington, Vt., -2 and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., -1.

Overnight low readings ranged down to -33 in Upstate New York, while Mt. Washington in New Hampshire had a midday temperature of -34.

Skies were clear from the Atlantic coastal states into the Tennessee and Eastern Ohio valleys.

Snow was mixed with rain in western Washington. Locally moderate to heavy rain doused California. Occasional rain or showers splattered the Texas coast.

Afternoon temperatures in the 50s and 60s were the rule in the Gulf Coast region with 70s in southern Texas and Florida.

The 20s and 30s prevailed over the Rockies with a few teens recorded at higher elevations.

Predict Hard-Fought Contest For State's Top Political Job

CHICAGO (AP)—The race for Illinois' top state political job, and a 4-year lease on the governor's mansion, loomed Saturday as a sharp fight spiced by intraparty contests on both sides.

Each of the leading contenders—Gov. Stratton for the Republicans and Cook County Judge Otto Kerner for the Democrats—is considered youthful when it comes to state politics. Stratton is 46, Kerner 51.

Neither had to be coaxed into the race, and both have indicated the campaign will be hard-fought.

Stratton, elected congressman at large in 1941 at the age of 26, launched his bid for an unprecedented third consecutive term as governor Dec. 17.

"I like being governor of Illinois," he told a home town rally in Morris. "I believe in the things we are trying to do and are accomplishing for the benefit of the people of the state."

Even though three other governors have failed in the past in attempts at a third straight term, Stratton and other GOP leaders have said they don't think the third term will figure in the voting.

However, Republican State Sen. Hayes Robertson of Flossmoor has come out against the third term and has himself entered the campaign for the nomination. Reports circulated today that four of the five Republican members of the Cook County Board would side with Robertson.

Judge Kerner, whose father was a U.S. Court of Appeals judge and Illinois attorney general, was endorsed for the nomination Friday by the Democratic State Central Committee.

He attacked the state Republican administration and said "Illinois has the people and the assets to be the number one state in the union, but unfortunately, this has not been the fact."

Some Republicans demanded that Kerner resign from the county bench because he is a candidate for a non-judicial office. Kerner indicated Saturday he would study bar association canons over the weekend to determine whether he should do so.

Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, began campaign for his party's gubernatorial nomination more than two months ago. In a statement Friday night, he attacked the manner in which the state central committee had endorsed Kerner and added:

"Now it's the people's turn."

There were two question marks in the Democratic camp. Edward J. Barrett, former secretary of state and currently Cook County clerk, was reported miffed over the committee endorsements.

He termed the slate a "ticket of defeatism and destruction." He had appeared before the slate-making body seeking endorsement of himself as a candidate for the bid to oppose Stratton.

There was also speculation that State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman might strike out for the nomination without Democratic organization support. He too had appeared before the party committee.

Neither Lohman nor Barrett was available for comment.

The GOP State Central Committee does not make endorsements but leaves the selection to various county committees. Francis X. Connell, Cook County chairman, indicated Saturday his group will meet again Monday and will endorse all state incumbents seeking re-election, including Stratton.

The committee previously endorsed Samuel W. Witwer, a Chicago attorney, to oppose U.S. Sen.

CHARGE MOTHER IN DEATHS OF HER 4 CHILDREN IN FIRE

CHICAGO (AP)— A young mother whose four children, one blind, died in a fire after she went out on the town leaving them unattended, was charged Saturday with four counts of endangering the life and health of a child.

She will appear in court Sunday.

Lenore White, 25, told police she went to visit a friend and later went drinking at a tavern. The children died in a rear flat in a West side apartment. Fifty other residents of the building escaped in the fire early Saturday.

The children were identified as Tyrone, 6, who was blind, Milton, 4, Linda, 3, and Tynia 1.

Mexican Immigration Report Cheers Father Seeking Son

NUEVO LAREDO, Mex. (AP)—An Indiana father here in search of a missing son said Saturday night that "things look good right now."

George R. Bradley, 43, a Kokomo, Ind., real estate man, said he was cheered by a Mexican immigration officer's report that the youth was turned back Monday at a check station 16 miles south of this Mexican border town.

A search began after a car driven by William Russell Bradley, 17, was found abandoned 20 miles east of Nuevo Laredo, which is just across the Rio Grande from Maredo, Tex.

The immigration officer, Gilberto Nunez Samans, told authorities that young Bradley was unable to produce papers for himself or the car.

Bradley said he doesn't believe his son had met with foul play, as police here first suspected. He expressed the opinion his son was traveling of his own free will.

"We are definitely of the opinion he was the boy the man remembers turning back Monday," the elder Bradley said, "although the picture we showed him was a little old. For that reason, the search is going to center right here."

Bradley arrived here Saturday morning. He and two companions left Indianapolis at 2 a.m. Friday by car.

"None of us has been to bed since we left Kokomo," he said, "and we'll try to get a little rest now."

With the father are Bob Breison, 16, of Kokomo, whom he identified as the missing youth's best friend, and C.E. Marcum, Indianapolis real estate man.

Bradley said his wife, worried about their son, is under a doctor's care. They have another son.

"He has never given any trouble," he said of the missing youth, "or even expressed a desire to go anywhere."

Aneurin Bevan Suffers Setback

LONDON (AP)—Doctors Saturday reported a setback in the condition of Aneurin Bevan, deputy chief of Britain's Labor party, who is in a hospital after an abdominal operation.

A bulletin issued by The Royal Free Hospital in London said: "Mr. Aneurin Bevan has had a disturbed night. His condition is not as satisfactory as it was yesterday."

The 62-year-old Bevan earlier had been reported making progress. The operation, for an undisclosed ailment, was performed 11 days ago.

The only clue to Bevan's condition has been a negative one. Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell, now touring the United States, said two days ago he received an encouraging note from Mrs. Bevan and added: "It's definitely not cancer and Nye will recover completely."

Cancer never has been mentioned in the hospital bulletins or by friends of the Bevan family.

Administration Offers Hopes For Tax Cut In '61

ICE FLOE DISINTEGRATES: Newsmap spots location of a disintegrating ice floe in the Arctic Ocean where 25 members of a scientific station await rescue by an airlift. If Congress Helps With New Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is holding out hope for a tax cut in 1961 if Congress will go along with the President's new budget forecasting a $4,200,000,000 surplus.

It also was learned Saturday that President Eisenhower's prediction of a 200-million-dollar surplus in the current fiscal year is based principally on expectations of a whopping drop in farm aid spending.

Estimates of agricultural outlays have been reduced by 900 million dollars since September — more than enough to offset revenues lost through the steel strike.

A high official, who declined to be quoted by name, told a reporter the administration likely will favor broad tax reform legislation, including reduction of basic rates, at next year's congressional session provided:

1. The $4,200,000,000 materializes in the 1961 fiscal year that begins July 1, 1960.

2. The surplus is used to reduce the record national debt of 290 billion dollars.

3. The economy continues to expand and a recession is avoided.

President Eisenhower drew a question mark around tax relief in his State of the Union message to Congress Thursday. He said tax cuts should be voted only after debt reduction becomes a normal practice.

This could be interpreted as indicating the President would want to see several more years of balanced budgets before tax relief is attempted.

While Eisenhower is leaving the White House next January, it will be his job to prepare the following year's budget for his successor. He also will be expected to submit a final series of legislative recommendations for the new Congress convening in 1961.

The present administration has been working closely with the House Ways and Means Committee in a broad-scale study of tax reform. The official who spelled out current thinking said a tax cut in 1961 is a distinct possibility.

Land Experts On Ice Floe, Continue To Move Men Out

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Air Force landed four military experts on disintegrating Station Charley Saturday while continuing its orderly evacuation of men and equipment from the floating scientific Ice Island in the Arctic Ocean.

With nine men already evacuated from the big sheet of ice 400 miles northwest of Barrow, Alaska, four Air Force men were moved in to help the remaining civilian and military personnel pack valuable equipment.

The Alaska Air Command at Anchorage announced the four are Capt. Frank A. Lammert, Normandy, Mo., transport technician; Tech. Sgt. Jerry A. Bailey, Salisbury, N.C., power production technician; Staff Sgt. Thomas A. Boger, Greensboro, N.C., equipment maintenance technician, and Staff Sgt. Vernon Taylor, Broken Bow, Neb., supply technician.

As around-the-clock operations continued in the arctic darkness, two more veterans of the expedition were scheduled to be flown out soon. They are Capt. Harold Van Horn, Mead, Md., and Airman 1.C Robert Seiter, Farmingdale, N.Y.

Withdrawal is expected to be complete in 3 or 4 days.

The floe is now only 1½ miles wide and 2 miles long.

See Prospects Of Spending Upsurge In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may have surrendered his most powerful weapon against congressional spending by predicting a four-billion-dollar budget surplus.

There are signs that the Democratic-controlled Congress may push through Eisenhower's new $79,800,000,000 spending ceiling in an election year when four possible major contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination are in the Senate.

The feeling among some of the Democrats is that by forecasting a substantial surplus, Eisenhower has given them room to lift defense, school construction, housing, depressed area, and other outlays above the President's recommendations without being accused of budget-busting.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Saturday he is alarmed at the prospect of an election year surge in spending. He expressed his views to Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) on a television program taped for New York stations.

"I see some pressures working at the present time in the depressed area field, the housing field and elsewhere, and it would appear to me that efforts are going to be made to spend some real money out of the Treasury over and above the budget if it can be contrived and if they can get votes enough in order to approve it," Dirksen said.

However, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant majority leader, said that because many Democrats don't think there will be anything like the surplus Eisenhower has estimated, they will use discrimination in increasing spending.

BOY, 4, FOLLOWS DOG ONTO ICE, LOSES HIS LIFE

FARMER CITY, Ill. (AP)—Four-year-old Maxwell Luck followed his dog onto the thin ice of Salt Creek Saturday.

A passerby on the far side of the creek called out "go back, go back."

The boy ventured out further, behind his dog. The ice broke.

Maxwell was unconscious when recovered, and could not be revived.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Luck of this DeWitt County town.

The creek is about four blocks from the Luck home.

REVISION NEEDED

Finch's Defense Hinges On Cut At Base Of Wife's Thumb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the bright moonlight of a warm July night a white dress caught the eye of a police officer.

He hurried down an embankment and turned his flashlight on the dead, battered body of Barbara Jean Finch.

She lay on a neighbor's lawn, face up, eyes staring, her dress stained with great blotches of blood.

A bullet had passed through her body, her skull had been fractured and there were 15 cuts, bruises and skinned places on her face, arms, legs and hands.

One was an abrasion at the base of her right thumb.

And on this tiny nick hangs a crucial part of the case the defense attorney hopes will save the life of Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

He and his sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, 23, are charged with murder and conspiracy. The doctor's estranged wife, who was 36, died last July 18.

The state says the pair had plotted the murder, lay in wait for Mrs. Finch at her home, and that the doctor shot her as she fled.

Finch hasn't testified yet in his own defense. But a first hint of defense plans came Friday as the trial's first week ended, when his attorney demonstrated with a bailiff's pistol and posed this question: Could the pistol which killed her have been snatched from Mrs. Finch's hand, causing the abrasion on her thumb?

An autopsy surgeon acknowledged under cross-examination that the wound could have come from such an action.

He said that other scrapes and bruises—and even a skull fracture—could have come in a struggle in the garage over the pistol.

But Grant Cooper, the doctor's attorney, didn't offer any explanation of how Mrs. Finch was shot. Dr. Gerald K. Ridge, the autopsy surgeon, had testified that she was shot in the back.

"We have a lot more questions for Dr. Ridge," Cooper said as court adjourned Friday for a weekend recess.

In its first week, the state launched its case against the 43-year-old physician. Miss Tregoff's name wasn't mentioned after the prosecution's opening statement.

In it, Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whichello charged that Finch and Miss Tregoff, his onetime receptionist, hated Mrs. Finch and wanted her "out of the way"—so they wouldn't have to share the $750,000 in community property Mrs. Finch had described in a divorce suit against Finch.

Six Children Die As Fire Razes Home

THOMPSON FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Six of the 11 children of a northwestern Montana rancher - logger died early Saturday as flames reduced their two-story rural home to ashes. The mother and two infant twin sons were injured.

Volunteer firemen raced the 2½ miles to the snowy scene from Thompson Falls, the Sanders County seat, but found little they could do.

The mercury stood at 16 degrees above zero, and there was about eight inches of snow on the ground.

The dead, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Lionell Scott, were Edna, 2; Mary 4; Mildred 6; Barbara 8; Carl 10, and Aaron, who would have been 13 Tuesday.

In a hospital at Hot Springs, nearly 50 miles east of the tragic fire, are the mother, Edith, and her 4-month-old twins, Leslie and Jesse.

The father, who escaped injury, was the first to awaken and discover the out-of-control blaze. He told Sheriff Wally Britton a wall of fire forced him back as he tried to run up the steep, narrow stairway to the upper floor where the six victims were sleeping. The parents and twins slept on the ground floor.

Put Stevens Baby Into Home, Set Custody Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Authorities put the baby of William James Stevens and his estranged wife into an infant's home here Saturday while a judge set a custody hearing for Monday.

Judge John C. Boutall of the 24th Judicial District Court in Jefferson Parish—county—signed a habeas corpus writ returnable Monday. At that time, Boutall said he will hear the evidence to decide which parent is entitled to have the 5-month-old girl.

Stevens, 31, operator of a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., tavern, and the baby were found in a Jefferson Parish motel Friday night.

Tips from Jefferson Parish residents led to the end of the wide spread search that had begun in Kansas City Thursday when Stevens took the baby from his wife's apartment.

Diana Stratton Plans Wedding In September

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Miss Diana Stratton, 20, daughter of Gov. William G. Stratton, is planning a September wedding to Norman Weiskopf of Springfield.

This was reported here Saturday by close associates of Miss Stratton, a home economics junior at DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., and of Weiskopf, now an army trainee at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Both are graduates of Springfield High School.

At Sun Valley, Idaho, where he is vacationing, Gov. Stratton said he could not confirm the plans.

However, persons close to both families said an announcement was planned in Springfield at the conclusion of the school term this summer.

CARDINAL AT VATICAN ILL

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Domenico Cardinal Tardini, Vatican secretary of state, was confined to his apartment Saturday by influenza. Vatican sources said the attack was not considered serious. The 71-year-old Roman Catholic prelate had been bothered by a light cold for several days.

Preceding the service, the congregation will enjoy an oyster supper at 6 o'clock. The ladies are asked to please bring pies.

Brief News Notes

Mrs. Irene Wilson, Mrs. Nellie Ebrey, Mrs. Vida Bland and Miss Rhoda Scott all called on Mrs. Lulu Wright and Mrs. O. W. Gould the past week.

The WSCS of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Ralph Dahman instead of Mrs. Howard Scott for a potluck dinner at 12:30 on Wednesday, Jan. 13th. Mrs. Lloyd Dahman will have charge of the devotions and program.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Roberts received a telephone call on New Year's day from their son, Don and family of Flint, Mich., and one from her sister, Mrs. Silas Miller, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Junior Fair King, Queen Entertain White Hall Lions

WHITE HALL—The Lions Club held its regular meeting on Jan. 6 at the Christian church with a supper served at 6:30 o'clock by members of the Christian Woman's Fellowship.

President W. J. Ritchey presided, and Kenneth Love presented Linda Pinkerton and Richard Schildman of Springfield, King and Queen of the Junior Illinois State Fair, who gave a splendid program.

"Linda and Rickey" have appeared at many affairs throughout the state and are talented youngsters of ten years of age. Linda did ballet, tap, soft shoe and acrobatic dances, Ricky accompanying her on his huge accordion, almost as large as himself, also rendering several numbers while Linda was changing costumes.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pinkerton, her mother being the former Mary Forrester, both former residents of this city, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Forrester, also former residents, "Les" being a charter member of the White Hall Lions Club. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton and Ricky's father, Richard H. Schildman, accompanied the youngsters here for the program.

Membership certificates were given by Mr. Ritchey to Richard F. Brooks, David McClintock and Max McIntyre, Eldon Love collected the door prize for the evening.

New Wonder Drug Cosmetic Restores Young Look to Skin

Medical Tests Show Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine Face Cream Reverses Two Aging Processes of Skin and Restores Young Skin Tone

Now it is possible for you to restore the activity of specific skin cells that are aging. Yes, actually to reduce wrinkles due to dryness, to restore young skin tone, to awaken the 'youth supply' cells put to sleep by time! This is beauty news that comes along once in a lifetime!

The discovery that has made it possible is Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine Face Cream with estrogen and progesterone, both vital female hormones. This cream—actually a wonder drug cosmetic—has been medically tested by doctors and research scientists, by hospitals, clinics and universities. The results are thrilling!

Skin acts young

After Ultra Feminine treatment, oil glands begin to produce at a younger rate again! a firm, full pillow of moisture-plumped cells!

Works like a prescription

And the whole process, miraculous to behold, is completely natural because estrogen and progesterone are the female hormones which power these cells in youth. Ultra Feminine is actually a wonder drug preparation which works within the skin to replenish these physiological substances which wane with time. It works like a doctor's prescription yet has been proven so safe that you need no prescription to buy it!

Take advantage of this special offer. Start using Ultra Feminine now. In 30 days, you will see the difference.

Helena Rubinstein, creator of Ultra Feminine, the first medically tested face cream that reverses two of the aging processes of the skin.

Jewel-like pure crystals of Estrogen and Progesterone—the two vital female hormones in Ultra Feminine Face Cream.

With a plentiful supply of natural oil the skin becomes soft, supple, protected.

Skin tissue cells are able to hold maximum moisture again—that all-important process that makes the skin look young. Aging lines smooth out because the skin surface now rests o...

BPW Picks Dr. Newman As 'Member of Month'

The Business and Professional Women's club met Thursday evening, Jan. 7, at 6:15 in the banquet room of the Dunlap Hotel.

Esther Barker presented Dr. Mary Louise Newman as Member of the Month, presenting her a certificate of appreciation and speaking of the outstanding service she has given our community in the field of medicine.

The meeting was sponsored by the Health and Safety committee of which Elizabeth Hardy is chairman and Mayme Cole co-chairman. Other members of the committee are Lena Kerns, Mary Chism, Hazel Graves and Clara Magill.

Music was furnished by Ralph Jones, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Ray. Mr. Jones sang "One Alone" from "Desert Song," Shubert's "Serenade" and "When Song is Sweet," Sans Souci.

Mental Illness Topic

Mrs. Cole presented as speaker of the evening Dr. Joseph Marcovitch, superintendent of the Jacksonville State Hospital, who used as his subect, "Treatment of Mental Illness."

In his introductory remarks Dr. Marcovitch stated that the number of persons in hospitals suffering from mental illness approximates that of those in hospitals from all other diseases combined.

Dr. Marcovitch pointed out that a patient released from a mental hospital needs the help of family, church, community, in fact of all who come in contact with him, in making his adjustment.

A question period followed the talk.

The dinner committee was Mrs. Louise Coop and Jean Ann Power; the cashier, Martha Mason.

Special guests of the club were Jean Paisley, Janet Lindsay and Elizabeth Meyer of Routt; Fonda Siegrist, Nancy Ricks, Jean Sorrells and Janice Massey of Jacksonville high school.

Mrs. Lillian Phillips and Miss Camilla Sharpe became members of the club.

TEACHERS RETURN FROM VACATION IN NEW ORLEANS AREA

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sittler, 1054 East State street, have returned from a holiday vacation to New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico. They visited six states and the cities of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Gulfport and Biloxi, Mississippi. They crossed the world's longest bridge on Lake Ponchartrain, Louisiana.

Horses are rare on Formosa. A pair of them attracts throngs to the Taipei zoo.

New Placement Bureau Busy At MacMurray

Anyone like to be an elementary school teacher, or an industrial salesman? According to Charles Leeds, Director of Placement at MacMurray, these are the occupations most in demand. He already has 30 MacMurray students as members of the new Placement Bureau at the college.

CHARLES LEEDS

In previous years placed under Mrs. Mildred Davidson, Alumnae Secretary, the office was made a separate operation this year as result of the rapid growth of the men's college. The office is organized both to assist students in permanent as well as in summer employment, and has already been in contact with various Jacksonville organizations concerning this.

Leeds, who majored in counseling at Michigan State, also is Assistant to the Dean of Men, Dr. Richard Nesmith. He is resident counselor at Norris House, and this Fall started the first organized program for student social life. It includes dinner dances and mixers in order to stumulate social life for all students.

Karl Mack Will Retire After 37 Years At College

A faithful employee of MacMurray College for 37 years, Karl Mack will hold his broom for the last time next week. Now 71, he plans to retire Jan. 15.

Oldest member of the janitorial staff in point of service, Mack has survived three administrations at MacMurray—Dr. J. R. Harker, Dr. Clarence P. McClelland, and Dr. Louis W. Norris.

KARL MACK

He began his duties as janitor in college-owned houses and in the Health Center. Later he became maintenance man in Music Hall, where he stayed for 21 years. After reaching social security age, he was moved into Harker Hall during the time it was occupied by the nurses where he could work on a part-time basis.

"Everybody has treated me just fine" was his comment in summing up his years at the college. He lives at 423 S. Sandy, and was born in Jacksonville Feb. 24, 1888. His wife died in 1938.

New Berlin Hears Proposed Water System Explained

NEW BERLIN — The public meeting, Wednesday evening in the fairgrounds building, called by the Village Board, was well attended. The meeting was held to fully acquaint the residents with all phases of the Proposed Water System.

Kenneth Stapleton, engineer with the Casler-Stapleton Engineering firm, and attorneys Orville Foreman and William Sheehan were present to assist the board in explaining the Proposed System and to answer questions brought forward.

The proposal calls for construction of a reservoir, to be built on the Scott Tranbarger farm southeast of New Berlin, a transmission line there from, a purification plant and distribution system with the necessary pumps, etc., to bring water to the village.

Residents of the village will vote Tuesday, January 12, during regular voting hours, in the New Berlin townhall, at a special election upon the issuance of $93,000 General Oblication Water Bonds for the village.

Elmer Roesch is Village President, and the Village Board of Trustees are Earl Chandler, John A. McCullough, James Marr Jr., Alvin Lovekamp, G. H. Wichterman, M. D., and Richard Danenberger.

Plan Pancake Supper

The Men's Community Club met on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the fairgrounds building with Carl King, president, presiding at the business meeting. Plans were laid for the annual Pancake and Sausage Supper which will be held on Saturday, February 6, in the fairgrounds building. Ralph Frank was appointed chairman of the committee in charge, and will be assisted by Walter Brown and Norvell Bergschneider.

Discussion was also given to the annual Athletic Awards banquet which will probably be held in March. Walter Riess was named chairman for this event.

Speaker of the evening was Donald Calvin, Security Commissioner from the Division of Securities, State of Illinois. He gave an interesting program telling of his work of analyzing stocks and bonds to help protect the public from being swindled. He also explained how they go about investigating individuals and firms to make sure that they are reliable.

Refreshments of ham sandwiches and coffee were served by the committee in charge.

TOBACCO BUILDS CHURCHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tobacco is helping build churches in the Bible Belt.

Tobacco News, publication of the Tobacco Institute, says members of Manson Methodist church near McKinney, Va., planted, tended and harvested leaf grown on donated plots, earning enough money to start a new church building.

Members of the Union Baptist church at Cycle, N.C., are using the same method to finance a new church building, the magazine said.

20,000 LAUGHS UNDER THE SEA

Tuesday Club Hears About Russell's Art

Mrs. R. E. Miller was hostess on January 5th to Tuesday Club at her home, 25 Sunset Hill.

Mrs. Ralph Woods, president, opened the meeting and conducted the business session. Presented by Mrs. Willard Cody, Mrs. Charles Wright reviewed Harold McCracken's biography of Charles M. Russell.

The subject, born in St. Louis in 1864, left home at the age of sixteen to become a cowboy. He lived for 46 years in Montana and identified himself with the wildest country.

Russell had a natural talent in art, although he had no formal training or much early encouragement he developed through self-instruction. His drawings and paintings were of cowboys and the rough, dramatice frontier life.

It was some years before he was able to make a living at his art but he lived to see some of his works bring fabulous prices.

The largest showing ever assembled, or original art of Charles M. Russell, was recently held at Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. The massive group of more than 200 pieces of Russell art included oils, watercolors, pen and ink drawings and bronze sculpture.

His death occured in 1926. Harold McCracken says of Russell, "He not only left us great living pictures of what our West was, but he left us an example of how to live in friendship with all mankind."

Mrs. Wright displayed several interesting examples of Charles Russell's works.

Lovely refreshments were served from an attractive tea table where red and white colors were employed. Mrs. Miller was assisted in serving by Mrs. Woods and Mrs. J. Allen Biggs.

New Berlin Couple To Have Anniversary Tea

NEW BERLIN — In observance of their Silver Wedding Anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Peters will hold open house at their home in New Berlin on Sunday, January 17. No invitations are being sent, but all relatives and friends are invited to call from 2 to 5 p.m. in the afternoon.

Theodore C. Peters and Miss Josephine Ludwig were married on January 17, 1935, at St. Mary of Help Church, Green Creek, Ill., near Effingham.

They are the parents of four children: a daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Rosemary) Frank, New Berlin; and three sons, Charles, Thomas and James, all at home.

The couple have lived their entire married life in the New Berlin vicinity and are members of St. Mary's Church. Mr. Peters is a plumber and also a night guard at the Illinois State House in Springfield.

Brief News Notes

The third in the series of immunization shots given in the Community Unit 16 school district, will be given Thursday, January 14, beginning at 9 a.m. Those planning to get shots should come promptly at 9 a.m. as there are few to be given.

The community meeting planned by the Board of Education and Administration of Unit 16 to be held in New Berlin on Wednesday evening, January 13, will be held in the community room of the high school instead of the grade school as previously announced.

The meeting is to acquaint the public with the possibilities in various proposals to make each grade school room, a one-grade per teacher arrangement. The public is urged to attend.

The New Berlin Agriculture department is offering adult classes in farm woodworking and farm management. Anyone interested is asked to meet at the high school on Monday evening, January 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Arenzville Club To Hear Program By Young People

ARENZVILLE — Pictures of Federation Projects will be shown at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Tuesday evening, January 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Home Ec room.

The program will feature recitations and music by the children of the members, and for roll call, they will "Bring Interesting Article or Souvenir from Home and tell about it."

Hostesses are Mrs. Jack Burrus, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Pat McLain, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Clara Wood, and Mrs. Willard Huss.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

The December meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Monday night, with Mrs. Joanne Peck presiding. After the usual opening ceremonies, notes of thanks were read from Mrs. Marilyn Stock and Edgar Ham. Mrs. Mildred Kolberer reported on the Christmas Gift Shop held at the Jacksonville State Hospital on Dec. 10, which was attended by five members from the local Unit.

The Auxiliary will serve the noon meal for the 20th District convention to be held in Arenzville on Jan. 10. Menu plans were discussed, and the ladies will meet at the hall on Saturday evening at 7:30 to prepare for this event.

A donation of $5 was voted to the March of Dimes. A birthday party for the Legion will be given by the Auxiliary on March 21, and a committee including Mrs. Esther Morrison, Mrs. Marian Manker, and Mrs. Laverna Dufelmeier were appointed to plan the party.

Mrs. Olga Dober reported on Legislation. It was reported Mrs. Rosetta Fricke, child welfare chairman, had purchased a sweater as a Christmas gift for Ray Chisholm, the boy sponsored by the local Unit at Normal. The meeting closed with the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Katie Lutkehus, Mrs. Marcella Lippert, and Mrs. Marian Manker.

NEW STEW DUE

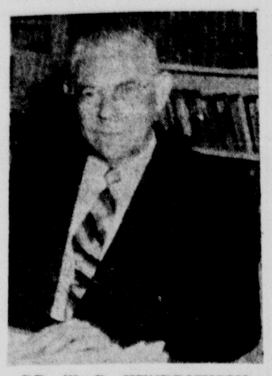

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Good Soup," expected to be brewed on Broadway March 10, will be something of a stew with all its stars.

Already on the roster are Ruth Gordon, Ernest Truex and Zero Mostel. Just joined are Sam Levene and Diana Cilento.

Writes History Of Science In Midwest Area

The first detailed history of midwest science academies ever to be written has been made possible by the National Science Foundation for Dr. Walter B. Hendrickson, Professor of History at MacMurray College.

He received a two-year, $2500 grant from the foundation to conduct basic research in this area, it has been announced. A specialist in American social and intellectual history with emphasis on history or science, Dr. Hendrickson will start his study after he begins a one-semester sabbatical Feb. 1.

DR. W. B. HENDRICKSON

In actuality, Dr. Hendrickson already has much of the preliminary research completed. He undertook the study in 1958 as part of a travel grant from the American Historical Research Center, although much of the study was at his expense.

"I wish to write a history of the academies of science founded in the middle-western cities in the period before 1861 from their founding to the present time," the professor commented Friday. "Academies of science were major agencies for the support and encouragement of scientific research, for science education, and for the pupularization of science."

"No detailed history of science academies in America has been written," he states. "The only detailed history of an American society is that of the American Philosophical Society, now being written."

A member of the MacMurray faculty for 10 years, Dr. Hendrickson earned his doctorate at Harvard in 1941. He is author of a book, "David Dale Owen, Pioneer Geologist of the Middle West," and some 20 periodical articles. In addition, he has authored five articles as a result of his science study.

ROY NEWBERYS ENJOY HOLIDAY TRIP IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Newbery of Jacksonville route 3 have returned home after spending the Christmas and New Years Holidays in California. They left here on December 13, and returned January 7.

They visited their son, John, and family in Belmont; their daughter, Mrs. William Hunt, and family in Sonora; their sister-in-law, Mrs. Stella Newbery, in San Francisco; a niece, Mrs. Robert Jacobs, and family in Ceres; an uncle, O. S Newbery, and family in Paradice and spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fairbank Smith at the French Club in San Francisco; also an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Julian Frisbie in Los Altos.

They had a very enjoyable trip despite the fact that they were forced to lay over a day in Tucumcari, New Mexico on account of snow. Coming back they used a more southern route through Phoenix, Arizona; Las Cruces and Roswell, New Mexico; Texarkana and Little Rock, Arkansas; thus bypassing the recent snow which was so heavy in Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle.

Sue Hendrickson Becomes Bride At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE—Saturday evening Dec. 26 in the Emmanuel Baptist church, Sue Hendrickson became the bride of Carl Bradford. Rev. Albert Hinners, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar flanked with palms, yellow and white mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Albert Hinners presided at the piano.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hendrickson of Roodhouse. The groom is the son of Mrs. Alma Bradford of Hillview.

Ann Ford of Roodhouse was bridesmaid, and Tom Page of Peoria served as best man.

James Hendrickson of Roodhouse, brother of the bride, was an usher.

The bride's gown was waltz length white Chantilly lace over taffeta, and featured an empire bodice with three quarter length sleeves.

She carried a white Bible topped with a lavender orchid. Her chapel length veil and gloves completed the attire.

Her bridesmaid wore a beige brocade sheath dress. Her corsage was of blue carnations.

The mother of the bride chose a dusty violet jersey dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The groom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Reception At Church

A reception followed the ceremony and was held in the church fellowship room with Mrs. Hal Benner and Miss Karen Blake presiding at the table. The three-tier wedding cake was embossed with bells and poinsettia and was baked by Mrs. Rowe Lee.

After a short wedding trip the couple are residing in Roodhouse. Both are graduates of Roodhouse Community High School, the bride in 1959, and the groom in 1957.

The groom is employed at Rose Auto Parts, White Hall, the bride in Coats' 5 and 10-Cent Store, Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughn, Winchester; and Harold Day, Davenport, Ia., were Sunday visitors in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Albert Dean, east of Roodhouse.

Girls' 4-H Club Entertained At Anderson Home

The Chapin Top Notchers Girls' 4-H Club were entertained recently with a holiday party at the home of Carol Anderson with Carolyn Criss and Gloria Fisher also serving as hostesses.

Janet Schumacher, president, presided over the business meeting. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance led by Gloria Fisher. Shirley Fricke gave the story of the Carol, "Silent Night," which was followed by group singing led by Shirley Fricke, with piano accompaniment by Marilyn Schumacher. Roll call was answered by New Year's resolutions. During the business meeting, the Christmas Caroling Committee reported that the club members caroled at thirteen homes of shut-ins in Chapin on December 21 and gave a small Christmas cheer favor to each home. Preceding the caroling, the group met and made the favors and enjoyed a small party which included a talk by Carol Anderson on "Why Not Go Caroling?" and a short story by Gloria Fisher entitled "The First Christmas Tree," followed by games and refreshments served by Karen Smith, Linda Weeks, Phyllis Wilder and Lavona Schone.

After the business meeting, the following program was presented: reading: "Peace on Earth" by Carolyn Criss, "Christmas" by Marilyn Fricke, "Christmas Love" by Marilyn Schroeder and "Christmas Card" by Diane Johnson. Members and guests enjoyed a gift exchange. The club members presented a gift to the leaders, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Werries. The 4-H pledge was led by Carolyn Criss.

The three hostesses were in charge of several appropriate holiday games during the social hour, and later served refreshments of punch and cookies from table appointed in keeping with the holiday season.

Guests were Mrs. James Anderson, Becky Burrus and Jackie Shepard.

Mary Elizabeth Coop And Ned Jackson United

Mrs. Ned Thomas Jackson

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Mary Elizabeth Coop and Ned Thomas Jackson during a double ring service performed at 8:30 o'clock the morning of Monday, December 28, at the Church of Our Saviour's.

Rev. Robert P. Morris officiated before an altar decorated with poinsettias. Mrs. Alta Elsch presided at the organ and soloists were Miss Celeste Flynn and Mrs. Paul Langdon.

Mary Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Coop, 1820 South Main street, Jacksonville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson, Murrayville route two.

Mrs. Albert Taylor attended the bride and Jack Barwick served as best man. Seating guests were Harry Coop and Airman Second Class John C. Coop, brothers of the bride.

Gowned in Chantilly

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace with nylon tulle. Lace formed the snug bodice and upper skirt. The flattering portrait neckline was scallop finish and the snug sleeves tapered to points over the hand. The very bouffant skirt was worn over graduated hoops and taffeta. Topping the generous full tulle skirt that extended into a Chapel train was a lace overskirt, with scalloped hemline forming V at front and marked with a satin cabbage rose.

She carried a satin ribbon showered white orchid with her prayer book. The bride's veil of French illusion, elbow length, was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins. Her jewel accessories were a strand of pearls.

Mrs. Taylor wore conventional length red velvet and carried a crescent arrangement of peppermint carnations.

Mrs. Coop chose for Mary Elizabeth's wedding sapphire blue lace and Mrs. Jackson wore poudre blue lace. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of white carnations.

Reception at Hotel Dunlap

A reception was held following the church ceremony in the Illinois Room at Hotel Dunlap. Appointments followed holiday decor with the handsome white frosted bride's cake, in three large tiers topped with a miniature bride and groom. Candles and greenery decorated the serving table where guests were served cake, fruit punch or coffee, nutmeats and mints.

Assisting with the serving were Miss Sue Secrist, Miss Lana Secrist, Miss Anna Louise Hermes, Mrs. Marlin Jarvis, Mrs. Richard Hart and Mrs. James Eck.

When the couple left for a brief wedding trip the bride wore a parchment wool winter costume with jacket, black accessories and the orchid she carried at her wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Jacksonville. She is a graduate of Routt High School and employed at the Norris Clinic and he graduated from Jacksonville High School and is employed at Kordite.

Mrs. Reginald Dunham

Linda Watson Bride Of Reginald Dunham

PITTSFIELD — The Methodist church here was the scene Monday evening, December twenty-eight, for the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Linda Watson and Reginald Dunham.

The seven o'clock service was performed by the Reverend Ernest Duling before an altar of Christmas greenry, large baskets of white flowers and many tall white tapers at the altar and placed about the church.

Lighting the candles before the ceremony were Michael and Mitchell Barner, the nine year old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Barner of St. Louis, Mo., cousins of the bride. Family pews were marked with clusters of white carnations and tapers. The rings were carried by another set of twins, the Tom Troutner Jr.'s four year old Timothy and Jeffry.

Miss Elizabeth McHose presided at the organ offering nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Brant who sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Watson and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Dunham, Jr., all of Pittsfield.

The bride's sister, Linda, was her maid of honor and her bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Kendall of Lakewood, Colorado; Miss Carole Bering of Carlsbad, New Mexico, sorority sisters and her cousin, Miss Rebecca Watson.

The attendants were gowned alike in dresses of American beauty velveteen with slipper satin tunic skirts. The bodices fit snug and had scoop cut necklines and cap sleeves. Color accent was affected with white fur demi hats and muffs to which were attached holly clusters with white streamers.

The bridegroom selected Dennis Heavner as best man. Ushers were Thomas Theirbak, Racine, Wisconsin; Daniel Shinn, North English, Iowa, a cousin of the bride and Richard McLaughlin, Macomb, cousin of the bridegroom.

In Lace And Tulle Gown

The bride, given in marriage during the double ring ceremony by her father, wore imported French Chantilly lace and nylon tulle.

The long sleeved basque bodice featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline daintily embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Alternating lace and net formed a lavish bouffant skirt with a cascade of ruffles extending into a Chapel length train.

A triple tiered fingertip length veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching queen's crown of sequins and pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses, carnations and valley lily with stephanotis. Her only jewel accessory was a diamond pendent, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore royal blue brocaded satin with matching color slippers. Her has was white and her flowers white carnations. The groom's mother wore navy silk crepe with matching color shoes. Her hat was of white fur and her flowers white carnations.

Reception At Country Club

A reception followed the church ceremony held at Old Orchard Country Club. Wedding cake was served by Mrs. Richard Frazier, Miss Norma Jones, Mrs. Gene Seybold and Mrs. William Dunham; punch by Mrs. Diane Phillips, Mrs. David Williams, Miss Sandra Barnet and Miss Bette Jones and Mrs. William Grote presided at the coffee urn.

Others assisting in the dining room were Miss Beverly Dunham, Miss Jill McLaughlin, Mrs. Don Curless and Mrs. L. H. Peile. The bride's cousins, Nancy and Rosalynn Shinn, were in charge of gifts and Mrs. Roger Frazier registered guests.

For her going away costume the bride wore a brown wool costume. Mr. and Mrs. Dunham will make their home in Colorado Springs, Colorado where both are students at Colorado College. The bride and bridegroom graduated from Pittsfield High School and will receive their degrees this June from Colorado College where she is majoring in English education, being affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority, and he is majoring in economics.

Preliminary Parties

The bride's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner Sunday evening before the wedding on Monday. Thirty-three guests were entertained at the Community Center decorated in Christmas motif.

Miniature white fur muffs, with holly sprigs, and tiny white fur headpieces, were place favors as a preview of costume accessories worn by the bride's attendants.

Mrs. Kenneth Watson was hostess Monday noon, the day of the wedding, at luncheon for the members of the bride's party. Appointments were in pink with each guest receiving a pink carnation corsage at her luncheon setting.

Mrs. Benscoter Has Murrayville Club

MURRAYVILLE — Mrs. M. J. Benscoter was hostess Wednesday afternoon, January sixth, to the Murrayville Woman's Club, at her home here. The president, Mrs Walter Hanback, was in charge and the meeting opened with the pledge to the flag led by the hostess and the singing of Battle Hymn of the Republic, song of the month.

Mrs. William Wade, Sr., gave the secretary's report and roll was answered with a health and safety hint by 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Herbert Clayton of Nortonville.

The treasurer, Mrs. T. G. Beadles gave her report. Mrs. James Symons, program chairman, presented the guest, Mrs. Clayton, who spoke on Mental Health. Mrs Clayton told of a recent visit to Jacksonville State Hospital and of the need there for recent issues of magazines and other reading material.

Mrs. M. J. Benscoter read a paper on Public Health and Safety that had been prepared by Mrs. Edward Tendick, now on a vacation in California.

The Club Carrousel was prepared by Mrs. S. B. Robinson and was a Variety Sketch. Two weeks ago 12 members of the club received cards with poetic instruction as to advance preparation for this portion of the club program.

Each of the designated 12 was called on by Mrs. Robinson reading the poem on the respective cards and the resulting presentations included a variety of poems, jokes, sayings of children, 'my most embarrassing moment, musical selections, art reflections, etc. To conclude this novel entertainment Mrs. Robinson, also in rhyme recited character sketch lines aimed at each of the 12 participants, in a flattering manner.

During the social hour a dessert course, including frosted coconut cake with two-flavored ice cream, coffee, nutmeats and candies, delighted guests.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 20 with a twelve-thirty luncheon at the home of Mrs. William Wade, Sr. in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Slaughter Gives Program Before Circle

The South Side Circle met in regular session Jan. 8 at the home of Mrs. Earl Underbrink, 124 Pine street. Mrs. Ethel Strawn resumed her duties as president, having missed a number of meetings following injuries suffered in an accident. She extended New Year's greetings to the Circle.

A resolution of sympathy regarding the death of Mrs. George Baxter, held over from the Deber meeting, was read and put on record.

The president appointed a program committee, Mrs. E. A. Schoedsack, Mrs. Lena Kerns and Mrs. J. W. Hall.

The program chairman, Mrs. Underbrink, presented Mrs. E. C. Slaughter, who spoke on "Alaska, Our 50th State." Her talk included pertinent geographical and historical data. A display illustrated much in the interest of the new state.

Roll call was answered by 15 after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Underbrink and Miss Hunter.

Braille Pupils To Give Program At Ashland

ASHLAND—The Ashland PTA will hold their regular meeting at the high school auditorium on Monday, Jan. 11th, at 7:30 p.m. A report on the final outcome of the Fun Frolic will be given. A program of music will be presented by the students from the Illinois Braille and Sightsaving school of Jacksonville.

In addition, open house will be conducted in the following rooms: Miss Doolin's fourth and fifth grades; Mr. Nicholson's fifth and sixth grades and Mr. McGraw's sixth grade.

Following the program, the social committee, composed of Mrs. Neal Coyle, Mrs. Herschel Reiser and Mrs. Lloyd Thornley, will serve refreshments. They will be assisted by the room parents of the kindergarten; Mrs. Adam's second grade; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Newell, Dr. and Mrs. David Chatara, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoagland.

Plans are being formulated for the minstrel show, which will be presented March 14. This show is under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Beadles and promises to be a fine presentation. The fact that it will feature local talent, and all men, should add to the fun.

Any man who wishes to be in the cast should contact any member of the casting committee. Composed of Mrs. Joan DeGroot, chairman; Mrs. Janis Williams, Mrs. Mary K. Gardner, Mrs. Nellie Sue Riemersma and Bob Newell.

To Hold School Of Missions

The Ashland Baptist church will hold a School of Missions beginning Sunday, Jan. 10 for six Sundays from 6 to 8 p.m. The activities will include a light supper, devotions, study period, and a special feature each evening. The theme will be "Africa."

Teachers will be: adults, Mrs. Edgar Satorius; high school, Mrs. Wayne Brackett; junior high, Mrs. Carroll Satorius; juniors, Mrs. Elsie White; primary, Mrs. Ada Bloomfield and Mrs. Dixie Mayes; pre-school, Mrs. Joan DeGroot.

A committee will be in charge of the supper for each evening. Please bring your own table service. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Name Acting Postmaster

Fred Christen has received his appointment as Acting Postmaster from C. L. Karr, Field Service officer of the Postoffice department.

Christen has been filling the post vacated by Gordon Smedley, who is now rural carrier.

Brief News Notes

The Carter Gospel Team will be at the First Baptist church on Sunday, Jan. 10. They will bring the message and the special music at the 10:30 a.m. worship service, and will present a Sacred music concert at the first session of the School of Missions, which begins at 6 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to these meetings.

Mrs. Clarence Glick entertained the NSC club at her home, Thursday, with ap otluck dinner being enjoyed at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Douglass and the latter's father, A. B. Carls, arrived home Wednesday night from a two weeks visit in Fort Worth, Texas, at the home of the former's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Canull and family. They also visited in Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, with Mr. Carls' cousin, Lee Blohm.

The Ladies Aid of the Church of Christ met Thursday afternoon in the church basement, with 15 members being present. Mrs. Dorothy Evans read the scripture, and Mrs. Catherine Cosner had the devotions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lula Cosner and Mrs. Margaret Creed.

Mrs. Grace Thompson returned to her home here, Thursday night, after a two weeks visit in Los Angeles, Calif., at the home of Mrs. Ora Hinds, a former Ashland resident.

Annual Meeting Held By Country Club Auxiliary

PITTSFIELD—The Old Orchard Country Club Auxiliary held its annual meeting on Friday morning at 9:30 with a "Coffee" at the club. The president, Mrs. Vincent Zimmerman, presided.

There was a report from the nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Dick Niebur, for new officers: president, Mrs. Edmonds Venable; vice president, Mrs. Jimmy Clark; secretary, Mrs. Eldon Fesler; and treasurer, Mrs. Jean Casteel. It was voted for the Auxiliary to buy at least one good piece of furniture for the club each year.

TV NEWS

by DON SHUMAKER

Along the Mississippi River dueling flourished longer than anywhere else in the world, according to Darren McGavin of NBC's "Riverboat" series. McGavin has become an avid student of Mississippi lore since assuming the role of Capt. Grey Holden of the Enterprise. "The 'sport' was so popular in Vicksburg," McGavin declares, "that a young undertaker got started in business there just on the customers he received from a nearby dueling island." Down in what was then new, not "old", New Orleans, pistols popped and bullets flew so often and so fast at Dueling Oaks that the proprietor of a nearby market felt forced to put up a warning sign for his customers: "SHOOTING GALERY NERBY". Laws were passed to stop the practice, but judges simply fined dueling participants 10 cents each if they were hauled into court.

According to McGavin, back in the heyday of the dueling era it was easier to be challenged to a battle on the "field of honor" than to buy a penny newspaper on the newsstand. There was a Memphis editor who, after wounding a rival editor in a duel, ran his opponent's newspaper until he recovered.

Customs change, fortunately, and so do the inner workings of a TV set—as new electronic developments occur. Satisfactory TV service requires up-to-date technical knowledge on the part of television service men. New Year's Eve Rites For Greene Co. Couple

WHITE HALL — A New Year's Eve ceremony at eight o'clock at the parsonage of White Hall's Christian church united in marriage Miss Barbara Jean Baird and Jerry Snow, now serving with the Navy.

The double ring service was read by the pastor, Rev. Ruth Nicklin. Members of the couple's immediate families were present.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baird and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Snow, all of White Hall.

Mrs. Donald Barnes, sister of the bridegroom, and Nelson Montague of Alton, attended the couple.

The bride wore a sheath cut two piece dress in a soft blue. Her dress accessories were white and her flowers white carnations. Mrs. Barnes wore brown wool with blending color accessories and her flowers were yellow carnations.

The newlyweds returned to White Hall following a short wedding trip. The bride received her education in local schools and the bridegroom was educated in Wood River, Illinois schools.

The bridegroom has completed boot training at U.S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Illinois and reported the first of the year to Charleston, South Carolina Navy Base where his bride will join later.

Marjorie Dawdy Of Patterson Bride In West

PATTERSON — Miss Marjorie Ellen Dawdy and First Lieutenent Martin Francis O'Donoghue were united in marriage Monday morning, December 28, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Father Kennedy before an altar decorated with red poinsettas and evergreens.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dawdy of Patterson and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. O'Donoghue Sr. of Washington, D. C.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin and a fingertip veil illusion. Her bouquet was of white roses. She was escorted to the altar by her only brother, Bernard Dawdy, of Patterson.

Miss Norine Beline was maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua net over taffeta and carried white roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Kevin O'Donoghue of Washington, D.C. The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with matching color accessories. The groom's mother wore a beige brocade with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Reception Follows

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Garden of the Gods Club, where a beautiful three tiered wedding cake, punch and nuts were served.

Following the reception a dinner was served to the wedding party members of the immediate families. The table was beautifully decorated with white mums.

The couple left for a short trip to Denver, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of the Roodhouse Community High School, St. Joseph School of Nursing at Alton, and of St. John's School of Anesthesia, in Springfield, Ill. She served two years in the Army Nurses' Corps, during which time she was stationed at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital, in Denver, Colo. She received her discharge in May, 1959 and has since been employed at the St. Francis Hospital, in Colorado, Springs.

First Lt. O'Donoghue was graduated from the Georgetown Law School, Washington, D.C. and is now stationed at the Ent Air Force Base, Colorado, Springs. After his discharge from the Air Force in March they will locate in Washington, D.C. where he will be associated with his father and older brother in a law office.

Relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Harley Dawdy and son Bernard, of Patterson; Mr. and Mrs. Martin O'Donoghue and sons Kevin and Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Donoghue all of Washington, D.C.; and Mrs. W. H. Cade and granddaughter Linda Cade, of Kansas City, Kansas.

Mrs. Lawrence Harrison

Miss Fridlund Bride In Wisconsin Rites

VIRGINIA — Sunday evening, December 27, at the Congregational church in Williams Bay, Wisconsin, Miss Dorothy May Fridlund of Williams Bay and Virginia, Illinois, became the bride of Lawrence Edwin Harrison.

She was given in marriage by her father. The vows were received by Rev. Richard Williams in the double ring ceremony, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The church was decorated in evergreen and holly with white candles at the windows. Pews were marked with satin ribbon and holly.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Mark Williams, organist, presented hymns. John Fridlund, brother of the bride, was soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fridlund of Williams Bay, Wisconsin, are parents of the bride. The groom is a son of Mrs. Dorothy Harrison, of Virginia, Illinois, and the late Alfred H. Harrison.

Mrs. Ralph Proctor of Urbana, sorority sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. John Fridlund, Williams Bay, and Mrs. Frank P. Fridlund, of Indianapolis, Indiana, sisters-in-law of the bride, were bridesmatrons and Miss Phyllis Harrison, of Virginia, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Airman James R. Harrison, brother of the groom, was best man. Alfred R. Harrison, William F. Harrison and Ted Harrison, all of Virginia and brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were brothers of the bride, John Fridlund, of Williams Bay and Frank P. Fridlund, of Indianapolis.

The bride's gown was fashioned of Alencon lace with a tight fitting bodice over white taffeta. The sleeves were long and tapered at the hand. The neck was round and high and she wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings, gifts of the groom.

The floor length skirt was full and fashioned of French illusion with applique designs of the lace. Her finger tip veil of French illusion fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid centered in stephonitis and showered.

The bride's attendants wore identical white velvet Princess gowns, ballerina length, with three-quarter length sleeves and rounded necklines. They had white velvet headbands with short veils and each wore short white gloves. They carried red poinsettias.

The bride's mother wore beige brocaded silk with pastel blue accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore French blue silk. Her accessories were navy and she wore a white orchid.

Sandra Fridlund, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was white velvet and made similar to the bride's attendants. She wore a similar headdress and carried red poinsettias.

The ringbearer was David Fridlund, a nephew of the bride.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Hearth Room of the church. Red poinsettias and evergreens were used to decorate the room. The large table had a centerpiece of white poinsettias with silver candelabra on each side. At each end was a coffee urn. One small table was used for the wedding cake, frosted in white and decorated in white roses. A small table held the punch bowl.

Mrs. James Friestad, Milwaukee; Mrs. Tom Spiegelhoff, Burlington, Wis.; Mrs. Loren Kassera, of Eau Claire, Wis., assisted at the reception.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is at home in Virginia. For traveling the bride wore a red suit and black accessories and the orchid carried at her wedding.

The bride graduated from the Williams Bay High School and Illinois Wesleyan University, in Bloomington, where she received a degree in Music Education. She is a member of the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, music director in Chandlerville schools and last year music director at Routt high school, Jacksonville.

The groom is a graduate of the Virginia High School, attended the University of Illinois and spent two years in the United States army, most of the time in Korea. He is opening a TV service business in Virginia.

Special guests were present at the wedding from Indianapolis, Urbana, Milwaukee, Eau Claire, Wis.; Oak Park, Park Ridge, Chicago Heights, McLean and Rushville, Illinois.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Harrison, his sister, Miss Phyllis Harrison, brothers, A/C James Harrison, stationed at Lowery Field, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harrison, Brenda and Thomas Allen; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Harrison, Miss Marilyn Bell, all of Virginia, Illinois, were guests.

Norman Angle of White Hall Wed In Germany

WHITE HALL — Details of the fall wedding at Schweinfurt, Germany, of Sergeant Norman Dale Angle, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Angle of White Hall, to Miss Margarete Babette Krug have been received here.

The ceremony was performed at high noon and was followed with an afternoon reception at Poppenhausen Bierstube.

The 36-member Honor Guard of the Assault Gun Platoon, stationed near Schweinfurt, assisted at the ceremony. This was the first known time the Honor Guard has accorded an enlisted man the distinction of serving as honor guard for such an occasion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Krug of Gochesheim, Germany. Attending the couple were her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Engelbrecht, also of Gochesheim.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and silk. Her fingertip-length veil of nylon lace and a bouquet of orchids completed her wedding costume.

Mrs. Engelbrecht wore pastel blue with matching accessories. Her flowers were red roses.

The bride's mother wore a black outfit with a corsage of red roses. Members of the immediate family and those in the Honor Guard were the only guests.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Aura, Germany and are now making their home in Frankfurt in that country.

Mrs. Angle attended a seamstress school for three years. The bridegroom is a graduate of White Hall high school, class of 1953. He enlisted in the Army in 1954 and is still stationed near Schweinfurt.

Sandra Loy, Adran Price Wed In Greene

GREENFIELD—Mrs. Francile Batty announces the recent marriage of her daughter, Sandra Loy, to Adran Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Price of Carrollton.

The ceremony was performed on Dec. 12 at the White Hall Baptist church with Rev. Harry Chasteen officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Arnold, Jr., attended the couple.

Passavant Aid Pays $10,000 Fund Pledge

The first meeting in 1960 for Passavant Hospital Area Aid Society Board was held at the hospital on Jan. 5, Mrs. E. Warfield Brown, president, in charge. The chaplain, Mrs. J. N. Conover conducted devotions on the theme, "Open the Door."

Routine business followed with secretary's report from Mrs. Charles Gibson and treasurer's report from Mrs. W. O. Randall.

A highlight of the session was the presenting of a check by Mrs James Dunlap, chairman of the Hospital Gift Shop, an Aid project, for the sum of $3,500. The amount represented a most successful year and the money was ordered by unanimous vote of the board applied as final payment on the Aid's $10,000 pledge to the building fund of the hospital's Nurses Home.

Mrs. Allen McCullough, program committee chairman, announced plans for the annual luncheon to be held at 12:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 22, at the Masonic Temple.

Luncheon Speaker

The speaker will be Emil O. Stahlhut, administrator of the Abraham Lincoln Memorial hospital at Lincoln, Ill.

During the meeting the president appointed a committee to study the by-laws with the interest of revision. Members of the committee are Miss Gertrude Ayers, Mrs. John Newcomb, Mrs. W. L. Fay and Mrs. Brown.

The co-chairmen of the recreational committee for student nurses, Mrs. Vernon L. Caine and Mrs. Harrison King, reported on the success in obtaining Mrs. Louise Bruyn as instructor for interpretive dancing. Classes for the students start this month.

Mrs. Merton Abbott, chairman of the Hand Work Bar, reported for her committee. Due to the success of the work by this group, another Bazaar is planned next fall.

Mrs. Dunlap also gave a detailed report on the Gift Shop.

Mrs. Applebee Tells WSCS About Africa

The WSCS of Grace Methodist church held its first meeting in 1960 on Jan. 6th at the church. The president, Mrs. J. A. Mann, presided and issued greetings in opening the meeting.

Mrs. Mann called attention to Bishop Arthur Moore, a friend of all missionaries, who has completed 20 years of service on the Board of Missions of Methodist churches.

A recommendation was approved to send a memorial gift, in the name of Mrs. R. A. Gates, to a rural medical hospital for women at Villore, India. This hospital was organized by Dr. Ida Scuddar, 86, a lifetime friend of Mrs. Gates.

Mrs. W. E. Hall paid tribute to Mrs. Gates and told of her long continued service at Grace church.

Mrs. Gaston Foote was named as member of a nominating committee taking the place of the late Mrs. Clarence Rataichak.

Mrs. Clarence Eggenberger spoke on World Federation of Methodist Women, organized in 1939, which now consists of 47 units.

Mrs. John Worrall told of the Blanket Airlift for Refugees, being sponsored by United Church Council of Women, State of Illinois. Blankets are to be taken to churches Jan. 17th.

The secretary of childrens work, Mrs. Robert Brubaker, announced special sessions for the children of the church, on the subject of Africa, to be held each Sunday morning during this month.

Mrs. Howard Reynolds told of her trip to Langleyville Settlement House, where she visited and left donations of canned goods and cash gifts for Christmas.

As January is Guild Month Mrs. Lena Kerns presented highlights on the Guild of the church.

To Serve 300 At Dinner

There will be 300 tickets available next week for the Feb. 10 dinner that is one of three such projects of the Society during the year as a money-maker. The first dinner, serving a capacity crowd, was in December.

There will be bazaar items sold before and after serving. Tickets may be obtained at the church office.

The District missionary dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 13 at Rushville. Rev. Edward Knettler, missionary in China, will speak. Circle Martha will have a rummage sale Jan. 29th.

Mrs. Clarence Eggenberger, program chairman, presented Mrs. Paul Black, who gave devotions on Mount of Olives, with Mrs. Gale Gilbert at the piano.

Mrs. A. B. Applebee was the afternoon speaker on her recent trip to Africa, The Continent of Contrasts. She told of visiting a wild animal farm, that services zoos throughout the world. The people of the country seemed happy and cordial to strangers. Africa calls 1960 the 'magic year, especially in the field of education. She concluded with the statement, "American prestige in Africa is very high," and "the church is the schoolmaster of Africa."

Mrs. Black closed the meeting with benediction. A social hour followed the hostesses being members of Circle Ruth who served delicious home-made cupcakes with tea. Mrs. Florence Woods and Mrs. Arthur Vorhees poured. The next meeting will be Feb. 3rd.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Following is a summary of the hog, cattle and sheep markets for the week and estimated receipts for today:

Hogs 100; barrows and gilts 50-1.00, mostly 75 higher, sows 25-50 higher. At the close mixed U. S. No 1, 2 and 3 and mixed No 2 and 3 200-220 lb barrows and gilts 12.25-12.60 with mixed No 1 and 2 and No 2 190-220 lbs 12.50-13.00. Mixed No 2 and 2 220-260 lbs largely 11.25-12.25, No 2 and 3 and No 3 260-300 lbs 10.75-11.50. Mixed grades No 1, 2 and 3 330-400 lb sows 9.50-10.25, No 2 and 3 400-550 lbs 8.75-9.75.

Cattle 100; prime steers sold 25-30 cents higher while offerings grading choice and below gained 50 cents to $1.50. Heifers advanced 25-1.00, mostly 50-75. Cows steady to 1.00 lower, bulls strong to 50 higher, vealers steady to strong. Weeks early bulk choice and prime steers 25.00-27.50, late bulk 25.75-28.00, numerous loads mixed good and choice steers late 25.00-25.75, few weighing 1,050 lbs down up to 26.50, most good steers 23.50-25.00, standard grades late sold down to 20.00, load lots high choice and mixed choice and prime heifers 25.75-26.25, late bulk good and choice heifers 23.00-25.75, most utility and standard heifers 16.00-22.00. Few standard cows 17.25-18.50, utility and commercial cows closed at 14.25-17.50, utility and commercial bulls 20.75-23.00, cutters 19.50-20.50, most standard and good vealers 22.00-28.00, few choice up to 30.00, cull and utility vealers 10.00-21.00.

Sheep none; slaughter sheep and lamb 50-1.00 higher. Late in the week several loads mostly choice 100-105 lb wooled slaughter lambs 20.00, good and choice native wooled slaughter lambs weighing under 105 lbs 18.00-20.00. Utility down to 16.00. Cull to choice slaughter ewes 5.00-7.00.

CHICAGO (AP)—Higher prices on four of the five days this week gave the butcher hog market its strongest advance for any comparable period since July. Gains ran to as much as $1 a hundredweight for barrows and gilts and to 50 cents for sows.

At the same time, the wholesale pork market gained as much as $4.00.

Shipper demand was good through Wednesday and buyers for those interests took about the total supply of 52,500 head. At the end of the week No. 1 and 2 grades in the 190-220 lb range were virtually absent, requiring a good deal of sorting by buyers.

Cattle receipts were the smallest for the first full marketing week of any year since 1955 and slaughter steers generally sold steady to higher each day although prime grade did not share the advance until midweek.

Steers grading choice and below were 50 cents to $1.50 higher for the week, the prime grade 25 to 50 cents higher. It was the broadest gain for that class since last March and the market for bulls hit a new peak price since October.

A good shipper demand and improvement in the prices for dressed lamb strengthened the sheep market and it gained 50 cents to $1.00.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market started this week as if the 1960s were golden and ended as if they were lead.

Amid considerable debate in Wall Street as to what the new year and the next decade would bring, prices rose to still another record high in the Dow Jones industrial average Tuesday only to sink below the New Year's Eve high in the Dow by the Thursday close.

Trading for 1960 started with the immense stimulus of an agreement to end the eight-month steel strike, thus settling the major uncertainty overhanging the American economy. By Wednesday, however, Wall Street had to reckon with interest rate boosts on brokers' loans and the worry that hikes in other interest rates would follow.

By Thursday, rates were higher for commercial credit and bankers' acceptances and the street began to wonder whether the Federal Reserve Board, which meets Thursdays, would boost the discount rate after the market close. The "Fed" took no action this week but one thing was sure, brokers said — from now on it will be one "nervous Thursday" after another until the discount rate is either raised or there is some conclusive evidence that it will not be boosted in the immediate future.

Steels, motors and rails went forward together, lending a substantial air to the upward progress. The Dow industrials were at a record peak of 685.47 at the close Tuesday but they lost ground on every successive day as the street worried about tight money.

On the week, the Dow industrials were down 3.63 to 675.73, putting them below the previous record peak of 679.36 reached on the last day of 1959.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks took a small loss of 30 cents on the week, closing at $230.20.

Volume rose to 18,027,086 shares, largest for any full five-day trading week since the week ended Dec. 5 when the total was 19,933,275.

On the bond market, net result at the end of the week was slight gains for both corporate and government bonds. Among the corporates, investment quality issues, rails, industrials and utilities edged ahead. Foreign bonds were unchanged.

WEEK'S GRAIN PRICES FLUCTUATE, FINISH WITH GAINS

By GIL MAYO
AP Business News Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices worked both ways this week on a variety of temporary influences but finished with gains ranging from small fractions to more than two cents.

Soybeans and rye, which galloped up and down broadly all week, led the advances with plus signs about equal to their last run-up Friday. The two losses, one in March wheat the other in May oats, were in minimum fractions.

The reconvening of Congress brought the market back to long-absent political considerations. It was one of those which sparked a general rally Wednesday when dealers heard rumors President Eisenhower's State of the Union message would include a specific proposal for curtailing grain production and disposing of huge surpluses, particularly wheat.

Instead, the President spoke of the farm problem in generalities which was viewed as a restatement of the administration position a year ago. Since Congress rejected recommended revisions then, brokers expressed belief the same membership is not likely to be any friendlier toward them now.

Withdrawal of participation in the soybean trade appears to have been a factor in the broad price shifts of that commodity. Since the open interest hit almost 200 million bushels shortly before issuance of the government's bearish final crop report in December the figure has been declining steadily. At week's end it was down to about 175 million.

Small cash receipts of wheat and the feed grains imparted firmness to those prices.

At the end of the week, wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel lower to 1⅛ cents higher, March $2.04¼-⅛; corn ¼-⅜ higher, March $1.14⅜-½; oats ⅛ lower to 1 cent higher, March 76¼-⅛; rye 12½ cents higher, March $1.30¼-½; soybeans 1⅝-2¾ higher, January $2.14¾-⅝.

VFW Auxiliary Ends Month Of Civic Activity

In lieu of a second meeting in December, the V.F.W. Auxiliary held a party for underprivileged children at the Post Home. Mrs. Harriett Pate was chairman of the arrangements assisted by Cecelia Walker, Hulda Smock, Helen Helwig, Betty Baptist, Virginia Houston, President Agnes McDevitt, and Lawrence Alloway, Del Roman and Commander McDevitt of the Post.

There were 42 children present. They were entertained by Lee Zimmerman, Linda Cockerill, Judy Hazelrigg, Peggy Phalen and Glen Helwig, dancing and in song. Santa Claus presented each child with a gift, fruit and candy. Homemade cookies and soda pop was then served. Following the party several members of the Auxiliary and post assisted Mrs. Adeline Warmoth, hospital chairman, with a party at the State Hospital for around 175 veterans. They were each given a gift and homemade cookies and coffee was served.

The Post and Auxiliary also had a family supper for members and families the last week in December, and approximately 100 people were in attendance. Following a bountiful potluck supper, Santa Claus paid his annual visit to the children of the members and presented each child with fruit and candy.

To end holiday activities, the Post and Auxiliary members visited the State Hospital on Wednesday evening before Christmas and under the direction of Mrs. Adeline Warmoth, Department of Illinois Hospital Chairman and her assistant, Mrs. Marjorie Hull, gave gifts of candy and socks to every veteran in the Hospital.

The auxiliary members also entertained some 35 veteran connected women patients at the hospital and they were remembered with gifts and homemade cookies.

The next regular meeting of the V.F.W. Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday evening January 10th at 7:30 p.m. at the Post Home with Mrs. Eleanor Hayes and her committee as hostesses for the evening.

Predict Hot Contest For Top Job In Illinois

Paul H. Douglas, who is seeking his third six-year term. Douglas has no opposition within his own party.

Stratton has indicated his preference for Witwer from a field of four Republicans seeking the GOP senatorial nomination. Among them is Warren Wright, former state treasurer. In the past, too, Wright has frequently opposed the party organization on the ballot.

Others in the field are William Rentschler, Chicago candy manufacturer, and State Sen. John W. Lewis of Marshall.

Stratton is running with a ticket which includes two state officials who—like himself—weathered 1956 re-election after the Orville Hodge scandal.

Hodge was imprisoned for bilking the state till of some 1½ million dollars while he was auditor.

Members of the original Stratton team seeking to retain their offices are Secretary of State Charles Carpentier and Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman.

The ticket also includes Elbert S. Smith, seeking another term as auditor, and Atty. Gen. Grenville Beardsley, who was appointed to his job last year after Latham Castle was named to a vacancy on the U.S. Court of Appeals.

On the GOP organization slate, only Stratton and Witwer face announced opposition in the primary.

The Democratic ticket endorsed Friday includes: Douglas for the Senate; State Rep. Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee, lieutenant governor; James R. McLaughlin, Mount Vernon, secretary of state; Michael J. Howlett, Chicago, auditor, and State Rep. William G. Clark, Chicago, attorney general.

expressing "deep shock and horror" at the wave of anti-Semitism.

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Isvestia charged that anti-Semitism and neo-Nazism in West Germany come from too much leniency by the Western Allies.

Izvestia said it feared that West German Nazis, if they get hold of rocket weapons, "will try to subject Europe to the swastika."

At Kaiserslauter, in the Rhineland-Palatinate, the leader of the radical rightist German Reich party told a state convention of his followers the party is "terrorized by a clique" trying to have it banned as neo-Nazi.

"But they can't kill the 300,000 people who voted for us," said Wilhelm Meinberg, a former general of the Nazi SS Elite Guard.

The party is not represented in in Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government. It has one seat in the 160-seat Rhineland-Palatinate legislature. It has fired two party members who confessed defacing a Cologne synagogue Christmas Eve, the incident that touched off the current wave of hatemongering.

Official party pamphlets, distributed during the convention, differed somewhat from the pointedly moderate line of the speeches.

One of them called Sir Winston Churchill "an unscrupulous demagogue," President Roosevelt a "war criminal," and described the Nuernberg war crimes trials as a "monster process which served the Allied revenge and the historic lie" (of German war guilt).

Loyal Circle Meets Tuesday In Meredosia

MEREDOSIA—The Loyal Circle of St. John's Lutheran ULCW met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Wegehoft with 12 members present.

Mrs. Albert Telling was the lesson leader, having the topic, "Africa," and being assisted by Mrs. Oscar Nortrup and Mrs. Leah Wegehoft. Mrs. Henry Schroeder read Scripture; the hymn was "Spread, O Spread Thou Mighty Word." Prayer, offered by Mrs. Minnie Steinberg, concluded the lesson.

During the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. John Peters, regular reports were given and several cards of thanks were read.

The February meeting will be at Mrs. Steinberg's home.

The hostess served cake, ice cream, tea and coffee.

School of Instruction

Thursday afternoon and evening Mrs. H. G. Crawford of Quincy conducted a school of instruction for members of Trinity Chapter 636 of Eastern Star in the local lodge room.

A carry-in supper was enjoyed at 6 o'clock. The evening session began at 7 and lasted until 11 p.m. Fourteen members attended the school.

W.S.C.S. Meets

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church held its January meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Lathrop, with Mrs. Harold Deibert as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Margaret Petri was in charge of the devotional period. The lesson, "The Golden Cord of Service," was presented by Mrs. Carl Breckon.

In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Chel Young, conducted the meeting. It was decided to take part in the project, "Blanket," which is sponsored by the United Church Women of Illinois. Blankets and 25 cents to defray the cost of shipping are to be taken to local churches Sunday, Jan. 17.

Flowers and music committee—Mrs. Breckon, Mrs. Harold Martin, Mrs. Horace Arnold, Mrs. Kenneth Looman and Miss Kay Looman.

The February hostess will be Mrs. Lena Boyd, assisted by Mrs. Charles Smith; the lesson leader will be Mrs. Virgil Beauchamp.

Refreshments of ice cream snowball, coffee and tea were served by the hostesses.

Rubinoff Will Appear Feb. 8 With Violin

Rubinoff and his violin, a musical combination that has rated high in popularity for many years, will come to Jacksonville for a concert Feb. 8.

The Jacksonville Lions club announced yesterday that it has signed Rubinoff for an appearance at the high school auditorium, the net proceeds of which will go to the Lions' welfare fund.

Tickets for the concert may be procured from four Jacksonville stores, including Long's Pharmacy, R. & M. Electric, Myers Brothers and Lukeman clothing stores.

Rubinoff is well known to millions both from his current concert appearances, nationwide radio broadcasts with Eddie Cantor, television guestings, and his motion picture engagements. This tour is heralded as a concert "in tune with the times."

The famed musician will bring here for his concert the fabulous Stradivarius violin which, insured for $100,000, is reputed to possess the most beautiful tonal qualities in the entire world; and a brand new program of famous favorites loved by people everywhere, such as Warsaw Concerto, Chopin's Polonaise, DeBussy's Clair de Lune, and Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue. These compositions will have their premier performance as violin solos arranged and played by the maestro.

MacMurray Rallies In Closing Minutes To Defeat Wabash, 69-64

With the score tied 62-62 and three minutes remaining in the game, MacMurray's Marv Hohenberger dumped in a basket to give the Highlanders the final boost they needed as they went ahead to beat the Wabash College Cavemen 69-64 at the Hardin Avenue fieldhouse.

Following Hohenberger's timely score MacMurray held the ball for over a minute, until Jerry Lace picked up one point on a charity toss and Roy Hahnfeld tipped in his second attempt with less than a minute remaining to ice the game for the clan 67-62. A tally by Bowerman of Wabash and two free throws by Highlander Larry Krulac rounded out the scoring.

The first half was closely played, as the Highlanders slowly built up their 33-27 first period lead. Ron Price led the clan to their widest margin as they took a 12 point lead early in the second half, before Wabash, sparked by Don Engler and Tom Bennett gradually cut it down and finally tied the score for the first time of the evening 56-56 with six minutes remaining.

Then followed a nip and tuck three minutes, with MacMurray fighting to keep on top before Hohenberger finally pushed the clan ahead to stay.

Ron Price led the scoring for the Highlanders with 23 points, and was followed by Hohenberger with 16. Jim Cumming was the big scorer for the Cavemen with 18 tallies, and he was helped by Bennett with 15 and Engler with 14.

The Highlanders now hold a 7-4 record, as they prepare to meet Southern Illinois University of Alton in another home game next Tuesday. They will then take the road to play Harris Teachers' College at St. Louis Jan. 15 and return home for Lewis College the 16th.

ISD Tigers Win Over West Pike For Fifth Victory

The ISD Tigers defeated the West Pike Cardinals Saturday night 61-53 in a game that started and ended up as something of a close contest. The ISD win gave the Cardinals their third defeat of the season and at the same time gave the Tigers their fifth win of the season with two losses.

In the first quarter the game was nip and tuck all the way with Edwards and Parish looking good on defense for the Tigers and Edwards also good on offense. Weir was good on the offense for the losers and the Cardinal press gave the Tigers some trouble in the early minutes. As the first quarter came to a close the board showed that the slight edge went to the Tigers with the score reading 19-16 in their favor.

In the second quarter the Tigers started off good and the Cardinals went cold for the first four minutes of the quarter. During this stanza Louis Edwards was a standout on the offensive side with 15 points. The score at the end of the first half read 41-26 in favor of the Tigers and gave them a comfortable margin to start the second half with.

The third quarter was somewhat slower than the first two as both teams played a tight defense. Again the Cardinal team started off slow and it was two minutes before they could break the ice and dump in a bucket. The score at the end of the third quarter stood at 52-39 still in favor of the Tigers.

In the final quarter the Tigers took their turn at not being able to get the ball through the hoop and over four minutes elapsed before A. C. Parish was able to dump one through. The Cardinal five caught fire and began to pull up on the Tigers, and with 3 minutes remaining in the game they pulled up to within 5 points of the Tigers. A. C. Parish was the outstanding man of offense in this quarter as he made 7 of the teams 8 tallies during this quarter. The final horn sounded with the score reading 61-53 in favor of the ISD Tigers.

High man of the game was Edwards of ISD with 26 points and for the losers Weir was high with 19 points.

Georgia Tech Triumphs, 82-60

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech added Mississippi State to its list of basketball victims Saturday night 82-60, in a Southeastern Conference clash.

Roger Kaiser led Tech out of a tight situation in the first half by scoring nine points in less than two minutes on his way to high point honors with 21. It was the second straight SEC victory for the Yellowjackets, who are rated No. 6 in The Associated Press national poll.

Tech has a 10-1 overall mark. Mississippi State, 6-6 for the season, is 1-2 in the SEC. The Maroons are defending conference champions.

Tech threw a tight defensive clamp on Jerry Graves, leading State scorer who came into the game with a 22.1 scoring average. Graves managed 12 points, but was limited to three field goals.

Spartans Whip Michigan, 89-58

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Defending Big Ten basketball champion Michigan State broke in its new starting lineup Saturday night with a convincing 89-58 whipping of arch-rival Michigan.

Michigan State now has a 7-2 over-all and 2-0 conference record. It was the eighth loss for Michigan, playing its first conference game, against only two wins.

So the surprising Spartans, not figured on as repeat champs because of lack of heighth and depth, still were very much in the running and the team to beat.

Missing from the MSU lineup were starters Art Gowens and Jim Bechinski, knocked out of eligibility for the season because they flunked one subject each.

Dave Scott, 6-2 Detroit senior, and Art Schwarm, 6-1 sophomore from Evanston, Ill., moved in as starters.

High man and hottest shooter for the Spartans was Horace Walker, 6-3 regular at pivot. Walker led his team with 24 points, 16 of them in the first half. Also steady scorers were the two other regulars, Lance Olson with 23 points and Dave Fahs with 18.

Terry Miller who scored 22 points and was the only consistent hitter for Michigan.

Michigan State had a comfortable 50-36 lead at halftime.

Iowa Halts Wildcat Stalling Tactics, 73-59

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa kept Northwestern from stalling by taking an early lead here Saturday night and won its second Big Ten basketball game 73-59.

Iowa went ahead for keeps 9-8 with five minutes gone and Northwestern never was able to make use of its slow-down tactics which had upset Indiana.

Sophomore Don Nelson and senior Nolden Gentry led the Hawks. Nelson scored 21 points and Gentry 17. Gentry also was the leading rebounder with 13.

Willie Jones topped Northwestern scorers with 26 points, before fouling out with two minutes left. He also led Northwestern in rebounds with 9.

The Hawkeyes outshot and outrebounded Northwestern to boost their Big Ten record to 2-1 and their season mark to 10-3. Northwestern is 1-1 in conference play.

Iowa hit 29 of 67 shots for a .433 mark, and picked off 40 rebounds. Northwestern had a .406 average from the field with 24 of 59 field goals, and pulled in 29 rebounds.

Lew Fonseca To Be Honored

CHICAGO (AP) — Lew Fonseca, former major league star and now director of motion pictures for baseball, will be honored for long and meritorious service to the game at the 20th Diamond Dinner of the Chicago Baseball Writers Jan. 17.

Fonseca, starting his 26th year in promotion of the major leagues, will receive the J. Louis Comiskey Award, the top trophy given by the Chicago writers. An infielder, Fonseca played for the Reds, the Phils, Indians and White Sox. He managed the White Sox in 1932, 1933 and part of 1934.

Films directed by Fonseca, including World Series movies, last year were viewed by an estimated 13½ million fans.

RESERVATIONS SOARING

ROME (AP)—Reservations for tickets to this year's Olympic Games are nearing the million-dollar mark.

The Italian Olympic Committee, organizers of the games, said Saturday the value of tickets reserved on Jan. 7 totaled $894,400.

West Germany tops the bookings by nations with $170,756.16. Italy is next at $149,245.44 followed by the United States at $114,788.32.

Purdue Crushes Wisconsin, 99-69

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Sophomores Terry Dischinger and Jerry Berkshire fired Purdue to a 99-69 rout of Wisconsin's basketball team Saturday night, leaving Purdue undefeated in two Big Ten starts and Wisconsin a three-time loser.

Dischinger hit 30 points, matching his production in Purdue's opening conference victory over Indiana a week ago.

A 22-point splurge by Berkshire was unexpected. His best previous production had been 12. He hit nine of 13 shots from the field in the first half and 11 of 17 for the entire game.

The entire Purdue team was hot, sinking 43 of 83 field goal attempts for .518. Wisconsin dropped in only 26 of 68 for .382. The Badgers high scorers were Tom Hughbanks and Jack Ulwelling with 15 points apiece.

Purdue, starting four sophomores and one junior, led only 20-19 midway in the first half, then scored 18 points in the next four minutes.

The Big 10 Can Forget Holding TV Program

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Big Ten, or any other athletic conference, is still entertaining ideas of conducting its own national TV program, it can forget them.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., which has controlled regular season college football telecasts for a decade, is more convinced then ever that its plan is the best possible.

The NCAA now even goes so far as to say it has public opinion on its side.

An excerpt from the 1959 TV committee's report reads:

"The public apparently has likewise become convinced, after some misgivings in the early years of the NCAA program, that restriction of televised football is essential to the protection and preservation of the game.

"The ratings achieved by the program of telecasts conducted under the 1959 NCAA plan demonstrated clearly that football fans have placed the stamp of their approval on it."

The Big Ten recently disclosed a package offer it had received which would mean three million dollars to the conference over a three year period. The contract, calling for telecasts of football, basketball and other conference events, would provide one million dollars yearly for division among the members schools.

But the 10 member schools have received as much as $80,000 annually apiece under the NCAA program. So to gain an approximate $20,000 more each, the schools would have to defy the NCAA and risk receiving almost certain penalties and sanctions of a severe nature.

The Big Ten tabled the proposal at its recent meetings, pending release of NCAA TV committee's report this week in New York.

Now the next move is up to the Big Ten, but it appears to have no other recourse than to accept the NCAA stand.

The TV committee report, approved by the membership reads:

"Be it further resolved, that no member institutions of the NCAA shall make or extend any commitments, arrangements or contracts for any form of television of college football games (including subscription, closed circuit, and delayed television) until the adoption of the approved plan, and then only for the 1960 and 1961 seasons and in conformity with the provisions of that plan."

ACTION IN WINCHESTER-ROUTT CLASH

Rocket center Tom Shanle goes high into the air to score an easy layup in second quarter action of Routt's 62-43 victory over Winchester at the JHS Bowl Saturday night. Routt turned an expected close game into a near rout with 24 points in the second quarter. The winners hit 50 per cent of their shots in the first half. Watching Shanle score are Ed Dolen (11), Les Watt (43) and Tom Flynn. Bill Tobin of Routt thwarts the kneeling tactics of (31) Tom Steelman to score from close range as Coach Bob Winstead's Rockets gained victory number 13 in 16 starts by running away from Winchester which suffered its second straight loss after collecting wins over 10 opponents.

Routt Displays Potent 1st Half Attack In 62-43 Win Over Winchester

By STAN SPOTTS

Coach Bob Winstead's Routt Rockets ran Winchester right out of the JHS Bowl in the first half and then maintained its scoring punch in the final canto to score an easy 62-43 victory over Coach Jack Renfro's Wildcats Saturday night.

Only once in the contest did the Rocket machine slip gears and that came in a mediocre seven-point third quarter but Routt still managed a 14-point margin at the three-quarter mark, 44-30.

The game which had been rated a toss-up was decided in the opening minutes of play after both clubs failed to garner a point for two minutes and 41 seconds of play.

With 5:19 to go, guard Fred Curtis broke the ice on a 20-foot jump shot to put Routt on top to stay. Then, Tobin, Shanle and two charity tosses by Curtis gave Routt an 8-0 margin to work on and Winchester was on its way to defeat number two after 10 straight victories.

Winchester went 4:02 without a score in the initial chapter until Flynn hit with 3:58 remaining and then forward John Schofield connected to leave the Wildcats trailing, 8-4. Routt broke the game wide open on Walker's bucket and then center Tom Shanle hit for three points to give Routt a commanding 13-4 spread. The Wildcats were behind by seven after eight minutes of play, 13-6.

The issue was never in doubt once Routt began to swish the cords with regularity in the second stanza. The Rockets dominated play for the entire period and this was evident as they opened up a 20-point lead with 2:24 left before halftime, 31-11.

Routt hit 50 per cent of its shots in the torrid first half on 15 of 30 attempts while the Wildcats could muster only six of 23 shots, good for a 26 percentage.

The Wildcats came back after halftime to give their followers something to cheer about for the first time during the evening. Wildcats Tom Flynn and John Schofield controlled the boards and an alert defense took advantage of bad passes on the part of Winstead's five to pull within 12 points of the lead, 42-30, with 1:51 left in the third quarter. But the Wildcats went scoreless from this time on while Routt hit four points for a 44-30 lead. Schofield's seven points and Bill Brockhouse's five tallies paced Winchester's 15 point canto. Three free throws and two buckets was the best Routt could produce in its seven-point period.

Routt erased any doubts of a downfall when Shanle, Curtis and Tobin hit in succession to start the final quarter to regain a 20-point lead, 50-30, with 6:25 remaining.

When Winchester failed to score for the opening two minutes and 13 seconds of play and trailing by 20 markers, Coach Jack Renfro cleared his bench with 5:47 left to play in the contest.

Routt connected on 22 of 59 shots while Winchester hit 16 of 51 attempts. A cold third quarter was the reason for Routt's 37 per cent game average.

The Rockets notched their 13th win in 16 outings behind a great team effort with George Trutter's 16 tallies showing the offensive punch. John Schofield's 11 points topped the Wildcat output.

East All-Stars Favored In Hula Bowl Tilt

HONOLULU (AP) — On the strength of their backfield, the East All Stars, coached by Paul Dietzel, Louisiana State, are a one-touchdown favorite over Bud Wilkinson's West All Stars in the 14th annual Hula Bowl game Sunday.

Dietzel's offense backfield is made up of quarterback Richie Lucas, Penn State; halfbacks Billy Cannon, LSU, and Ron Burton, Northwestern, and fullback Charlie Flowers, Mississippi.

Wilkinson is counting on the sharpshooting of Southern Methodist quarterback Don Meredith, who passed the West to victory in last week's Shrine Game in San Francisco. Chris Burford, Stanford end, and Dick Bass, College of the Pacific halfback, Meredith's main targets last week, also are with the West Hula team.

Southeastern Loop Dominates Academic Team

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Southeastern Conference, with four representatives, dominates the all-star academic football team selected by votes of sports writers in all parts of the country and announced Saturday.

To qualify scholastically for the academic team, a player must have averaged B or better during the last grading period. Members were picked by 410 sports editors of daily newspapers in all parts of the country.

The first team: Don Usry of Army and Mickey Mangham of Louisiana State, ends; Lou Cordileon of Clemson and Robert Khayat of Mississippi, tackles; Mike McKeever of Southern California and Maurice Doke of Texas, guards; Jackie Burkett of Auburn, center, and Charlie Flowers of Mississippi, Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin, Fran Curci of Miami and Rich Mayo of Air Force in the backfield.

College Briefs

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)— North Central rallied in the closing minutes Saturday night to defeat Millikin 96-89 in a College Conference of Illinois basketball game.

The two teams were tied 44-all at halftime, but North Central went ahead to stay 77-76 with eight minutes to play.

Paul Holmes led the victors with 24 points but scoring honors went to Millikin's Glen Elms who netted 27.

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Western Illinois defeated Illinois Normal 88-76 Saturday night in an IIAC basketball game as Western's Grady McCollum poured in 25 points.

Normal, the defending champion, trailed 36-27 at halftime en route to its third straight conference loss. Western is 1-0. Jerry Odell topped Normal with 20 points.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Augustana scored its third CCI basketball triumph without defeat by defeating Lake Forest 74-63 Saturday night.

Augustana led all the way and was in front 40-31 at halftime.

Ron Sergeant led the victors with 27 points while Tom Lewis and Phil Sokody were high for the visitors with 11 points each.

ELMHURST, Ill. (AP)—Elmhurst rolled up a 41-25 halftime lead and went on to wallop North Park 91-61 Saturday night despite 31 points by the losers' Phil Johnson.

Earl Collignon was high for Elmhurst with 29 points.

CHICAGO (AP)— The University of Chicago rolled up its 16th straight basketball triumph and ninth this season by defeating Carroll 52-42 Saturday night.

Chicago led 26-17 at halftime.

Illini Beat Minnesota With Balanced Attack

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Harold Gomes would defend the world junior lightweight championship in a 15-round match with Flash Elorde in Manila on March 5, the announcement read. The Providence Portuguese is guaranteed $25,000, three round trip tickets and all expenses.

But it's the story behind the story that is the more interesting, as they say in the slick magazines, and Lope Sarreal was in New York to personally make the match. Sarreal, greatest of international promoters, was fresh in from Sao Paulo, Brazil, or maybe it was Caracas, Tokyo, Bangkok or Manila. The guy promotes in five countries and it's an 18,000- mile flight around his circuit.

Sarreal, a Filipino who now makes his headquarters in Tokyo, is staging the Gomes-Elorde match in an arena he has never seen.

"I haven't been in Manila for more than a year," he explained, "but this new place is in Quezon City, which is north Manila, and seats 18,000. Gomes and Elorde will sell it out at from 5 to 30 pesos, or $2.50 to $15. The net will be more than $100,000 because the government waives taxes on any championship contest involving a Filipino. This show is for indigent Filipino fighters and is sponsored by the Sports Writers Association of the Philippines."

• • •

How did Sarreal, a handsome and merry little man of 54, get in the beak busting business? He was a highly successful importer and exporter and heavy contractor.

"I was exporting steel and scrap iron to Japan after World War II,' he explained. "Filipinos weren't going to Japan just then and Japanese weren't visiting the Philippines. I felt that something should be done to bring them together again, so in 1950 I took Larry Bataan, then feather champion of the Philippines, and Elorde, who was only 16, to Tokyo and promoted my first fight. I opened a night club in Tokyo and brought in Filipino entertainers.

"Since that time more than 100 Japanese fighters have appeared in Manila and an equal number of Filipino boys have boxed in Tokyo and Osaka without a single incident. Boxing opened the way for baseball, basketball, swimming and other sports."

• • •

Sarreal built his prize fight circuit to enable boys from the Orient to get around and to bring in opponents for them.

Pascual Perez, the little strong man from the Argentine, won the flyweight championship from Yoshio Shirai in Tokyo, lost a decision for the only time there to Sadao Yaoita.

Sarreal took Rocky Kalingo to Caracas, where the Filipino welter flattened Florentino Fernandez in a round before 12,000 and a $72,000 gate. Fernandez since returned the compliment in the second round in Havana, where Sarreal says he was the victim of a short count.

To obtain employment on the road for Danny Kid, a Filipino bantam, Sarreal sent him to South America with Don Jordan with the result that the welter ruler was flattened by one Frederico Thompson in Buenos Aires.

What's the biggest problem promoting fights in countries where the language and currency are different?

"Same as here," said Lope Sarreal simply. "Television."

Illinois Grabs First Loop Victory, 90-82

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—With four players hitting in double figures, topped by Mannie Jackson's 25 points, Illinois Saturday trimmed Minnesota 90-82 in a Big Ten basketball game.

The Illini, boosting their conference record to 1-1 to match the Gophers, jumped into a 19-8 lead and maintained at least a 10-point margin until the final two minutes.

At halftime, Illinois was ahead 52-37 and its biggest bulge was by 17 points at the outset of the second half.

Ron Johnson made 5 points, and Ray Cronk and Wes Hiller each added 2 in a Minnesota spurt that cut into the Illini's margin 85-79 at 1:18.

Johnson took scoring honors with 31 points, Cronk had 20.

Govoner Vaughn with 18 points, John Wessels with 16 and Ed Perry with 14 collaborated with Jackson for Illinois' main sharpshooting.

3 Ranking Downstate Prep Fives Eke Out One Point Victories

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —Three ranking downstate Illinois cage clubs eked out one-point wins Friday night—two of them saving unbeaten records — but West Frankfort and Mount Vernon could not stave off defeat as prep teams started fighting out second-half season schedules.

The Pekin Chinks, ranked sixth in the Associated Press poll of downstate teams, notched their eighth win over East Peoria 57-56.

Seventh-ranked Decatur settled for a 58-57 win over Mattoon which hasn't tasted victory in its last five starts. It was win number nine for the Decatur quintet.

The defending state champs, Springfield, held off Danville 50-49 after blowing a 14-point lead late in the third period. The winning Senators, set back twice this season, are ranked 11th and the win gives them an 8-2 overall record.

Elgin, unranked and loser of four of their first six games, gave 12th ranked West Rockford the one-point treatment, winning 74-73. It was the season's third defeat for the West Rockford five who have run up eight victories.

The Herrin Tigers paced Southern Illinois play with a 67-55 ramble over the Mount Vernon Rams, ranked 14th. It was the 10th win for the Tigers and Mount Vernon's third loss. Herrin is unranked, but holder of a 10-3 record.

Galesburg, Collinsville and Pinckneyville, all unbeaten and ranked 1-2-3, racked up customary wins.

Collinsville, now unbeaten in 11 tests, ran over the Alton Red Birds, ranked eighth, 82-50 for Alton's second loss of the campaign. The win gave Collinsville undisputed claim to southwestern supremacy.

Peoria Richwoods, which made the rankings for the first time this week in the 15 spot, tumbled tough, unbeaten Peoria Spalding 75-62 for a 10-1 season's slate to date.

Ottawa's Pirates, ranked fourth with the most impressive win list in the ranking column, leveled Rochelle 61-43 for their 14th win.

Galesburg, idle throughout holiday tourney action picked up where they left off three weeks ago, and dumped Blue Island 78-59. It was the season's eighth win for the undefeated Galesburg Streaks, ranked first.

Third - ranked Pinckneyville rolled by Duquoin 78-56 to post an 11-1 record. The Pincks dropped their first decision Tuesday night against Sparta.

Bridgeport made it 12 wins in a row by defeating Charleston 75-45, and Hutsonville rolled up its 14th win 69-47 against Graysville, Ind.

Fifth-ranked Rock Island upended Clinton of Iowa 64-46 for its 10th win against one loss.

Indiana Losses 96-95 Thriller To Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Larry Siegfried connected for a basket with only five seconds left to give Ohio State a 96-95 comeback victory over Indiana Saturday in a Big Ten struggle.

The field goal was Siegfried's only one of the contest.

A capacity crowd of 13,497, largest to see an Ohio State basketball game, and a regional television audience, witnessed the thriller. The win for the Buckeyes, now 2-0 in Big Ten standings, virtually eliminated the Hoosiers from any chance for a Western Conference crown as the setback saddled Indiana with its third straight conference defeat.

Ohio State's trio of sophs, Mel Nowell, John Havlicek and Jerry Lucas, paced the scoring column for the victors with 26, 21 and 20 points, respectively.

Herbie Lee hit 23 for the Hoosiers.

Indiana held a 95-92 advantage late in the game but Lucas tipped in a field goal to cut it to 95-94 with only 30 seconds left. Indiana, trying ball control, lost possession and the Bucks called time out with 17 seconds remaining to set up the winning basket.

LOU GEHRIG AWARD TO HODGES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gil Hodges, Los Angeles first baseman, Saturday was named recipient of the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award presented annually by Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The award goes to the player "best typifying the spirit of the New York Yankee hall of fame," minor league Chief George M. Trautman said.

Hodges, 35-year-old Indiana native now residing in Brooklyn, is one of the game's top hitters. He has a lifetime total of 345 homers, 11th on the major league list behind teammate Duke Snider with 354, Johnny Mize with 359, Joe Dimaggio with 361 and Ralph Kiner with 369.

Time Has Healed Some Of The Wounds For Floyd Patterson

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWTOWN, Conn. (AP) — The last time you saw Floyd Patterson he was walking slowly across the Yankee Stadium infield toward his dressing room, bearing the heavy burden of defeat. Ingemar Johansson's right hand had knocked him loose from the heavyweight championship of the world. Deep within lived the torture of a man who believed he had let his friends down.

For the first time in his life had been knocked out. Life for the next month was to be a series of empty stares out the window of his Rockville Centre, N.Y., home. His nightmares and daydreams were to be haunted by a handsome Swede and a big punch he never saw.

Six months — and a few days— have rolled by since that soggy June night of bitter disappointment. Time has healed some of the wounds but not all. He is back at work again at the only job he knows, preparing for the day when he gets another chance at Johansson.

Floyd spent the holidays at home with his wife, Sandra, and his two children, Seneca, 3, and Trina, 1. They won't see much of him from now on. His trainers, Dan Florio and Buster Watson, have taken up more or less permanent abode at this training camp. The other day a small party visited Patterson at camp about 80 miles from New York.

A handsome man who scowls even when he is smiling, Patterson didn't want to talk much about recent investigations of the promotion of his first fight, investigations that resulted in his manager, Cus D'Amato, having his New York license revoked.

"What did I think about the investigations?" he asked, repeating a question. "I was surprised like every body else. I didn't think certain people would go as far as they did. (What certain people?) People who would have liked to have been in on the promotion."

But Patterson was willing, almost anxious, to talk about the first Johansson fight and the days after.

"I felt I let my friends down," he said. "I was a big favorite, 4 to 1 or something like that, and I failed. It was hard to face.

"In the camp there was a reporter who kept saying Johansson was nothing. I asked him if I beat him what will they say. He told me they'd say 'you beat a bum'.

"In some ways it may even be good that I lost. If I beat him in the return fight, I might get some credit."

Was it a lucky punch?

"Absolutely not. It was timed that way. I got in a bad habit of bobbing and weaving straight up and down instead of side to side. I bobbed down and came straight up, right into that right hand. I never saw it coming or going."

Patterson admitted he had been very confident going into the fight.

"After the second round when I came back to my corner I said to myself: 'This guy has got absolutely nothing" . . . a little jab, annoying . . . I though to myself it is only a matter of time . . . I didn't realize it was only a matter of time—for me.

"It all added up to what I had heard. He didn't show anything in the gym. The reporters said he had nothing. Then I got hit."

The former champion said he had not looked at the movies of the fight.

"To watch myself in the agony I was supposed to have been in might make me brutal and vicious to no avail," he said. "I won't look at them until the fight is a month away."

Patterson still doesn't remember the first two of the seven knockdowns.

"The referee did the right thing in stopping it," he said. "But I felt I was just coming out of it. They say there were seven knockdowns. I only remember the last five.

"I have thought it over many times in my sleep and daydreams. I had thought in my subconscious mind that I wanted to slug with him. He kept backing up. I wanted to make him trade. This was on my mind. Then he caught me coming up.

"I heard the referee say something like 'neutral corner' or 'knockdown'. I knew I wasn't down so I figured it must be him. That must have been when I started that dream walk toward the neutral corner. The next thing I knew something back here (he patted the back of his head) hurt. It was like a sack of something fell on my head. It felt like my neck snapped. After that I just kept telling myself 'I've got to get up' because I thought I could dance around and shake it off."

Did Patterson think the knockout would make him gunshy?

"I'll be thinking about the knockout all right. But it won't be in a running manner. I'll be thinking about it in an aggressive manner."

The way he looked you straight in the eye you got the impression that there is some of the spirit that Joe Louis carried into his second Max Schmeling match all coiled up inside him.

"I've spent most of my time since June planning what I intend to do next time. If I didn't think I could beat him, I wouldn't want to fight him again. Right now, there is nothing I want more."

NCAA To Take A Good Look At Post Season All-Star Classics

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA is going to take a good look at post-season football and basketball all-star games involving college athletes.

The policy - making council of National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Saturday appointed a special committee to study the feasability and desirability of certifying such games. Now only bowl games involving teams representing NCAA-member colleges come under certification.

Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said: "The study is being made because of queries from other member colleges regarding the further athletic eligibility of students who play in the all-star games."

"Byers added, "It is not a direct result of complaints by officials of the Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala."

Earlier this week the Senior Bowl, the only post-season football game in which the players actually turn pro, complained it was being discriminated against because other post-season games were paying excessive expenses which topped the $600 maximum at the Senior Bowl. The "expenses" went unreported to the players' colleges.

The NCAA last year recommended any payments received by players in the Senior Bowl be deducted from their financial aid support given by the university.

Byers said the committee study was spurred chiefly by a desire to assure colleges that senior players in post-season games other than the Senior Bowl, will be eligible for sports played after the football and basketball season.

The council also discussed a proposal before the American Football Coaches Assn. for a mid-June college all-star game between East and West teams.

Cardinals To Play 48 Night Games At Home

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals will play 48 night games in Busch Stadium next season, 10 of them against the Milwaukee Braves, it was announced Saturday.

It is the Redbirds' heaviest after-dark log since 1955 when they scheduled 56 night games. Their 1950 schedule called for 47 night games.

They also scheduled 6 doubleheaders, including a July 4 twinbill against the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

All of the Cards' daytime activity will be confined to the weekends.

The Cards will open at home against the Chicago Cubs April 19, a week after the season begins.

Florida Hires Ray Graves

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP — Ray Graves signed a five-year contract Saturday as University of Florida head football coach and athletic director.

The contract formalities with Graves, top assistant to Coach Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech, were announced by Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, University president.

The 41-year-old Graves will receive $17,000 a year in his first job as head football coach.

Contract terms agreed upon by Dr. Reitz and the former University of Tennessee star center are expected to be approved next week at Tampa by the Board of Control, policy making group for state supported universities.

Graves succeeds Bob Woodruff who resigned Dec. 2.

Cincinnati Ace Is MVP In Senior Bowl

By STAN ATKINS

MOBILE Ala. (AP) — Cincinnati's great passer, Jack Lee, tossed for two touchdowns and directed the North to a 26-7 victory over the South All-Stars in the 11th annual Senior Bowl Saturday.

The slender Lee, named the game's Most Valuable Player, broke the game wide open early in the fourth quarter with a 73-yard touchdown toss to Syracuse's Gerhard Schwedes. Moments later he threw a 22-yard touchdown pass to his Cincinnati teammate, Ed Kovac. The latter came on fourth down and 11 shortly after end Curt Merz of Iowa covered a fumble by Mike Dowdle of Texas on the South 21.

In the third quarter, Lee set up a go-ahead touchdown with a 57-yard pass to Iowa's Don Norton, who was caught by Jim Mooty, Arkansas All - America, on the South 13. Jim Joyce, Maryland fullback, rammed over from the one five plays later.

The Northerners, with the dazzling Lee at the controls, had started off as though they were going to make a runaway of the game, as they did in the fourth period. The Yankees scored the first time they got the ball in the opening period.

After stopping the South on the first series after the kickoff, the North took over on its own 42. Ten plays later, the powerful Kovac plunged over the one to cap the 58-yard drive.

Schwedes got the drive under way with an 11-yard pass to Gary Cogdill of Washington State.

Syracuse's Bob Yates converted after the first and third touchdowns.

The South got its lone touchdown after a punt by Norton from inside his own end zone sliced off his shoe and went out of bounds on the North 13.

Georgia's Charley Britt passed to Tom Moore of Vanderbilt for a touchdown on the next play. Charley Milstead of Texas A&M converted to give the South a short-lived tie.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Russ Ahearn has the distinction of being the only coach to win twice at two different schools in leading Streator to the Kankakee Holiday tourney championship in 1958 and his Hebron five won the prize the same year the Green Giants won the State basketball championship at Champaign. The Kankakee Tournament has produced one state champion, a third-place winner, a fourth-place winner and seven other state tourney finalists.

Coach Chuck Rolinski of Toluca has a remarkable four year record as head basketball boss of the Wildcats. The Marshall County community of 1400 has watched the cage team become the powerhouse of the Tri-County area. His basketball teams have produced 81 wins and 12 losses with 11 straight wins this season. Last season, Rolinski's little cagers, with no players over 6-1, came within six seconds of reaching the Sweet Sixteen tourney. They had a remarkable 30-1 record last season and this year the Wildcats have more size and won their own Holiday tourney for the second consecutive year.

Coach Ty Franklin's Peoria Richwoods Knights are sporting the longest winning streak in the Mid State eight loop including the title in the First Annual Canton high Holiday tourney. The Knights are rated 15th in the State polls and have a tall center, 6-8 Roger Paluska, who missed the early games of the campaign with a kidney ailment. Pekin is the surprise team of the loop as Coach Bob Cain's Chinks have run up seven straight victories. Coach John Murphy has a high scorer at East Peoria high in Dick Quinn who established a new four-game Pontiac Holiday tourney record as the Red Raiders finished second in the consolation bracket.

Peoria Woodruff high is looking for the initial win in two years of competition in the Mid State eight basketball conference. Peoria Spalding is unbeaten and their new coach is Pat Callahan, Floyd Huffines, a fine sophomore from Taylorville, came off the bench to spark Tulsa U. against Bradley U. Thursday night. He is 6-0 and 175 pounds, being impressive with his outshooting while the Hurricanes have won three of 11 games.

Lewistown's new gymnasium will have permanent and roll-away bleachers for approximately 1600 spectators. It will handle two physical education classes at one time. The gym being used by the Indians of Lewistown high was built in 1930 and the building now housing the high school has been sold to the Lewistown grade school district for $151,000.

Canton high will meet Bloom (Chicago Heights) in the opening round of the Bloom four team tourney January 15-16. Marshall (Chicago) will play North Chicago in the other first round game. Last year Canton won third in the East St. Louis Holiday tourney beating the host five 69-60. Coach Joe Adam has a junior dominated club this season with only four seniors on the varsity squad.

Ray Wallis is the new basketball coach this season at Abingdon high and he is a graduate of Abingdon high and Western Illinois University. Don Viar is the athletic director and head football coach of the Commandos. Former Abingdon high basketball coaches include Howard Lester, Dickie Stearns, Don Viar, Bob Feck, Burt Clark and Dean Hill. Abingdon made two trips to the "Sweet Sixteen" tourneys.

Notre Dame Beats Detroit, 75-63

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's basketball team throttled Detroit 75-63 with a zone defense and inflicted the Titans' second defeat of 12 starts in an afternoon game Saturday.

The Irish, winning for the ninth time in 12 starts, jumped into a 7-0 lead and never trailed. Detroit twice cut the margin to a point but was down 34-29 at the half.

The Titans, who had been averaging 92 points a game, scored only one fielder in the first nine minutes of the second half and fell hopelessly behind.

Emmett McCarthy, Notre Dame senior from Chicago, and John Dearier, an Irish sophomore, scored 25 and 22 points, respectively. Sophomore Dave Debusschere was high for Detroit with 21.

Notre Dame's Bob Bradtke, who scored 21 points Tuesday night against Butler, suffered a wrenched knee only three minutes after the start of Saturday's game and may be lost for three or four weeks.

F. Osborne Elliott To Succeed F. R. Rantz As Bank President

Frank R. Rantz, president of the Elliott State Bank for 15 years, announced his retirement from that office at the annual meeting of directors last night. He will be succeeded as president by F. Osborne Elliott, great-grandson of the founder of the bank.

Mr. Rantz was elected chairman of the board by the directors. He joined the bank in 1919 and has been president since 1945.

F. Osborne Elliott, the newly-elected president, joined the institution in 1950 as vice president.

When the stockholders convened last night, it was the 93rd consecutive annual session.

The retiring president announced that the modernization and additions to the bank had been successfully completed during the past year. He told the stockholders that public acceptance of the new walk-up and drive-in facilities had been most gratifying.

During the year $100,000 was added to surplus, giving the bank total capital funds of over $1,385,000, a new all time high.

Theodore C. Rammelkamp, partner of the law firm Robinson, Foreman, Rammelkamp, Bradney and Hall, was elected a director of the bank.

The following directors were re-elected: Walter Bellatti, F. Osborne Elliott, Frank R. Elliott, William B. Elliott, William A. Fay, Hugh Gibson, Chester A. Hemphill, Herbert W. Keadey, Dr. F. Garm Norbury, Frank R. Rantz and Maurice F. Walsh.

Charles A. Johnson and Dr. Frank A. Norris remain as members of the bank's Senior Advisory Board.

At the directors' session following the stockholders meeting Rollyn B. Trotter, who has been cashier since 1949, was elected vice president and cashier.

Harry Clarke Takes Own Life By Shotgun

Harry Everett Clarke, 71, was found dead about 8:50 a.m. Saturday in an upstairs room at 328 West Court Street, by the landlord, W. E. Coats. Clarke had not been seen by other residents of the rooming house since Thursday afternoon.

Coates called Coroner Elmer O. Sample and the police department after finding Clarke.

Coroner Sample, Capt. Wilbur Stafford and Sgt. Ernest Smith made an investigation at the scene. They found Clarke lying in bed with a shotgun alongside his body. One shell had been fired into the right temple. The impact of the gun broke a small window in the upstairs room.

Hold Inquest

A coroner's inquest was held at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at the Gillham Funeral home. The jury determined death to be caused by "a self-inflicted shotgun wound . . . while despondent."

W. E. Coates testified that Clarke had been despondent for the past few months. Clarke had planned to move to Chandlerville soon and was thought to have moved out. Coates decided to check the room Saturday morning and found the body.

A note found on a nearby dresser indicated he was "taking the easy way out." An examining physician determined death to be "at least 24 hours previous to finding the body."

Coates said he and a friend heard a loud noise about 4 o'clock Thursday but thought it was the furnace or a jet.

Former Catcher

Clarke was well known in and around Jacksonville for his feats as a baseball catcher. He was a star player on the old Jacksonville Indees, a semi-pro baseball team about the turn of the century.

He was also a member of the Jacksonville fire department for several years. Recently, he was employed as an orderly at Our Saviour's hospital.

He was born March 4, 1888, the son of Peter F. and Grimp Gabble Clarke at Scottville.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Edith Hill, Lindsay, Calif., and Mrs. Elizabeth Tefft, Pasadena, Calif.

The body was removed to the Gillham Funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Members of the inquest jury were: Halbert L. Gurley, foreman; Stewart Whitacre, Russell Lovell, Gertrude Lambert, Mary Stewart and Harriet E. Moss.

Births

Passavant hospital maternity ward experienced one of its busiest days Friday. The following births were reported:

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Barber of Alsey became parents of a son born at 8:05 p.m., weight seven pounds and ten ounces.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaufmann, 401 East Superior avenue, became parents of a son born at 5:24 a.m. at Passavant hospital, weight seven pounds, six and one-half ounces.

A daughter was born at 6:30 a.m. Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Twyford of Chatham, weighing seven pounds, eleven and one fourth ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davidson, 150 Kentucky street, became parents of a son born at 8:22 a.m. Saturday at Passavant hospital, weight seven pounds and four ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stottler, Franklin route one, became parents of a daughter born at 8:57 a.m. Saturday at Passavant hospital, weight six pounds and 15 ounces.

CHARGED SATURDAY WITH ASSAULT

James Carter of Jacksonville was charged with assault and battery and disturbing the peace Saturday in the court of Justice Charles K. Warzar.

Carter was charged in connection with a fight early Saturday morning on North Main street. The complaint was signed by Jimmie Williams, also of Jacksonville.

Carter entered a plea of guilty and was assessed a fine of $25 and costs.

Youths To Stand Trial For Damages At Scott School

WINCHESTER — Ten youths from both Morgan and Scott counties were arraigned in Winchester City Police Court Friday night on charges growing out of damage which was done to the newly seeded lawn at the Winchester Grade School. City Magistrate Orin V. Duncan presided.

Officer Carl Anders, complaining officer in the case, asked that charges be changed from criminal to civil jurisdiction. Following the action the defendants were allowed to make their pleas. Five of them pleaded guilty and the remainder will stand trial on Saturdays, Jan. 16 and 23.

They were released on their recognizance by the magistrate without bond. Acting for the prosecution in the suits Jan. 16 and 23 will be City Attorney Richard Mann.

The youths were apprehended Tuesday evening after citizens near the school complained that they were making a disturbance by playing tag in cars on the school lawn. The arrests were made around midnight.

Literature and Arts

The Literature and Arts Department of the Winchester Woman's Club will hold a one o'clock luncheon Monday, Jan. 11, at the First Christian Church. Mrs. Orin V. Duncan will speak on antiques.

The members are asked to bring a favorite antique for roll call. Hostesses will be Mrs. C. M. Danner, Mrs. Roy Thears, and Miss Mae Reeder.

Drivers Injured In Head-On Crash

The drivers of the two cars above were rushed to Our Saviour's hospital by Slavens ambulance about 5:30 p.m. Saturday following a head-on crash about 1 mile east of the city on Routes 36, 54 and 104 in front of the Silver Star tavern.

Lloyd V. Cummings, 42, of New Berlin, driver of the car at lower left, was headed west at the time of the accident. The auto was towed to the Arthalony garage. Cummings was released after treatment.

Amos A. Glasgow, 69, of 313 East Beecher, driver of car at upper right, was headed east at the time of the accident. Glasgow remained as a patient at the hospital but was not seriously injured. The auto was towed to the Brummett garage.

The left front of both autos was badly damaged. Cause of the accident was not determined.

State Troopers Charles Staton and Charles Pritchard made the investigation at the scene of the accident.

DRIVER GETS GOAT IN SCOTT

Agreed — sometimes traffic conditions become so confusing they almost "get your goat." Few drivers, however, ever really do "get their goat."

Mrs. Margaret Hoots of Winchester got hers (goat) Saturday evening about 6 o'clock while driving on Routes 36-54, five miles west of Winchester.

Mrs. Hoots suddenly came upon a goat strolling down the highway. She tried to stop in time but it was too late — she crashed head-on with the goat.

The car was heavily damaged on the front end. The goat? It was last seen walking away from the auto, rather indignant. The goat is owned by Stanley Simmons of Winchester.

Mrs. Hoots was not injured in the crash.

State Trooper Charles Pritchard attended at the scene of the accident.

130 Blood Donors In Jersey County

JERSEYVILLE — Two persons qualified for two-gallon pins and ten persons for the gallon pin at the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Jersey county. The two gallon donors were Mrs. Jonetta Maupin and Otto Langer.

Donors completing their first gallon contribution were: Mrs. Theresa Schleper, Mrs. Gertrude Isringhausen, Mrs. Opal Powell, Mrs. Mary Halter, Tom Lock, Barry Ritter, George Embley and James McLaren of Jerseyville; Martin Schroeder of Dow and Mrs. Laverne Perdun of Brighton.

There were 130 donors at the visit of the Bloodmobile, fourteen of whom presented themselves for the first time.

Sixty-one residents of Jersey County volunteered their services for the collection of the blood. Professional services were donated by a group of five registered nurses and by the Jersey County Medical Society.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion who handled the equipment for the blood station were Dave Molohon, Ollie Wendle, Ted Beiermann, Virgil Meyers, Ray Sweetman, Dean Woolsey, Joe Woolsey, Walter Egelhoff and Howard Bridges.

Chickenpox and measles are making inroads in attendance of elementary schools of Jacksonville, but school and health officials regard the epidemic as seasonal handicaps. They said that these childhood diseases usually plague the term, at one time or another.

At Washington school about half of one first grade class has suffered attacks of chickenpox during the past week. Measles also is reported as cause for considerable absenteeism at Lincoln school.

Supt J. A. Mann of District 117 said Saturday the wave of chickenpox and measles moved in suddenly, as there was almost 100 per cent attendance in all schools immediately after the Christmas holidays. He said no figures have been compiled on absenteeism caused by the two diseases.

Dr. James W. Chapman, Morgan county health officer, said chickenpox and measles usually appear later in the school year. Once subject to quarantine, these diseases now are not included under any special regulations. Most of the young victims are able to return to their class rooms after a few days or a week at home.

VOTE FOR COURTESY
'Friendliest--Most Courteous' Employee Awards

My Name Is .....

My Address Is .....

I vote for the following for the awards:
"Friendliest, Most Courteous" WOMAN EMPLOYEE

Name .....

Place of Business .....

"Friendliest, Most Courteous" MAN EMPLOYEE

Name .....

Place of Business .....

Yes, Jacksonville is—FRIENDLY! We can be proud of our residents—their hospitality extended to all. At our places of business: our employees are friendly folks. Yet, do we "slip a bit" at times? Can we all be FRIENDLIER? Isn't it an idea to, each day, think of this: "LET'S MAKE JACKSONVILLE THE FRIENDLIEST CITY IN ILLINOIS. Bear in mind: the person whom you don't know may be "just passing through"—may be "looking our town over" with the idea of "locating here"—regardless, you will give that person "his or her impression" of our city.

Clip out; fill in; and, please send or bring the above ballot to the Journal Courier office or deposit it in the lobby of the Elliott State Bank or The Farmers State Bank. Voting ends Saturday, February 6. Announcement of the winners will be made in the "Saluting The Employees" edition in March. Vote as often as you wish: use only this award ballot.

Hubbell, Former Greenfield Coach, Apparent Suicide

GREENFIELD—Word has been received in Greenfield that Chlorus F. Hubbell, 50, former superintendent of Flora, Ill., schools, was found dead of a shotgun wound at his home in that city, Friday, December 11th.

Hubbell's body was found in a storage room in the carport of his home. Death was caused by a shotgun wound, according to Coroner Charles Briscoe of Clay county who said it was "apparent suicide."

Hubbell had been ill and had recently resigned his position as superintendent of the Flora schools. He was better known as "Fuzz," and was a former star athlete at Flora High and McKendree College and had been athletic coach at Pleasant Hill, Ill., High School, Greenfield High and Girard High in the 30's.

He is survived by his wife and daughter.

CHANDLERVILLE — Eva Pearl Meggee, widow of Charles Meggee, died at 9:00 p.m., Friday, January 8, at the Mason District Hospital where she had been a patient for the past ten days.

Mrs. Meggee was born in Bath in 1884. Her husband preceded her in death in 1947.

Surviving Mrs. Meggee are one son, William Meggee of Bath; three daughters, Miss Verene Meggee and Mrs. Katherine Haggerty of Bath and Mrs. Alberta Cooley of Peoria; and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Verla Connolly of Bath.

One sister, Mrs. Lilly Turner of Bath, and two brothers, William and Clinton Lindsay of Bath also survive.

The funeral will be held Monday, Jan. 11, at 2:00 p.m., at the Bath Methodist church with Rev. Dean Benton officiating. Burial will follow in the Bath cemetery.

Friends may call at the Lintner funeral home in Chandlerville Sunday afternoon and evening and at the Bath Methodist church Monday after 1:00 p.m.

Boy In Hospital After Bicycle, Auto Collision

An auto driven by Howard G. Moore, 415 N. Fayette and a bicycle, ridden by Jimmy Manes, 1701 S. Main, collided about 9:40 p.m. Friday on S. Main, near the intersection of Main and Michigan streets.

Moore was going south on Main when the accident occurred. The bicycle was badly damaged and the auto's right front fender was damaged.

Jimmy Manes was taken by Slavens ambulance to Passavant hospital for treatment and X-ray examination. He was admitted for further treatment.

RECEIVES WORD OF COUSIN'S DEATH

JERSEYVILLE — A telegram was received Tuesday by Mrs. Edward Allen of this city informing her of the death of Mrs. Raymond McMahon which occurred suddenly that morning at her home in Van Nuys, Calif. Funeral services and interment were there Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. McMahon's husband is a cousin of Mrs. Allen, Miss Ann McGuire and John J. McGuire of this city. He was born and reared in Carrollton and is well known in Jerseyville where he often visited.

Jacksonville's Most Affable, Helpful Employees Can Win

Jacksonville—Headquarters City for a five-county shopping area—is known far and wide as a friendly, smiling city, but it always is wise to take stock of the situation now and then. For instance:

Do you enjoy shopping in Jacksonville? How friendly and cooperative are the stores? How helpful are the employees in retail shops and in offices? Do they make you want to come back again and again?

Favorable answers undoubtedly would be given in most instances. Jacksonville has that kind of a reputation. And the persons who give it that friendly, cooperative reputation are the sales and office personnel who meet the public.

To further this fine reputation and to bestow honor upon those to whom honor is due, The Jacksonville Journal and Courier today begins asking its readers two questions:

1. Who is Jacksonville's "friendliest and most courteous" woman employee?

2. Who is Jacksonville's "friendliest and most courteous" man employee?

Everybody is asked to help make the important decision. It's a four-week voting campaign, without obligation on the balloting.

Courtesy Club

Each person nominated for the "Friendliest, Most Courteous" Employee Awards automatically becomes a member of Jacksonville's "Courtesy Club." A "Courtesy Club" membership card will be presented each employee nominated by ballot in the current campaign.

The woman employee and the man employee receiving the highest number of votes each will receive a $50 U. S. Savings Bond and a framed certificate, to be presented publicly by the Jacksonville Journal and Courier.

Store owners and managers are not eligible as contestants in the voting.

The winners will be determined by readers of the Journal and Courier. Everyone can and is urged to vote. The only stipulation is that voters use the special award ballot which will be published daily in the Journal and Courier. Voters may cast as many ballots as they wish.

Winners of the "Friendliest, Most Courteous" Employee Awards will be announced in a "Saluting the Employees" edition of the Journal and Courier to be published in March. The edition will spotlight the sales and service personnel, presenting them as the friendly persons who serve the needs of Jacksonville and surrounding trade area.

Prompt Voting Urged

The voting will close Saturday, February 6, allowing plenty of time to cast extra ballots for those whom the voters consider deserving of the special awards.

Voters, however, are urged to get started right now, clipping and marking the ballot which appears on this page. Ballots may be left at the Journal Courier office, The Farmers State Bank and Trust Company and Elliott State Bank and Trust Company. A special ballot box will be located in the lobby of both banks. Ballots may also be mailed to the Journal Courier.

The current campaign places emphasis on friendly services throughout the city and recognizes the outstanding proponents of courtesy and friendliness.

48 Fined For Failure To Pay Wheel Tax

Forty-eight citizens and firms who had not obtained city wheel tax stickers, due last Nov. 1, were each fined $10 Saturday morning in the court of Police Magistrate Fred Daniels after pleas of guilty. In addition to the fines, each defendant must secure a sticker at a cost of $5.

As the court processed each case, many of the defendants went to the second floor of the city hall and purchased stickers at the office of City Treasurer Ilma B. Cline.

Attend Services For Three Killed In Accident

VIRGINIA—Mrs. M. L. York, Mrs. Elmer Carlson and other relatives were in Cuba, Ill., Saturday to attend funeral services for Mrs. Mary Lou Mallicoat DeVard, 30, her 8-month son, Jerry Curtis, and 4-year-old daughter, Betty Lynn, all of Cuba. Mrs. DeVard is a daughter of Mrs. Dora Jarrett Mallicoat, and the late Walker Mallicoat, formerly of Virginia.

A station wagon and a truck collided Wednesday night, killing the mother and two children, about two miles west of Canton. According to the police, Larry DeVard, the husband and father, was driver of a station wagon which collided with the side of a truck, Orville Jackson, 42, a driver for the R. E. Flower Trucking Co., of Canton, was backing into the driveway of his home, Jackson was not injured. DeVard is in a critical condition.

Funeral services for the mother and children were held in Cuba Saturday afternoon, and burial was in the Cuba cemetery.

Blown Fuse Causes Alarm At Nurses' Home

Local firemen answered two alarms Saturday, neither of which proved serious. At 1:38 p.m. they were summoned for a fire in the Stocker addition to the city. The blaze, in grass, was extinguished by booster lines and a pressure can. Cause of the fire apparently was a trash burner in the vicinity.

At 6:55 p.m. they were summoned to the Our Saviour's Hospital Nursing Home where an electrical disturbance caused alarm. An electric radio had become defective causing a fuse to blow out. The action produced an odor which aroused the residents of the house. The defective equipment was disconnected.

AGRICULTURAL PRICES DECEMBER 15, 1959

ILLINOIS:—The all commodity index of prices received by Illinois farmers on December 15, 1959 at 209 percent of the 1910-14 base, was 8 points or 4 percent below the previous month and 28 points or 12 percent below the same date last year. The all crops index for December, at 182 percent of base, was one point below the previous month and was 2 points or one percent above the level of a year ago. Compared with November, mid-December corn prices were down one cent, soybeans down 3 cents and wheat down 2 cents.

The index of livestock and livestock products was 223 percent of base, 11 points or 5 percent below the previous month and 43 points or 16 percent below a year ago. Beef cattle prices at mid-December were down $1.00 per cwt. from mid-November and hog prices were down $1.10.

The hog-corn ratio (bushels of corn equal in value to 100 pounds hog, live weight) was 11.2 compared with 17.0 a year ago.

Holstein Herd Tops In Jersey

JERSEYVILLE — The John Wehrly, Jr., Holstein herd of the Jersey County Dairy Herd Improvement association was first for the past month with an average production of 1,080 pounds of milk and 44.4 pounds of butterfat according to Harold Burch, tester for the local association.

Kenneth Robinson's herd of Kane was second; the herd of M. S. McColliser, third; Joe and Edward Fessler of Dow, fourth, and Frank Tracy and Son of Jerseyville, fifth.

Burch reported that the 373 cows in the association averaged 780 pounds of milk and 32.7 pounds of butterfat during September. The top cow of the association, a grade Holstein owned by Kenneth Robinson, finished a 305 day lactation with 18,100 pounds of milk and 653 pounds of fat. Robinson also had a registered Holstein which finished a 305 lactation during December with 16,300 pounds of milk and 566 pounds of fat and finished fourth in the association.

Charles Brannan Is Guest Speaker At Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD — There were 200 reservations for a dinner at the Orr Memorial Hall on Monday evening given by the Pike County Soil Conservation District of which Joe Graham is the Work Unit Conservationist. Wendell Orr was the chairman. Following the dinner, served by the Methodist women, Orr introduced Ralph Bradley of Springfield, the president of the Illinois Farmers Union, who spoke briefly.

Bradley then introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Charles F. Brannan, who served under President Franklin Roosevelt and later under President Harry Truman as Secretary of Agriculture. He has received honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws from the University of Denver and Doctor of Science from Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical College. He also served as honorary member of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Accounting, Tax School Jan. 14

Farm Adviser George Trull announces the annual farm accounting and income tax meeting will be held at Farm Bureau hall at 1:15 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 14.

George Whitman, U.I. extension specialist in farm accounting, will lead the discussion and will answer the questions that come up.

Trull says, "This meeting is of course, as are all Extension meetings, open to the public, but it is primarily held for those farmers who use the Illinois Farm Record Book.

"We have county standards which will enable you to make comparisons of your production with county averages. You will also receive a copy of the 1960 Farmers Tax Guide."

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

(A round-up of the week's work, activities and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station, near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by H. A. Cate.)

The addition of Gary Metcalf has increased the Dixon Springs staff to ten. Gary will work with Bob Gilmore in forestry research. He will be working primarily with growth studies in pine plantations.

Gary is a native of Kansas but came to Dixon Springs via Georgia, where he graduated from the school of Forestry at the University of Georgia. The Metcalfs, Gary, his wife, Elinor, and four-year-old daughter, Joyce Ann, are living in Metropolis.

Pine Growth Studies

Fertilizers are important to the growth of pines, but we cannot say the same for the survival of planted pine seedlings. For example, different species of pines planted several years ago at the Elizabethtown Soils Experiment Field survived poorly when heavily fertilized.

Survival and growth are excellent on the untreated plots. The poor survival on the fertilized plots may be the result of a rank growth of weeds that compete with the pines for light and moisture.

Also, lime treatment has suppressed the growth of pines compared with pines planted on the untreated plots. The lime plots have received a total of ten tons of lime an acre during the past 40 years. Bob Gilmore, forestry researcher, says the complete results of the growth study will be published soon.

Beef Cattle Days

The week of Feb. 8 will be a busy one here at Dixon Springs. That is the week of Beef Cattle Days. The program will start at 9:30 each morning with discussion of the following subjects: (1) year-round feeding program for the beef herd; (2) a pasture and supplemental feeding program for beef steers; (3) parasite and disease control; (4) roughage-to-concentrate ration for fattening cattle; and (5) research from other stations that applies to Illinois cattle feeding. Lunch will be served at noon, and the time from 1 to 3 p.m. will be devoted to a Station tour. The tour will feature experimental feed lots, a time-of-calving study, a feed-processing plant, a production-testing demonstration and a cattle-grading demonstration.

Schedule for Beef Cattle Days

Feb. 8 — All counties outside District V—those not listed for other days.

Feb. 9—Pope-Hardin, Gallatin, White, Wabash, Edwards.

Feb. 10—Monroe, Johnson, Saline, Hamilton, Wayne.

Feb. 11 — Union, Williamson, Franklin, Jefferson.

Feb. 12 — Pulaski-Alexander, Jackson, Perry, Randolph, Washington.

All groups or counties planning to attend on Monday, Feb. 8, should notify Bob Cate, Dixon Springs Experiment Station, Robbs, Ill., so that we'll know how many to plan on for lunch.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

HOG PRODUCTION CUT MAY PUT PRICES IN $14 TO $18 RANGE

The hog cycle has definitely turned the corner. Farmers have already stopped increasing hog production, and they plan to slash the 1960 spring pig crop by 11 percent. This should put hog prices into the $14 to $18 range for the last half of the year.

This forecast is based largely on the USDA pig crop report released late in December. The same report also gives some facts for setting up price expectations for the winter and spring, or the first half of 1960.

The USDA report covered December 1 conditions. It showed that farmers had about the same number of pigs under six months old on hand then as they had a year before. These are the pigs that will make pork in the first six months of 1960.

Actual marketings of hogs may be a little larger in this period than in 1959. The reason is that farmers were holding back breeding stock in the first half of 1959, and they may be liquidating in the first half of 1960. We would put prospective market supplies 3 to 5 percent higher for this next six months than they were in 1959.

The USDA report indicates that marketings will be relatively lighter in the second quarter than in the first. Furthermore, prices will be starting in January from a level about $6 to $7 lower than the year before. This situation suggests the possibility of rather sharp price rises at times during the first half of the year.

September, as usual, was the month of largest fall farrowings. Over 25 percent of the total fall (June-November) farrowings occurred in that month. Only 13 percent came in October and 7 percent in November. December farrowings, which will count in the 1960 spring pig crop season, were a little larger than those of November. This farrowing pattern points to May, June and July as the months of smallest market supplies of barrows and gilts.

Market receipts of sows, usually largest in June, July and August, should be smaller this year than they were in 1959. This will add some strength to the market for barrows and gilts during the early summer.

In relation to human population, the 1959 fall pig crop was about the largest of the past 10 years. By contrast, the 1960 spring pig crop will be the second smallest. Only in 1953 were there fewer spring pigs in comparison with population than are in prospect for 1960.

The prospective cut in hog production and the boost in prices will put some money into hog producers' near-empty pockets in 1960. A further cut could add even more cash in 1961. But the higher hog prices go, the farther they can fall. Prudent farmers will save some of their profits from the better years to get by in the poorer ones.

Soybean Seed Treatment May Be Beneficial

Home-grown soybean seed might be in line for treatment to step up germination. Weathering appears to have lowered the quality of some of last season's crop.

Cracked seed coats caused by harvesting dry beans are also thought to be a reason for some of the low-germinating seed tested recently.

M. P. Britton says the high-quality seed planted in most years doesn't make treatment worth while. But he urges farmers planning to use home-grown seed next spring to see their farm adviser about having it tested for germination first. The State Department of Agriculture, Springfield, will make the test free of charge.

Britton recommends treatment if germination ranges from 65 to 79 percent. If it's below 65 percent, seed treatment plus an increase in seeding rate is in order.

Arasan and Spergon are the seed treatments with the best records in midwest trials. They should be applied at 2 ounces per bushel, and the job should be done right away, before fungi and bacteria have a chance to lower germination further during storage.

Farmers shouldn't look for treatment to completely rejuvenate low-germinating seed, Britton adds. Certified seed is their best guarantee of high germination.

Some parts of the state did not experience this difficulty in harvesting. If you do not prefer to use home grown seed, you can probably find high quality seed produced by other growers.

Pay Now, Go Later—

The figures indicate that the airlines are becoming the dominant carrier of passenger traffic in this country.

Nevertheless they still have much to learn about serving the public in times of crush and crisis.

As soon as a few flights are canceled, things seem to fall apart. The worst part about it is that passengers on canceled trips get to feeling like orphans. Nobody wants them. One minute they were ticketed passengers on a first-class flight, the next they are 60 people in search of a plane to ride in.

To cap the confusion, the airlines, never too good in the best of times at informing passengers and interested parties of the whereabouts of planes aloft, landing times and so on, bring misinformation to high pitch when trouble starts.

Someday they may find a way to keep chaos confined and to report unhappy facts of delays and cancellations with accuracy. We're all waiting.

Moon Shots Ranked No.1 Even In '59

(From The Bloomington Pantagraph)

The Gallup world poll results reveal that, aside from the military advantage Russia gained by leading in exploration of outer space, she has scored a smashing propaganda victory.

Moon shot rocket achievements took first place as the outstanding event of 1959. Most of these achievements were Russian.

The USSR successes in 1959 had their beginning years ago. Russia decided soon after World War II to concentrate on missiles. The U.S. gambled on more or less conventional weapons propelled in some cases by nuclear power.

This country has since placed new emphasis on outer space developments but we have been beset by failures which have kept us well behind the Soviet achievements.

Moon shot rocket achievements may turn out to be not only the outstanding event of 1959. This development could very well be tops for the decade, or the last half of the 20th century.

"Man vs. the Machine" has long been a favorite subject of science fiction writers, with human beings generally getting the bad end of the deal. Similar direful predictions by nonfictitious scientists are a little more recent.

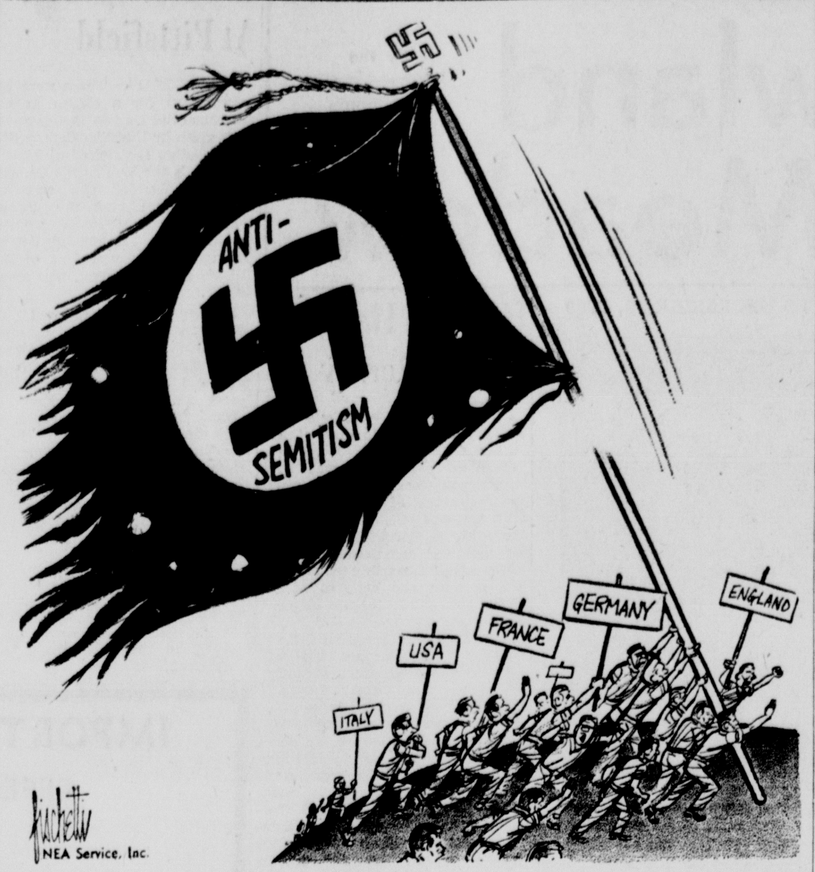

One of them, Dr. Norbert Weiner, warned at the 126th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Chicago that electronic brains may be smarter than we believe, and that our power to unplug them may be no defense because of the sluggishness of our thinking processes compared to theirs.

But all is not yet gloom. Another scientist, E. C. Berkeley, described his machine that has the ability to talk about the weather. Judging from the reported dialogue between it and a man, the talk was about as unimaginative as all such conversations have ever been.

Machines may talk about the weather, but they never do anything about it.

Yet.

Snitching on Their Boss Takes the GOP Cake; Seems Like 'Ain't' Just Ain't in Their Vocabulary

BY JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Every time several Republican National Committee members see their boss, Sen. Thurston Morton (R-Ky.), they have a hard time hiding the guilty look on their faces. Reason for their embarrassment stems from a fit of hunger that occurred at committee headquarters.

One morning while Morton was away, a delivery boy arrived with a gigantic cake for "Chairman Morton and Staff." The 2 x 3-foot, triple-layer present had been baked by Mrs. J. Willard Marriott, D.C. national committeewoman.

Several secretaries decided that they would sample it. They were soon joined by other staff members. There were only crumbs left when Morton arrived about 30 minutes later.

While Chatting recently with a group of Texas politicians, Sen. Bob. Kerr (D-Okla.) cracked:

"I have a lot in common with your Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough. We are all against combines—that is, all those that our states ain't in on."

The gag got such a big laugh that Kerr decided to use it again on a group of politicos from Massachusetts. This time, however, he compared himself with Massachusetts Senators John Kennedy and Leverett Saltonstall.

The only reaction was dead silence. Kerr guesses the Massachusetts audience did not understand the southern term "ain't."

A Local restaurant has the following slogan printed on its menus: "What Foods We Morsels Be!"

Heard About the annual "dubutante" ball tossed by Washington social arbiter Mary Stuart Montague Price? The affair is a men's take-off of debutante parties. It calls for a select group of guys to dress up in crazy costumes and be presented to society.

For its most recent session, the "Dubs" wore formal attire minus the trousers. Instead they had on black bathing suits or Bermuda shorts.

Upon seeing them, a shocked bellhop hurried to Miss Price and gasped: "Ma'am, we have a problem. Some of your guests just arrived half naked.

During The Ball's intermission, the Dubs presented a skit about an international summit conference. The Dub who played Konrad Adenauer was 20-year-old Peter Knop from Trinity College. He was born and raised in Germany.

That's why at rehearsal the director was shocked when Peter said he would have to play his part without a German accent. "For the last eight years," he explained, "I have been concentrating on speaking English without an accent. I guess I have learned how, because as hard as I try I can't sound like a German any more."

Rep. Bill Ayers (R-Ohio) tells this one:

A dignified Capitalist was describing an exclusive Georgetown restaurant to an out-of-town friend. "We'll go there and talk over old times," he said. "It's one of the few places in town where you can relax and really enjoy rapport."

"I don't care for French food," his friend replied. "If it's okay with you I'll just order a steak."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a quiet statement, without sparks.

Read President Eisenhower's State of the Union Message to Congress Thursday and you'll find no indication he expects an angry or even unusual year. On the contrary.

Peace and prosperity were central points in what he said.

They are expected to provide the Republicans' political theme song for 1960 and their main selling point to the voters in the presidential election.

There will, of course, be some struggles in Congress between Democrats and Republicans, between Southern Democrats and Northern Democrats, between conservative Republicans and liberal Republicans.

And there will probably be some tiffs between Eisenhower and the Democrats, but mild. All this would be par for the course in any year. But nothing more than that is indicated by congressional reaction to the message.

With some exceptions, it was a sort of "yes, indeed, it's a very nice message" reaction. There was more criticism of what it didn't say than of what it did.

Eisenhower spoke pretty much in generalities.

He touched on a number of issues but the key question is how far he intends to go on any of them, to push them, to fight for them. That won't be answered until and unless he follows up with specific proposals.

One of those proposals called for federal officials to register voters in cases where local registrars discriminated against them. This week word came from the administration that it does not intend to support this part of the commission's proposals.

This will be a point of confusion all year unless Eisenhower soon gets down to cases and in a special message to Congress, or in some other way, say exactly what he'd like Congress to do.

The President, just as he did last year, protested against inflation and asked for restraint in spending. It is one of the ironies of our age that while he was doing that he was also doing this:

He said this year's budget of government spending—he will go into complete detail on this later in a message to Congress—will be almost 80 billion dollars, a peacetime record.

Yet, he said, he expects the government to spend all this and still have around four billion dollars left over from its revenues. In other words: He expects to balance the budget and have a surplus left.

With the nation's growing population and, consequently, the government's growing responsibilities at home and abroad, government spending is likely to get bigger year by year (and its income, too) unless there is disarmament.

Even in the field of peace, arms control and disarmament Eisenhower didn't try to get specific. This of course was one field — since it involves the unpredictable Soviets — where he couldn't get specific.

He seemed to be preparing the nation against excited expectations about his journeys abroad and this year's summit conference. He pointedly warned against quick solutions.

He put it this way: "We cannot expect sudden and revolutionary results. But we must find some place to begin."

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Ministry of Christians

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

There is a distinction, I think, between the Christian ministry, and the ministry of Christians. The former suggests an ordained and professional class of churchmen; the latter the activity and influence of Christians who have no official standing, but who none the less exercise a very real ministry.

It is of the latter class that I should like to speak.

Some years ago, when I was Congregational minister in Brantford, Ontario, a local labor leader came to my door to ask if I would address a union meeting.

He said that he thought that perhaps they were too exclusively occupied with the material interests, and that they would like to have speakers come occasionally to speak of cultural or spiritual matters.

Of course I agreed to go, but as I invited him in and we chatted I naturally asked him about his church connection. He told me that he was brought up in England in the Church of England, but he was not now connected with, or attending any church. He was a Socialist, more humanistic and sentimental than the Marxist faction.

I half seriously suggested that he might do worse than drop into my church sometime. Actually he did, and became very active in a "social progress" class.

It was not long until he went back to his own Anglican church, and became active as a lay reader. He was not ordained, but he became a full-time worker and preacher, and I am sure that with his natural qualifications and his experience he became valuable and effective in his ministry as a Christian.

In the Congregational and other so-called "free" churches there would be nothing to prevent such men becoming full pastors, if a church deemed them fitting and called them.

In contrast, a provision in a proposed constitution for the "United Church," in which many Congregational churches are being merged—many would make a requirement of entrance into the ministry college and seminary training, and in a seminary officially authorized or recognized. Also, entrance into the Congregational ministry from another denomination would be hedged by formal requirements.

I cannot here discuss such provisions, but it is interesting to wonder what the effect would have been if they had operated in the past.

The great evangelist D. L. Moody could not have become the minister of a church adhering to these restrictions. For I believe he never had had either college or seminary training. Eminent Congregationalists, like Charles R. Brown, of Yale University, and Charles E. Jefferson, of Broadway Tabernacle in New York, who came from Methodism, might not have found admission or might have found the inhibitions too distasteful.

I would apologize for devoting a column to a matter that is of so much interest to myself, were it not that it concerns a much larger constituency deeply concerned about the encroachments of formalism and officialdom upon the practice of free Christian fellowship.

NOT SO FUNNY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—People have a right not to be molested by practical jokers.

So ruled Municipal Judge James M. McDonnel in fining Howard H. Marg $26.50 for squirting a blue liquid on Beth L. Miller.

"It was just a practical joke," argued Marg, explaining the liquid is harmless and evaporates without leaving a stain.

But Judge McDonnel dismissed the argument, holding, "Practical jokes can be obnoxious to the recipient."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Art Carney tried his hand Friday night with "The Man in the Dog Suit," which Hume Cronyn played on Broadway last season.

The stage play was a failure, and the TV version must be tallied a miss, too. It's hard to resist a line that might have appeared in the dialogue: it was all bark and no bite.

The plot concerned a meek bank clerk who kicks over the traces. Film and TV legend would have us believe the world is full of meek, trace-kicking bank clerks. This one finds his virility by impersonating a German shepherd at a costume party. His antics appall his bank-owning in-laws, a tiresome group.

The trouble was that the treatment wasn't broad enough to be farce. The comedy consisted of a female drunk and lines like "Every dog has his day," "I have a bone to pick with you," and "You should have married a Doberman."

GARB FOR LAYMEN

NEW YORK (AP)—A prominent Presbyterian minister says lay people should have as much right to wear clerical garb as clergymen.

Clergymen, says the Rev. Dr. James W. Bell, whether they be "priests, bishops or popes are neither different to other Christians nor superior to them.

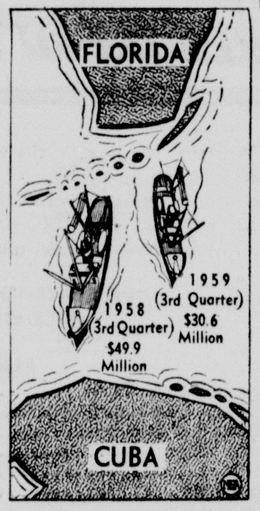

"Such a dramatization (laymen in clerical garb) of Protestant conviction will sweep away all clerical pretentions to superiority and all clerical claims to special privilege."

The Rev. Dr. Bell, counselor to Protestant students at Columbia University, made his observation in a recent sermon.

Improper Diet Will Make The Elderly Age Faster

BY MARIE DAERR

Put the accent on proteins.

Don't skimp on eggs, meat and milk, even if you have to make sacrifices on other items in your budget.

This advice comes from a Los Angeles Veterans Administration research team, headed by Dr. Stewart G. Tuttle.

"Older people apparently have a greater need for the essential amino acids and protein constituents found largely in eggs, meat and milk, than do younger folks," said Dr. Tuttle. "Yet we find that people over 50 tend to eat diets that are low in these foods."

The team's study suggests that going light on these foods tends to make people more susceptible to the degenerative diseases and speeds up aging.

At a recent meeting of the Gerontological Society in Detroit, Prof. James M. Orten of Wayne State University's College of Medicine also urged paying more attention to proteins.

"Older people tend to overdo the carbohydrates and neglect the more important proteins," he said. "It is no secret that one big reason for this is the older person's pocketbook.

"But it would be wise for him to save in some other way and to buy adequate amounts of the protein-filled foods."

Professor Orten thinks he knows why many older people don't eat well-balanced diets.

"They are simply following the food habits they developed when they were young," he said. "They were brought up in an era of few fruits and vegetables and little milk.

"Their eating habits didn't change with the times."

Loss of teeth or need of dental care are other obstacles to good nutrition, according to the experts. So are lack of physical activity and emotional and psychological problems.

"Good nutrition for older people is a blend of good food, good cooking, good health, good environment, good companions and good reasons for eating," Professor Orten believes.

Most All the Girls Are Just Dyeing to Be Blondes

I don't have any statistics on the country as a whole, but in our town so many women are rushing into beauty salons saying, "Make me a blonde," that you feel a little bit conspicuous if your hair isn't honey blond, champagne blond, ash blond or some other exotic kind of blond.

"What's behind this blond hair craze?" My dinner partner on a recent evening (whose wife has recently become a champagne blond) queried me with the look of a man who is wondering what women are going to think up next.

I couldn't tell him why so many women with mousy hair and gray hair and brown hair have suddenly got the urge and the courage to turn themselves into dazzling blondes.

Women were told a long time ago that gentlemen prefer blondes. But in the past only the more daring have acted on the knowledge.

Now, all of a sudden, sedate matrons who have gotten along fine for years wearing the hair color nature bestowed upon them have started blossoming out as blondes.

Maybe the reason is that hair-dyeing has at last become as socially acceptable as wearing lipstick. No longer does it have to be done secretly.

In fact, instead of considering "Who does your hair; it's such a lovely color?" a snide question, women consider it a high compliment.

And the rigors of sitting in a beauty salon five or six hours at a stretch has replaced the agony of sticking with the latest diet as a topic of conversation when "the girls" get together.

Anyway, don't raise your eyebrows if you run into old Joe with a blonde hanging on his arm. Chances are the blonde is Joe's used-to-be-gray-haired wife.

California Veal Casserole Is a Prize-Winning Recipe

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Home bakers take notice. There is a new book containing 1,000 recipes for breads, main dishes, cakes, cookies, pies and desserts that have won big money in the annual bake-off prizes. It is called "Pillsbury Best of the Bake-Off Collection."

This California Casserole was a top prize winner. Your family will give it an award, too.

California Casserole (Serves 8)

Coat 2 pounds veal round steak (cut into 2-inch pieces) with mixture of 1/3 cup all-purpose flour and 1 teaspoon paprika. Brown veal thoroughly in ¼ cup salad oil or shortening. Add ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 1 cup water (part onion liquid may be used); cover and simmer 30 minutes or until tender. Transfer to large baking dish (14x10x2 or 13x9x2-inch) or 3-quart casserole, or 2 smaller casseroles. Heat 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup in skillet used for browning. Blend in 1¾ cups water gradually. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Combine with meat and gravy. Add 1¾ cups small cooked onions (1-pound can drained). Top with 14 to 16 Butter Crumb Dumplings. Bake uncovered at 425 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with sauce made by heating 1 can (10½-ounce) condensed cream of chicken soup and 1 cup sour cream to boiling. (Add milk if thinner sauce is desired.)

Butter Crumb Dumplings

Sift together 2 cups sifted all purpose flour, 4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning into mixing bowl. Stir in 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1 teaspoon dry onion flakes and 1 tablespoon poppy seed, if desired. Add ¼ cup salad oil and 1 cup milk. Stir just until moistened. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls of dough into mixture of 1/4 cup butter, melted and 1 cup bread crumbs; coat well with crumbs.

MONDAY'S DINNER: California veal casserole, baked potatoes, green beans, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, canned peaches, chocolate cake, coffee, tea, milk.

TB Tests To Be Given At Waverly School Jan. 19

WAVERLY — The T.B. test for the Waverly high school and personnel will be given Tuesday, Jan. 19. A film on T.B. will be shown to all the students in high school.

An adult class sponsored by the Waverly F.F.A., managed by Mr. Twenhaefeal, has proven to be a profitable idea. The class is on farm records and income tax problems. To date the class is full with 14 members.

Those attending are Mrs. George A. Brown, Mrs. Wayne Caruthers, Mrs. Inez Dodd, Mrs. Vivian Dodd, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Kenny Handy, Mrs. Julius Ladage, Mrs. Russell Ladage, Mrs. Clyde Lyons, Mrs. Arthur Mayberry, Mrs. Clarence Miles, Mrs. Wesley Miller, Mrs. Robert Stubblefield.

Semi-finalist

Word has been received that Jerry Fitzpatrick, son of Joseph Fitzpatrick of Waverly, has been announced as one of the semi-finalists in the selection of 1960 Illinois college scholarship award winners. The list has been narrowed down to 4,438 names from the original 20,874 who applied by taking the scholarship examination on Nov. 7, 1959.

Slumber Party Friday

The F.H.A. girls will have a slumber party in the high school gym on Friday night, Jan. 8, after the sock hop. All of the girls of the F.H.A. are invited to attend.

64 Donate Blood

Ruby Summers, president of the Waverly Woman's Club, reports that a big turn-out was shown at the Red Cross Blood Bank on Tuesday, Jan. 5, in the Waverly American Legion building. Out of the 74 blood donors, 64 were usable. Thirty-seven vials of blood were drawn to be sent to St. Louis to be matched with Marilyn Shumaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shumaker, who has to undergo an operation on Feb. 11, at the Children's hospital. Thirty-three volunteered to give blood if needed but the vials to test it were not available at this time. The hospital has asked for at least 20 blood donors, so as many as needed of these people will be called upon. Of the 64 donors for the blood bank, 26 were first-time donors.

CROSS RUFF AIDS WEAK HOLDING

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When you have a doubtful trump holding in the combined hands your best play is to leave the trump suit alone and to develop a cross ruff. Sometimes this will produce surprisingly good results.

Here is a hand with which Ed Moir of Pittsburgh was able to gather in 10 tricks at a two-diamond contract by use of this principle.

He received a favorable opening of the heart deuce and let it ride to his queen. He led his singleton spade and finessed dummy's jack. East returned a heart. Ed won in dummy, discarded his last heart on dummy's king of spades, led a club and finessed the jack.

West won with the king and led the king of hearts. Ed ruffed and was now ready for the cross ruff. He cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club low, ruffed a spade and led his fourth club. At this point East still held four trumps to the queen but could only make the queen no matter how he played.

Answer Monday

Ends Basic

Airman Richard L. Jackson, son of Mrs. Gladys Jackson of Exeter, Ill., has completed his initial course of basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and has been selected to attend the technical training course for radio and radar maintenance at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., according to T/Sgt. Charlie Kinyon, local Air Force Recruiter of Springfield.

Airman Jackson is a graduate of Bluffs high school.

Basic airmen at Lackland are selected for specialized training at technical schools on the basis of their interests and aptitudes. They are reassigned to the school after four weeks of basic, and are given additional military training as well as technical subjects.

Bud Kennedy is in his 12th season as basketball coach at Florida State University.

Weather Delays Aerial Pictures Of Lake Site

PITTSFIELD — Bob Mieborg of the Chicago Aerial Survey Service was in Pittsfield the first of the week taking pictures from the air of the Pittsfield lake site. His work was delayed due to overcast skies. The photos will be the basis for the engineering work to be done by the DeJong firm of Rockford. The mayor said the city is about 30 days behind its planned schedule. Mayor Frank Penstone is working almost every day with the city crew at the lake site, doing preliminary work.

High School Talent

The state's most talented junior and senior high school musicians, 2,024 youths from 322 communities, will participate in the annual Illinois All-State Music Activity to be held at the University of Illinois on Feb. 4-6. Eight distinguished conductors will direct the various vocal and instrumental groups. There will be 948 members in the Senior High School Chorus, the largest chorus of high school voices ever assembled in Illinois. There will be 225 members in the Senior Band; 186 in the Senior Orchestra; 144 in the Junior Orchestra and 332 in the Junior Chorus. Those from the Pittsfield schools being privileged to attend are Carole Atwood, Senior Band; Kay Willard, Hallie Grimes, Charles Seybold, and Leland Wahlgren, Senior Chorus; Jim Miles, Junior Band and Gail Hubbard and Gregg Carnes, Junior Chorus.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Riley, 333 S. State Street, Springfield, will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary on Jan. 12. They were married in Pittsfield on Jan. 12, 1910 and have resided in Springfield since 1935. They are not planning any celebration at this time. They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Gerdsen of La Marque, Texas, and they have two grandchildren. Mrs. Riley is the former Miss Hallie Beryl Sitton.

To Receive Bids

The Illinois Division of Highways has announced that bids will be received on Jan. 15 for the 1960 road program. In Pike county the work will include 10.42 miles of various width bituminous concrete resurfacing on Illinois route 107 from Pittsfield to Griggsville and on route 36-54 from Pittsfield west to U.S. routes 36-54 at the "Y."

Remodeling Restaurant

Mr. George Ray Lynch, the former night manager of the Cardinal Inn in Pittsfield, and his wife have taken over the Travelers Inn at the east edge of Pittsfield and are remodeling and redecorating it. They will open it as a restaurant as soon as the work is completed. They will change the name to Lincoln Inn and will have a grand opening. They can seat about 55 guests at counter, booths and tables.

Janice Plummer To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Plummer are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice Kay, to SP-4 James E. Lang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lang of Quincy. Kay graduated from Pittsfield High school with the class of 1959 and is employed by the Mooreman Manufacturing Company in Quincy. Jim graduated from O'Fallon High school with the class of 1954 and is stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. They are planning a Feb. 27 wedding.

Report Of Marriages

The circuit clerk's office reports 36 divorces in 1959 and two separate maintenances. The county clerk reports 170 marriages in 1959.

SPACE 'FLIGHTS'

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

A full panel of flight instruments and controls, like those in the Project Mercury Satellite, have been built in the centrifuge cab. The pattern of the training "flights" is started by the computer.

The flight instruments then tell the Astronaut: the attitude, altitude and acceleration situation.

Attitude is the direction in which a rocket or air craft is pointing while in flight.

When the Astronaut operates the controls they send messages back to the computer. The computer then figures out what acceleratoions would result from the same operation in a real Project Mercury satelite, and tells the centrifuge to duplicate them.

Official Photograph U.S. Navy

Flying Rocket Before It's Built

The centrifuge at the U.S. Naval Air Development Center in Johnsville, Pa., can be made to copy the flight pattern of a space ship that has not yet been built if performances of this rocket have been tested on Models in wind tunnels, etc.

This is done by feeding data on how the proposed space ship acts and how it responds to controls, into a computer which governs the centrifuge. A mock-up of the spaceship's control panel is put in the cab of the centrifuge so the pilot can do all the things he would do during an actual flight.

This method, called centrifuge dynamic control simulation, is now being used to train the Project Mercury Astronaut.

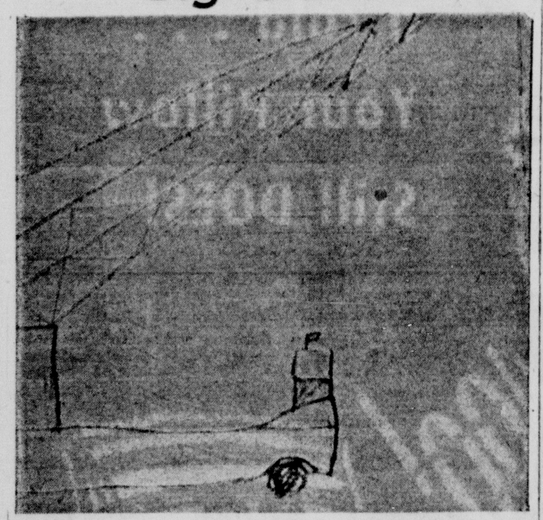

Astronauts Practice 'Flights'

During their training activities at Johnsville, each Astronaut spends about 10 hours in the centrifuge familiarizing himself with the flight pattern he will experience during a flight into orbit. By experiencing the g force they would receive while an Atlas missile was boosting the Project Mercury satellite into orbit the Astronauts learn about the effects of high g forces and what to do to over come the limitations of these forces as much as possible.

In the history of flight the study of man's performance in aircraft has always lagged behind the advancing development of planes. This has been mostly because of the lack of proper research equipment. The Navy centrifuge has reversed that situation fir future aeronautics and its "offspring" astronautics.

Before this centrifuge was built, scientists had to make educated guesses as to man's physiological responce to g forces beyond the range of the old centrifuges. The Navy centrifuge, however, makes it possible to study these accelerations directly.

SHAGBARK HICKORY

By Rip Barnsdall

Many baseball bats are made from this tree. The nuts are good eating.

The bark on older trees appears to hang in shreds that look something like long shingles. It is this shaggy appearance that has given the tree its name.

Shagbark hickories usually grow outside cities, since they do best in fresh air.

What Do You Think?

By GERALD LAWLESS

Dr. Louis Finklestein

Dr. Finklestein is head of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He is probably the most respected and most recognized Jewish authority in the World.

Dr. Finklestein believes that a good education is a contact with great men, men who have mastered the art of living. There are many such people in the world today.

All men make a great sacrifice for something or somebody, says Dr. Finklestein. If there ever should be a person to come into the world who wouldn't make a sacrifice, he would be destroyed by society.

We can enjoy the spiritual cultural aspects of life due to the many inventions of man. Spiritual things can greatly replace material things, but not completely. Material things divide man: spiritual things don't.

The world, today, must either form itself into a family or be destroyed this philosopher says. Americans, who are spiritual people, also place great emphasis on class distinction, background, material success (quantity rather than quality.) This hampers our spiritual success.

The time is gone when America can afford to divide herself into classes. The future or hope of America becomes more clear to those who study our country from abroad rather than by Americans themselves in America.

The future of mankind depends on those who have a spiritual goal. America seeks spiritual goals; America and the World have a sound future. Aggression must be resisted as you might resist aggression in a brother. We must be conconcerned more with the aggressor than the act itself.

America must be great in action, the understanding of itself, the understanding of its history. We must be meek about its history but not about God's purpose for it.

If America seeks greatness for itself destruction is sure. We should change our enemies into friends.

We should make men love us. Until all of this is done, we should not be satisfied.

We must walk new paths. The troubles of our times are the means for making us great.

"The time is coming when the lamb will lie down with the wolf," says this man. These are the beliefs of Dr. Finklestein. Do you agree with him?

SOFT VOICES

BY MABEL HALL GOLTRA

I love those modest snow men
Who talk like Mortimer Snerd.
They have the softest voices
That one has ever heard.

The poet likes soft voices—
Adores a murmuring stream.
Which in an idle moment
He may sit beside and dream.

What does he like for supper?
One modest little trout,
That in an idle moment
Just happened to flop out.

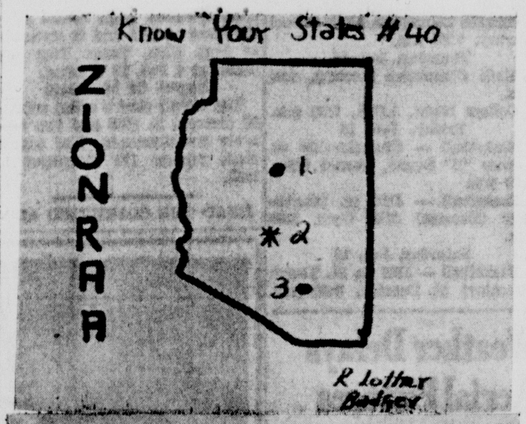

An hour of idle dreaming
To watch the great sun set
May recreate his poem,
And also fill his net.

New Year Celebration Of Long-Ago Days

By Mary Pence Claywell

Part 3: Resolutions

In those old days, everyone made a New Year resolution or promise.

Children resolved to quit quarreling. . .Dad threw away his old pipe (looking over his shoulder to see in which direction it landed) and the boys said they would try to get out of bed on first call.

Becky, or Jane promised to do the dishes every morning so Mother wouldn't have so many tasks after the children were off to school; and Mother—well, she just sorta resolved in her dear heart to take good care of those who were so near and dear to her, just as she always had.

Sometimes Broken

To be sure, the resolutions were sometimes broken, especially by the younger ones—and, painful as it is to tell, Dad parted the dead grasses to search for his favorite pipe. But whether our resolutions are always kept perfectly or not, they are at least a gentle reminder to us to try to improve ourselves.

I do hope none of you will tell Grandpa that he is full of "old-fangled ideas," for actually, good resolutions in any age, are as "new-fangled" as tomorrow's rising sun.

And now, my dears, in all seriousness, let us pause to consider the "true" meaning of "Happy New Year" and just what part each of us will have in penning upon its clean, white pages, the record that will be read in the ages yet to come?

From out the Ivory Palaces,
A New Year comes tonight;
God sends it down from "outer space,"
A New Year . . clean and bright;

As Old Man Time unfolds again
Each spotless, shining page,
Each one of us will write a line
Of history. . in this age;
We may not feel important,
But when the New Year's gone,
Each one of us will be a part
Of all. . .that's said. . .or done:

So take the "Pen of life," my dears,
And grasp it firm and tight. . .
That God may whisper when it's gone,
"My child. . . you've lived it right!"

Worst train wreck in the United States took 101 lives near Nashville, Tenn., on July 9, 1918.

CQ RADIO HAMS—

Radio For Boys

By Joseph A. Smith

Ohm's Law

By means of the three simple formulas of Ohm's law, you can figure any voltages, resistances, or current flow in any given circuit.

Since you run into this every day, it is wise to understand them thoroughly; especially if you hope to be able to "brew" your own gear later on.

First, if you know both the amount of current flowing through a resistor and its resistance, you can calculate the voltage (E.M.F.) pushing it. Also the voltage drop across this resistor is figured the same way: E equals I times R.

To illustrate this, place the look resistor between clips No. 1 and 6, and hook the 90 volt battery between clips No. 11 and 12. You can now measure the voltage drop across the resistor by placing the voltermeter's positive lead on clip No. 1 and the negative lead on clip No. 6.

This voltage drop experiment can also be done with parallel resistors and with two in series so that the voltage drop across each can be measured. (Caution: Don't leave the battery hooked up long since this is a drain on it.)

Secondly, if the voltage (E.M.F.) is known and the value of a resistance through which current is flowing, you can determine the amount of current that is actually flowing through the circuit by the formula I equals E over R. (Current equals voltage divided by the resistance.)

With the look resistor across clips No. 1 and No. 6 and the 90 volt battery connected across clips No. 11 and No. 14, the meter is in series with the resistor and the line of current or electron flow. With the two in series combinations it is the same (since the same amount of current flows through each).

Parallel Combination

On the other hand, with the parallel combination, if you want to read the current flowing through either one separately, one end of this resistor at either clip No. 7 or No. 8 must be disconnected and the milliameter is then inserted between it and either clip No. 7 or No. 8—the one used. Of course, clips No. 12 and No. 13 must be shorted across in these two individual tests.

Thirdly: If the voltage is known and the amount of current flowing through a given circuit is also known, you can calculate the resistance through which it is passing. R equals E over I (Resistance equals the voltage divided by the current.)

We've previously measured a single resistor as well as a series and a parallel combination. Our ohmmeter does it by passing a fixed amount of current through the resistor under test from a battery of fixed voltage, and the scale then reads in Ohms.

You would be wise to consult the A.R.R.L. Handbook for sample problems and examples. The importance of these three formulas to even the radio amateur can not be overlooked! So study slowly and carefully.

The New Year's Question

By Emma Mae Leonhard

With what do we associate New Year's Day? Each person will at once think of some little self favor that day: maybe freedom from that early-morning clatter of the alarm clock, the undisturbed closeness of the family circle, the friendship on that hunting trip, escape from dull routine, or thankfulness that he had not added one more name to the holiday death toll on the highway.

Each will reveal his inner self in his reaction to the question which we posed.

However, upon second thought, this person will begin to generalize. Although January 1, 1960, is just another man-made day on the calendar—just like December 31, 1959, or January 2, 1960,—and although the same oak tree shelters his same home, or the same window display in his store, January 1 is really different to him and to most people. It speaks a personal message to the happy and the unhappy.

What Is Message?

What is this special silent message which New Year's Day brings to each one of us? It is hope for something better; it is looking forward to something to come, of the fulfillment of a longing or a dream.

It may be a first garden or an old garden with a spring-planted Dogwood or White Pine added; it may be a new house or just a new gas furnace or some new paper on the living-room walls.

It may be reading a book or breaking that golf record; it may be better business or the buying of something new, gaining a Scout award or raising, a champion animal. It may be a family reconciliation, a settlement of the steel controversy, or a sincere approach of World Powers toward a universal disarmament program.

Great or small, this silent message speaks of anticipation. The Old Year has been watched out; the New Year is being saluted. The guards have changed for the new day.

Did Cardinal Know?

Whether the Cardinal in the garden knew that it was 8:30 a.m. on January 1, 1960, or not, it welcomed the New Year Day with its song characteristic of spring. Yes, it rolled out just that clear compelling whistle which, to many, means spring when late winter seems to drag.

It spoke the message of sunshine and good living to all who would listen. The clear call penetrated even the winter-bound houses and reached the ears of those within the warm homes.

All during December the Cardinal had visited the bird-feeding station, frequently announcing its coming by its usual winter note, "clink, clink." This time it whistled to the world: "What-cheer, cheer cheer!"

Why didn't this Cardinal repeat his cheerful whistle? Do you suppose that he was embarrassed for being so optimistic or even shocked at his involuntary spring call which escaped him out of season?

There he sat on the branch of a Magnolia tree, reflecting the gray of the branches in his wings, the soot of smoky chimneys in his black-framed red bill, and the red glow of the cold winter sunset in his brilliant cardinal crest and coat of feathers. He rolled out that cheerful message through the evergreens and over the coat of snow in the garden. Furthermore, winter had hardly begun.

Whatever his reason, if there was one, he left us with the New Year question: "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Each listener may answer that question for himself. We hope that everyone may find an answer that fits his hopes.

A Soliloquy

By Mabel Hall Goltra

I'll throw a log on the fire,
And sit in the great arm chair
For a moment of inspiration
From out the great somewhere.

At once I hear a poem
That does away with care;
A line the poet has written
With a little love to spare.

Perhaps it's a New Year's greeting:
A worthy poet's thought,
Or only a little Valentine
Like one that Poe once wrought.

It may be a simple lyric
If it gives the soul release,
It may penetrate the Nation
With love and hope and peace.

I see a ray of sunshine
Come stealing through the fog;
I'll listen again tomorrow
And throw on another log.

The largest county in the United States is San Bernardino, Calif., with an area of more than 20,000 square miles. It is larger than eight states.

BIRTHDAY PARADE

Here They Come

Yes, boys and girls, here come our Birthday Marchers with three Lahey young people leading the parade!

Jerry Kay Lahey

Jerry was 3-years-old the day after Christmas, December 26. How exciting that must have been!

Terry Daniel Lahey

Terry had a whole 5 candles to blow out on his Birthday cake, January 4.

Sheree Ann Lahey

Sheree has only a few days to wait to celebrate her fourth Birthday on January 15.

Jerry, Terry and Sheree are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lahey of 1012 N. Fayette. They have a little brother, Gary, who will make his first appearance in the Birthday parade when he is 1-year-old Aug. 22.

Fonda Kay Scott

Fonda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Scott of 803 N. Prairie, and brings Teddy along on her first appearance in the Birthday Parade. Fonda was one-year-old December 29.

Charles Kent Aufdenkamp

Charles was 2-years-old Saturday, January 2. He is the happy son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aufdenkamp of Chapin.

Charles' grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Aufdenkamp and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker of Chapin.

Richard Devlin

Richard Devlin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devlin of 685 W. Michigan, had five candles to blow out on his Birthday cake January 8.

Richard's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Darush of 736 W. Railroad.

All the Junior Page readers and your editor wish each and all of these Birthday Marchers a VERY HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Your Birthday

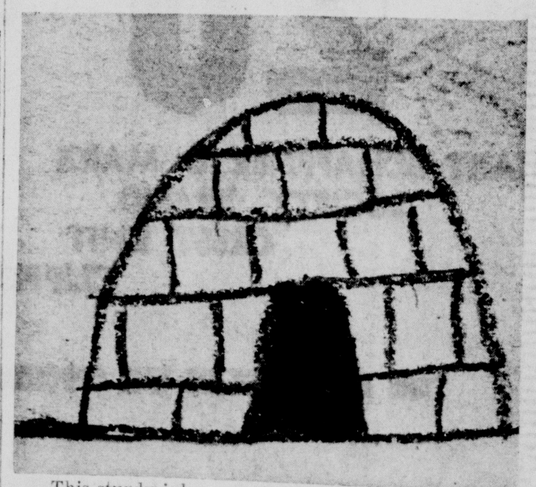

To march in the Birthday Parade, just send your name, address, age and birthdate to the Jacksonville Junior Journal Courier two weeks before your birthday. Send a snapshot if you have one; the photo may be called for as soon as it has appeared in the paper.

If you have a party, tell us about that later.

Some 149 million people speak the Hindi language in India, more than any other language except Mandarin Chinese, English and Russian.

The Empire State Express, a New York Central and Hudson River railroad train, ran a mile in 32 seconds in 1893.

Eskimo Igloo

This sturdy igloo was drawn by Randy Hebel, age 7, grade 2, Waverly. Maybe some of you will be building igloos right here this winter. (They last longer in the shade.)

If you too like to draw, send in a picture—just 4 inches square and all your own work—to the Jacksonville Junior Journal-Courier with your name, address and age.

Reveal Betrothals

Helen Frances Kitson

Mrs. Alma Kitson, 125 Diamond Court, announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen Frances, to Leo Dean Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wilson, Jacksonville route two.

Helen attended Jacksonville High School and is now employed at Passavant Memorial Hospital. Dean graduated from Chapin High School in 1959 and recently from Naval Dental Technician School, San Diego, California. He is stationed with the Navy at Norfolk, Virginia.

The couple plan a summer wedding.

Carol Ann Fortado

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Fortado, 232 East Dunlap street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Charles Ankrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ankrom, Jacksonville route four.

Both graduated from Franklin High School with the class of 1958. Carol is in her junior year at Passavant Hospital School of Nursing and Charles is employed with Ankrom Construction Company, Jacksonville.

No definite date has been set.

Carol Maxine Coats

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Coats, 409 East Laurel Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Maxine, to Larry Leroy Blackburn son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blackburn, Winchester route three.

Carol Maxine is a senior at Winchester High School and the prospective bridegroom graduated from the same school in 1959.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Edna Richards Of City Weds Kincaid Man

Mrs. Edna Richards of Jacksonville and James McKinney of Kincaid were united in marriage at 8 o'clock New Years Eve at Centenary Methodist church by Rev. Harvey E. Dibrell.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Vera F. Stewart and the best man was Raymond J. Ransom.

The bride and Mrs. Stewart wore street length costumes in a royal blue shade. Their accessories were black and both wore sholder corsages of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney will make their home in Kincaid where the bridegroom is employed.

Federation Plans Leaders Banquet

On Jan. 6th, the Morgan County 4-H Federation held its monthly meeting at the Farm Bureau Hall. Alan Anderson, president, called the meeting to order. The American and 4-H flag pledges were led by Gordon Heaton and David Maurer. The secretary's report and treasurer's report were read and accepted.

The annual 4-H leaders banquet was discussed. This banquet will be Tuesday, Jan. 19th, at the Grace Methodist church, at 6:30 p.m.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. Frank Marston, his subject "Dating." There was a question and answer period which proved very informative and interesting.

Claire Jean Koebel Robert Slagle Wed

The altar of the Winchester Christian church was adorned with red poinsettias, palms, white wedding tapers in branched candelabra and white satin bows for the wedding of Miss Claire Jean Koebel and Robert Slagle Sunday, December 20th.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Crawford Harmon at 3 o'clock in the afternoon before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Don Cox sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the vows were being spoken. She was accompanied by Mrs. R. R. Funk who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jackson of Winchester. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Slagle also of Winchester.

Gowned In Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown fashioned of lace and nylon net.

The low scooped neck was trimmed with sequins and pearls with longsleeves ending in points over the hands and featured a full skirt topped with lace in point inserts and worn over hoops.

Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She wore a dew drop necklace, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a single white orchid attached to a white Bible.

Mrs. Pat Cope, the bride's sister, matron of honor wore a red ballerina length gown of red sheer with a matching bolero, a white fur headpiece and carried a single red poinsettia nosegay showered with white streamers.

The bridegroom and his best man, Richard Jackson, both wore striped trousers, dark formal jackets with red carnation boutonnieres, matching ties and cummerbunds.

Ushers were Ronnie Slagle, brother of the bridegroom, and Leland Hardwick.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of grey sheer wool, winter white hat and a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception At Cafe

A reception followed immediately at Slagle's Cafe.

The bride's table was beautiful with white wedding bells, pink satin bows and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white.

Those assisting with the serving were Georgia Roosa, Jeanie Spotts and Hazel Hardwick. Roberta Jackson was in charge of gifts and Henrietta Jackson registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of the Winchester high school with the class of 1959. The bridegroom graduated from the same school in 1956, attended the Western Illinois University at Macomb and is now associated with his father in the insurance business.

When the young couple left for a week's honeymoon, the bride was wearing a beige wool sheath dress, brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

They will reside in a new trailer home in Winchester.

Mrs. Robert Slagle

Miss Leinweber, Virginia Man, Plan Wedding

VIRGINIA — Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Leinweber of Washington, Illinois, in the Peoria vicinity, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to Robert Jokisch of Virginia.

MISS LEINWEBER

Mr. Jokisch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jokisch of Virginia.

The bride-to-be graduated from Washington Community School in Washington, Ill., and is attending Carthage College.

Mr. Jokisch graduated from Virginia High School and later attended Carthage College and also University of Illinois.

The young couple plan a summer wedding.

THEY JUST OVERSLEPT

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP) — When the bridal couple failed to appear for a morning wedding here, the minister was slightly alarmed.

But a series of phone calls cleared up the difficulty. The bride, groom and attendants all had overslept.

Norfleet And Cully Rites At Bride's Home

Quiet dignity before the beautiful fireplace in the lovely appointed home of Mrs. Edgar O. Cully, 246 East Pennsylvania avenue, marked the occasion at four o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, January ninth for the marriage of her daughter, Isabel, to Hugh Norfleet of Alexander.

The vows were received by the Rev. L. E. Olson of the First Baptist church in a double ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were Miss Claribel Cully of Walnut, Illinois and Richard Norfleet of Jacksonville.

For her wedding the bride chose a poudre blue knit dress with navy accessories.

Her only attendant, her twin sister, was dressed in an identical knit dress of white. Each wore an orchid corsage.

Reception Follows

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home for the few close friends and relatives of the couple.

Mrs. Byron O. Cully, Freeport, Illinois presided at the lovely tea table. Assisting were Mrs. Otto E. Beerup, Jr., Miss Ina Stewart, and Mrs. Edmund L. Heyer.

Mrs. Wayne Price registered the guests.

For many years Mrs. Norfleet has been employed as office secretary of the Morgan County Farm Bureau in Jacksonville. Mr. Norfleet is engaged in farming north of Alexander where the couple will reside following a wedding trip to Florida.

MORE WOMEN THEOLOGIANS

Alexander Unit Meets On Jan. 5

The January meeting of the Alexander Home Bureau was held Jan. 5 at the home of Beverly Stevenson with Betty Strawn assisting. Mrs. Raymond Duewer, chairman, was in charge. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag and the singing of "Winter Wonderland."

Miss Hazel Graves gave the major lesson, "Food Prices," Mrs. Jean Kloppe gave the minor lesson, "Decorative Stitches." Roll was answered by eight members and two guests on what each would like to accomplish in 1960.

Routine business was conducted. A general crafts day will be held Feb. 24 in Jacksonville and Play Day will be March 23.

Guests present were Mrs. R. Cox and Mrs. Alice Smith. The February meeting will be held with Margaret and Anna Louise Hermes. Lessons will be given by Mary Jo McQueen and Ella M Harris.

Wofford - Biggs Wedding Party At Pittsfield

Above is the camera's version of the Wofford-Biggs wedding party shown at the altar of First Christian church in Pittsfield after Barbie Biggs, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dean Artman of that city, became the bride of Kenneth Charles Wofford of St. Louis, Missouri.

Flanking the newlyweds, who are attending Southern University at Carbondale since their return from a honeymoon in the East, are, l-r, Miss Peggy Aldrich, Miss Becky Watson and Miss Jay Venable, Pittsfield, and the bride's cousin, Miss Beverly Sim of Hastings, Michigan.

Bruce Galbraith, DuQuoin, Ron Sim of Hastings, another cousin of the bride, Robert McMillan, DuQuoin, and Larry Vitale of Dow, Illinois.

The wedding on December twenty-seventh was one of many sparkling holiday events in the Pittsfield area. The bride's mother is the former Cozy Green of Jacksonville.

Why the Budget's So Big---(1) Government Rock Gathering

"Everybody wants to get into the act" might be one way of describing the cause of today's burgeoning federal budget. We legislate benefits, services and subsidies up to the hilt—and then hang onto them. According to Budget Director Maurice H. Stans, the government is so saddled with meeting yesterday's priorities that it cannot anticipate tomorrow's needs as it should.

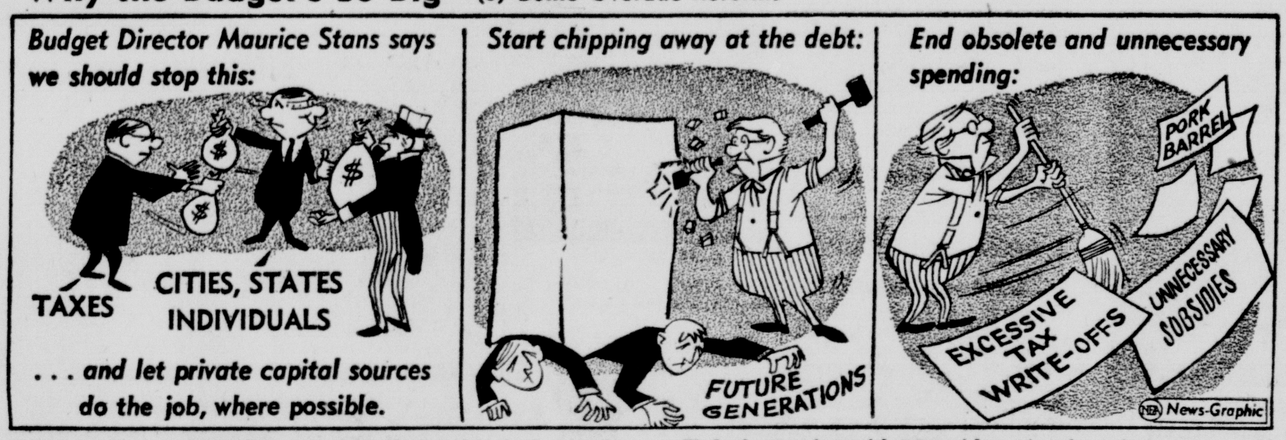

Built-in increases in programs are another factor. For 1961 alone, they will add another $2 billion or more to the budget, even without passing another spending bill. Sketch above depicts the present plight of this government of the people, by the people and more and more for the people.

Why the Budget's So Big---(2) The President's Perplexity

How to meet vital needs, provide for expanding services and still keep the budget within reasonable bounds—if not trim it—when 85 per cent of it is already spoken for is the annual headache of the president. Defense takes the biggest chunk—over $40 billion; then about $9 billion for interest on the debt; $7 billion for agriculture; $5 billion for veterans' costs; and other billions for foreign aid, atomic energy and welfare services. Debt interest alone, which increases as the national debt increases, is now almost equal to the country's entire budget in 1940. The debt itself is almost seven times larger than 20 years ago.

Why the Budget's So Big---(3) Some Overdue Reforms

Calling for better understanding of the nation's financial situation by the private citizen, Budget Director Stans makes these charges:

- We spend huge sums for interest on the debt, but don't reduce the principal.
- We spend huge sums to reduce farm surpluses, with the opposite result.
- We lend money to special groups at low rates when private sources could do the job.
- We perpetuate federal programs that have long since met their objectives.

The answer, pending world-wide disarmament, is self-discipline in both government and electorate.

Your NEA Income Tax Primer

(Second of 12 Chapters)
BY RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service

There is one exemption you can claim on your tax return which will not be questioned by the Internal Revenue Service. Every taxpayer is entitled to claim one exemption for himself.

Most taxpayers are also entitled to claim an exemption for other persons, such as a wife or children. These exemptions, however, must meet several tests. The tests are set out in the official instructions issued with the tax returns. Many taxpayers like additional help in figuring out how the exemption tests apply to their dependents. This and the next article of the Primer will help you claim the right exemptions.

Exemptions for You and Your Wife

Don't overlook the extra exemption allowed if you or your wife are 65 or over in 1959. You are considered to be 65 in 1959 if your 65th birthday was on or before Jan. 1, 1960.

You are considered 65 in 1959 if your 65th birthday is on or before Jan. 1, 1960.

A problem many taxpayers have is what to do when their wives earn less than $600 in a year and have tax withheld from their income. The wife could file a separate return so as to get back any tax withheld, but, if she does, you cannot file a joint return with her nor can you claim her as an exemption on your separate return.

You can claim a full $600 exemption for a new baby right to the end of 1959.

It would be better for you both to file a joint return. Your wife's income would have to be shown on the joint return, but you would get a $600 exemption for her (more if she is 65 or blind) and you would also get credit for the tax withheld from her income.

Exemptions for Your Children

The law has been changed so that, beginning with 1959, you may claim an exemption for a child who has been placed in your home by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even though the child has not yet been legally adopted by you. Such a child and every other child you claim must meet the four tests shown below:

1. Received less than $600 gross income. (However, this limitation does not apply if the child was under 19 or a student. In either case, it doesn't matter how much income the child had. He or she can still be claimed as your exemption if the following three tests are met.)
2. Received more than half of his or her support from you (or from your wife if a joint return is filed). The next article of the Primer will explain how to tell when you have furnished over half the support of a dependent.
3. If married, did not file a joint return with her husband or his wife.
4. Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; or was an alien child adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

Note that you may still be able to claim your child as an exemption even though he files a separate return. For example, if he earned $450 during the summer from which tax was withheld, he should file a return so as to have the withheld tax refunded. This will not prevent you from claiming a dependency deduction provided the child meets the 3rd and 4th conditions above.

If you have a child who was married in 1959 but who received over half of his or her support from you, check whether it is better for you to claim the exemption or for the child to file a joint return with his or her spouse. It often happens that newly married couples are not earning enough to save much by filing joint returns. Remember, however, if your married child does file a joint return, you cannot claim him or her as an exemption.

You do not have to be married for the entire year to claim your wife as an exemption.

NEXT: Exemptions for persons other than your children.

XXXVI

As the van hit the viaduct and started to turn over, Carol screamed. For a moment it seemed to hover, suspended indefinitely on the lip of the embankment. And then it listed and fell, turning over completely.

Carol screamed again.

Carol turned, reaching for Bill, but he had already hurled the door open and was running across the pavement. In the bright glare up ahead, black figures appeared from behind the patrol cars in a dark swarm, running toward the viaduct and down toward the van.

As Bill reached the crest of the embankment and started down toward the cluster of policemen at the door of the overturned cab, a hand reached out quickly to hold him back.

"Sorry, mister," a voice said gruffly, "you're not allowed down there."

Impervious, Bill struggled forward, trying to pull himself free.

"Look, mister—"

Bill's gaze was fastened on the truck, a steaming, felled monster, its wheels spinning as if in the last agonies of some absurd death throe.

"My son's own there!" he yelled with sudden fury. "Let go!"

The grip only tightened on Bill's shoulder. "I'm sorry, but—"

Sergeant Mercer's face suddenly swam into view and came forward. "Let him through!" he yelled. "It's okay."

The man's face illuminated by the glittering lights, turned toward Mercer, half in disbelief, then the grip on his shoulder relaxed. Bill tore himself free and started down the embankment. Other men were already there trying to unfasten the door of the van.

Bill moved down the muddy incline toward the truck. The door was open now on the passenger side, and two men were on their hands and knees before it. As Bill watched them, they began to back out, bringing something with them. They moved back a little more, then straightened, holding whatever burden they had extricated from the truck carefully in their arms.

"Davey!" Bill cried, pressing forward. "Davey!"

The men turned, and Davey, struggling in their arms, looked around.

"Daddy!" he screamed. "Daddy, Daddy!"

Moving blindly forward, Bill felt Davey's arms close around his neck and cling tight. He felt, too, the terrible trembling in the small body as it pressed close to his. Unaware of the rain falling down into his face and of the continued activity around the truck, he simply stood there holding his son to him as tightly, as securely as he could.

The world seemed suddenly to have gone still around him.

"It's all right now, Davey," he said, "it's all right." Slowly, the trembling began to lessen, and Davey's hold relaxed slightly around his neck. "Are you all right?" he asked anxiously. "Does it hurt anywhere?"

• • •

Davey lifted his head, his eyes wide and dazed. He swallowed hard and then, as his eyes cleared a little, managed to shake his head.

"I—I don't think so," he whispered.

Detaching himself from the others around the truck, Sergeant Mercer came toward them. He nodded down at Davey. "I guess he was thrown to the floor, and that's what saved him." He looked back toward the demolished cab. "Our friend there—" He shrugged. "He won't cause any more trouble for anybody."

Nodding, Bill turned away and started up the rise, moving slowly, making sure of his footing in the slippery mud. When he reached the top, he stopped and looked back.

"Thanks," he said. But Sergeant Mercer was already gone from sight.

Returning along the highway to the car, he saw Carol standing in front of it, one hand stretched back to the fender for support. As he approached, her eyes found the small figure in his arms, then rose hesitantly to his face. When Bill nodded in reassurance, she simply held out her arms. Bill reached Davey out to her.

"Here's your mother, Davey," he said.

Carol carried Davey quickly to the car, and, holding him close to her, retreated into its shelter. Bill followed after them to find Carol bundling Davey anxiously into his coat.

"Are you all right?" she asked.

Davey nodded.

"You're sure?"

Davey nodded again. "Yes, I think so," he said.

• • •

For a long time Carol simply stared at him, as if to memorize his face forever and ever. And then a darkness came into her eyes, a frown touched her brow.

"Davey," she said, her voice faint and trembling, "Davey, if you ever, ever again—"

Davey looked up wearily. And then he saw the tears well in her eyes, felt her arms close tight around him.

"Oh, Davey!" she cried. "Davey, Davey, Davey—!"

Davey, leaning his head against his mother's shoulder, only knew he was tired, tired all through, in a way he had never been before. Turning slightly, he looked up at his father.

"I kicked him," he murmured, "I kicked him real hard." His eyelids flickered heavily, and his voice trailed off into a sigh. "I'll bet it hurt."

Letting his head fall back to his mother's shoulder, he closed his eyes. Above him the rain continued its impervious tattoo.

Drifting off into a kind of numbed unawareness, he thought he heard his father laugh.

With The Girl Scouts

Activities in Girl Scouting resumed this week with whirlwind velocity. Important committee planning sessions were held every day in the Scout office in addition to a meeting of mothers in Arenzville in the interest of starting Girl Scout troops in that area.

Highlighting events this coming week will be something special. The first workshop of a series entitled "Adventuring in the Hand Arts" will be presented on Tuesday morning, Jan. 12, at 9:30 o'clock. All interested Council members are urged to attend. Council members include every registered adult in Girl Scouting—leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members, members of the Board of Directors and members of Board committees.

This workshop will be entitled "The Hands of Man—Adventuring in Pottery" and will be a film presentation so that you can take advantage of expert instruction. Booklets are also provided as a guide for instructing troops. Come and learn to make some pottery. It's a fascinating hobby.

Board Meeting

Another important meeting this week is that of the Board of Directors on Wednesday morning, Jan. 13, at 9:30 o'clock at the office. Annual reports of committees are due so that the Council annual report may be compiled. Council president and vice presidents will meet at the office at 9 a.m. preceding the Board meeting.

Members of the Public Relations committee will meet Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 1 p.m. at the Scout office.

In the interest of starting new Girl Scout troops in Greenfield, there will be a meeting of mothers of girls in the second through the sixth grade on Monday, Jan. 11, at 1:30 p.m. in the library of the Greenfield school.

Plans have been started for the annual Girl Scout cookie sale and last Tuesday the cookie representative, Mrs. Eva Anderson of Chicago, was in the Scout office and met with planners: Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, Council president; Mrs. Sam Pack, 1960 cookie sale chairman; Mrs. George McNamara and Mrs. Ruth Galloway of Roodhouse.

Camp Plans

The Camp committee met Wednesday at the office and began plans for the 1960 camping season. Mrs. Marie Houlette of Greenfield is the Camp committee chairman and Mrs. Ernest W. Chumley will be the camp director.

Public Relations committee members met Thursday to formulate plans for the publishing of the annual Council report. Mrs. George McNamara is the chairman-elect of this committee.

On Friday morning the Program and Finance committees of the Council held a joint session at the Scout office to plan the semi-annual Council meeting to be held Jan. 20 at 1 p.m. at the Congregational church in Jacksonville. This is an important meeting for all adults in Scouting. Further announcement of this event will be made next week.

The Executive Director met with mothers of girls interested in Scouting in Arenzville on Friday afternoon. The Arenzville P.T.A. will sponsor a troop there.

Troop Activities

Troop activities were resumed this week and most of them are concentrating on indoor pasttimes such as sewing and knitting and other handwork. However, a winter cook-out is lots of fun and winter hikes are healthful and invigorating.

Troop No. 30 of Winchester, Mrs. William Willsey leader, had an overnight this past week. They stayed in the educational building of the Methodist church in Winchester. They cooked an evening meal, had recreational games and dancing, slept on cots, prepared breakfast and had more games. Eleven girls took part and they all had lots of fun.

Many of the girls of Troop No. 92 of Roodhouse are wearing new uniforms these days which they received for Christmas. Just before Christmas the troop members entertained their parents at the home of the leader, Mrs. Ruth Galloway. They presented a play and sang songs. Nearly all parents of the girls were present. The girls served cookies and coffee or chocolate milk to their parents and gave them each favors. A gift exchange among the girls completed the festivities.

The following telegram was received by Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, national president of Girl Scouts of the USA, from President Eisenhower:

"Please give my Christmas greetings to the Girl Scouts of the United States of America and to their leaders.

"As they learn to understand and work with others, the Girl Scouts receive essential training in the development of character and good citizenship. In this way they strengthen the Christmas spirit of good will in their communities and nation.

"I am delighted to add best wishes to them for a happy new year.

Dwight D. Eisenhower."

COLLAPSES—Patti Dougherty, 11, daughter of the slain Mrs. Barbara Finch, collapses in her father's arms as they leave the courtroom in Los Angeles during the noon recess. Her father, is Forrest Lyle Dougherty, formerly married to the slain woman. Meanwhile, Dr. Finch celebrated his 42nd birthday during the noon recess, complete with cake and candles.

4-H Club Activities

The Berea Ag 4H club met in December at the home of Tommy Johnson. Alan Petefish, president, was in charge. The meeting opened with pledges to the flags.

Ward Petefish, leader, returned last year's record books to members and told how improvements might be made in new record books, which were also distributed.

Plans were discussed for a Feb. 20 square dance at Yatesville Community Center with music to be provided by Zillion orchestra. The public will be invited. Those attending are asked to take sandwiches for refreshments. Soft drinks, coffee and candies will be sold.

Wayne Bloomfield spoke on Why You Should Choose Milking Shorthorns and Carol Hart spoke on In Lambing Period. Mike Anderson demonstrated Test for Mastitis.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 20 at Yatesville Community Center.

Barbara Jean Deweese

Mr. and Mrs. Merle E. Deweese announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Eddy J. DeGroot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. DeGroot, northwest of the city.

Both young people graduated from Jacksonville High School with the class of 1958.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Johanna Meyer, George W. Horton Plan Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Meyer, Glendale, Missouri, announce the engagement of their daughter, Johannna, to George William Horton, Jr. Miss Meyer is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dumas, 1006 Edgehill.

Miss Meyer is a graduate of MacMurray College, where she received her degree in music. While in school, she was active in the college choir, newspaper work, and the American Guild of Organists, and was chosen to Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic organization for freshmen women, and Cap and Gown, senior honorary society.

She is currently teaching in the conservatory of music at MacMurray College and is assistant organist at Trinity Episcopal Church. The bride-elect has one sister, Judith, and one brother, Walter Thomas, both of whom attend Kirkwood High School, Kirkwood, Missouri.

Mr. Horton is the son of Professor and Mrs. George V. Horton, 316 Gladstone. He is a graduate of Wabash College, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism organization. He received his master's degree at Oklahoma State University and has also studied at the University of Indiana and the University of Kansas.

Mr. Horton has served in the U. S. Navy. The prospective bridegroom is now professor of mathematics at Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa.

He has one borther, Edward R. Horton, who attended Jacksonville High School and Illinois College and is presently a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy. He and his wife, Charlotte Dietz Horton, are living in Livermore, California.

A summer wedding is planned.

Attending from Carrollton were Mrs. John Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin March, Finley Proffer, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Carter, Harold Albrecht, Dr. Phillip Hobson, Robbert Black and E. Havlin.

Johanna Meyer

Jerrie Wood Bride, Living In Colorado

Miss Jerrie Lea Wood chose a dress of champagne lace and chiffon for her December twenty-eighth wedding at MacMurray College Little Chapel to Glenn Warren Smith.

The conventional length skirt was permanent pleated chiffon below a satin belted tiny waistline of the snugly fitted lace bodice with Charmoud neckline. Her satin shell pumps were in an identical color.

The bride's veil of illusion matching the color of her costume was scallop cut and attached to a champagne satin headdress. She wore net mitts, in corresponding shade, and carried a dainty nosegay of white and pink carnations. Her only ornaments were pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Jerrie Lea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wood, 749 West Douglas avenue. Mr. Smith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Smith of Fargo, North Dakota.

The double ring ceremony, in which Mr. Wood gave his daughter in marriage, was performed by Dr. McKendree Blair. Soft toned flowers formed the winter bouquets adorning the altar.

Before the ceremony, with Robert Wegehoft presiding at the organ, Mrs. Gaylord Swisher sang "Because" and "At Dawning." Only members of the immediate families attended the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wood of Hightstown, New Jersey, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, attended the couple.

The honor attendant to the bride wore mauve colored silk organdy with an eggshell satin headpiece and eggshell mitts.

Both mothers wore pink rosebud corsages. Mrs. Wood wore grey silk with a pink floral hat and pink gloves and Mrs. Smith chose blue taffeta with a satin rose caught at the hemline of the skirt. Her hat was of blue flowers corresponding with her costume.

Reception At Home

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the serving table was appointed in silver and white with mums and snaps comprising the centerpiece. The three tiered cake was topped with satin tied wedding rings and doves and valley lily. Miss Ann Smith of Fargo, sister of the bridegroom, assisted with the serving.

When the couple left for Chicago, enroute to a honeymoon at Broadmoor Hotel, Colorado Springs, Colorado, the bride was wearing a winter wool costume in the new electric blue shade. Her accessories were navy and her hat winter white. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home to friends at 880 Dexter avenue, Apt. 308, Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of MacMurray College where she was a member of Belles-Lettres Society. She received her master's degree in social work from Denver University and is now employed at Clayton College in Denver. Mr. Smith, a graduate of North Dakota State College and member of Sigma Chi, did graduate work at Denver University after serving in the Air Force. He is now with Jefferson County School system in the mathmatics department. Denver

VFW Auxiliary Plans Party For Hospital Vets

WHITE HALL—V.F.W. Auxiliary to Post 7684 met Monday night at the V.F.W. Home, with President Maxine Monroe, presiding. Business routine was taken care of and a hospital party for veterans at the Jacksonville State hospital was planned for February.

Mildred Farrow and Dorothy Ward, new members, were initiated into membership.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Boris Lyman left Sunday to attend the Furniture Mart in Chicago.

Mrs. Robert Schuman and son Steven of Alton are spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lyman. Mr. Schuman left Sunday by plane for a two weeks business trip in Vancouver, B.C., Canada, for the Shell Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carter Jr. moved during the week to Alton where they have purchased a new home. Mr. Carter is employed with a baking company, managing their branch office in East St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe moved during the week to Springfield, Ill., where Mr. Monroe has purchased a business.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pruitt left Thursday morning for an indefinite visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Neff in Los Angeles, Calif.

BJ Chapter of PEO met with Mrs. N. J. Bucklin on Thursday afternoon with a 1:45 o'clock dessert luncheon, and the lesson in charge of Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

WEBSTER'S HORSE

Daniel Webster buried his favorite horse, Steamboat, standing up and bridled under a stone on which he carved this epitaph in Latin: "Traveler, pause; a greater traveler than you stops here."

Mrs. Dale Gene Wooldridge

Wooldridge-Scott Church Wedding One Of Holiday Season Highlights

One of the prettiest of the holiday weddings in Jacksonville was the church ceremony on Sunday, December twenty-seventh, uniting in marriage Miss Barbara Ann Scott and Dale Gene Wooldridge.

The four-thirty o'clock service, double ring, was performed by the Reverend Clarence S. Bigler at Brooklyn Methodist church before a large gathering of the couple's friends and relatives.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Scott, 620 South Prairie street, and the late Clarence R. Scott and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Wooldridge, 1012 South East street, and Herman Wooldridge, Jamestown, New York. The bride was given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Albert Todd.

Sharing decorating prominence with a Christmas tree, at the church altar, were arrangements of white glads, potted palms and tapers burning in candelabra. White ribbon bows, with holly clusters marked pews for the families.

With Robert Wegehoft presiding at the altar Miss Mary Ellen Covey, soloist, sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

Four young ladies attended the bride. Her sister, Phyllis, was maid of honor, Miss Lorraine Smith, Miss Sharon Wooldridge, Chicago, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Ellen Miller, Chicago, were bridesmaids.

Don Bonacorsi served as best man and Ed Varble, Ted Birdsell and Dan Moy were groomsmen. Ushers were Wayne Smith, Jerry Reed, Ron Kesinger and Bill McAllister.

Gowned In White

The lovely bride wore an exquisite formal gown of white bombazene with sequin and lace appointments. The very full skirt, worn over wide hoops, extended into a Chapel train. The snug bodice, with low cut rounded neckline featured a lace yoke, embellished with sequins, that extended at the front bodice to the waistline. The sleeves of the wedding dress were fitted snug and tapered to points over the hands. Sequins also trimmed the Queen's crown of satin that held the bride's veil of hand rolled illusion.

She carried a hand bouquet of white carnations and snowdrift mums, tied with satin ribbon. Her only jewel accessories were pearl earrings.

The attendants were gowned identically in forest green velvet frocks with conventional length skirts. The sleeves were three-quarter length and necklines rounded. Each wore a small hat of matching color velvet with white fur trim and carried white fur muffs with attached holly corsages. Heeled satin shell pumps and pearl earrings completed their accessories.

The bride's mother wore a beige costume with brown-tone accessories and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose navy blue with corresponding accessories and her flowers were also white carnations.

Receive At Church

A reception was held in the lower floor at the church. Immediately following the ceremony, Holly leaves encircled the base of the five tiered white frosted wedding cake topped with Christmas Holly.

A decorated tree and additional holly were used in further appointments for the reception. The bowl holding the red tinted punch was also based in holly. Guests were served cake, fruit punch, nutmeats and mints. Assisting with the serving were Miss Barbara Dunlap, Miss Lois Henderson, Mrs. Jim Hyatt, Mrs. Clarence Bigler, Mrs. Orville Young and Mrs. Dorothy Newby. Miss Doris Gustine and Miss Eleanor Mearshon were in charge of gifts.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in New Orleans the bride was wearing a white wool jersey costume and a corsage taken from her wedding flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Wooldridge are making their home at Gold Coast Mobile Homes, West Walnut street.

The bride was employed for two years by Braniff Airways in Chicago and now is employed by Dekalb Agriculture Association in this city. The bridegroom is in his sophomore year at MacMurray College.

Holiday Brides And Brides-To-Be

Mrs. Richard Hart

Hart-Ryan Rites At Our Saviour's Church

Saturday morning, December twenty-sixth, at the Church of Our Saviour, Miss Mary Elizabeth Ryan became the bride of Richard Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ryan, 228 Howe street, are parents of the bride and Mr. Hart is the son of Mrs. Marie Hart, Franklin, and the late Clarence Hart.

The Reverend Robert Morris officiated at the double ring ceremony. Red and white poinsettias decorated the altar of the church. Mrs. Alta Eisch presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Celeste Flynn who sang, "Ave Maria," during the prelude.

Miss Mary Coop was the bride's maid of honor and Miss Susan Ryan, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Miss Coop wore a floor length gown of Christmas green taffeta fashioned on princess lines and worn with a matching color velvet jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. Her headdress was a taffeta headband and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations.

The little flower girl wore a conventional length frock of white taffeta with wide green velvet cummerbund tying with a bow at the back waistline. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

David Hart attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Michael Hart, Larry Moberly, Randy Austiff and Gary Seymour.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of crisp taffeta over net with a Sabrina neckline coming to a V at the back. The dress was styled on princess lines and the long sleeves tapered to points over the hands.

The skirt was full and extended out over graduated hoops and crinolines. Her blusher veil, falling elbow length, fell from a petal headdress of taffeta and she carried a cascade of carnations centered with a white orchid. Her only jewel accessories were a strand of pearls and earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore beige with pink accessories and the groom's mother chose green wool with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception At Hotel

Following the church ceremony a reception was held in the Illinois Room at Hotel Dunlap. A four tiered wedding cake centered the serving table. Guests were served cake with punch or coffee, salted nutmeats and mints. Green with white were used in decorating appointments.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Albert Taylor, Mrs. Marlin Jarvis, Mrs. Christine Lawless and Mrs. Gilbert Harbin.

Miss Susan Hart, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests. Gifts were cared for by Mrs. Robert Ryan and Miss Mary Ann Keller.

When the newlyweds left for a brief wedding trip the bride was wearing a blue figured chiffon costume with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Hart are making their home at 710 South Clay avenue in this city

Ralph H. Coates, Maxine Chapman Wed In Waverly

WAVERLY — Ralph Henry Coates, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Neece of Waverly, and Maxine Chapman of White Hall were united in marriage in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sexton of Waverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexton stood up with the bride and groom, the ceremony being performed by James Watts, Justice of the Peace.

Mrs. William Neece and Miss Dorothy Neece were the only ones in attendance. Miss Neece took the wedding party to the Shamrock for supper, after which a small reception was held.

Mr. Coates is stationed in Wichita Falls, Tex., at the Sheppard Air Force Base, and Mrs. Coates makes her home at Jacksonville, being a nurse at the State Hospital. Coates will return to the Air Force Base.

White Hall Club Has Installation Of New Officers

WHITE HALL—The Past Noble Grand Club of Adams Rebekah Lodge No. 375 met Wednesday night at the I.O.O.F. Hall with Mrs. John Petrey and Mrs. Nora Goodrich hostesses. A sausage potluck supper was served at 7 o'clock with Mrs. Bob Hubbard giving the Prayer of Grace.

Mrs. Alma Dugger presided at the short business meeting which opened with the pledge of allegiance and the Lord's Prayer, in unison. Mrs. Gussie Frazier served as installing officer for the following: president, Dorothy M. Young; vice president, Mrs. William McCarthy; secretary, Mrs. Richard Bertram; treasurer, Mrs. Hubbard, and reporter, Mrs. Nova Lyons. The new president asked Mrs. Willard Rigg to serve as chaplain for the year and she was then installed by Mrs. Frazier.

An apron made by Mrs. Lee DeShasler was passed, on which each sewed a patch with an item of money, proceeds of which will go to the Rebekah State Assembly president, toward her yearly project. The apron is to be sent to the I.O.O.F. home for the aged at Mattoon, Ill.

Bunco was played, with prizes, following the business meeting.

SERVICE CHURCH-GOERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief of Chaplains Maj. Gen. Terence P. Finnegan reports that attendance at religious services in Air Force chapels passed the 12 million mark in fiscal 1959.

Air Force chaplains performed 6,127 marriages, 18,862 baptisms and conducted 2,450 funerals, he reported.

Basilio Wants A Return Bout With Fullmer

By JIM KOCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Carmen Basilio said Friday he wants a return crack at Gene Fullmer for the NBA middleweight title and expects to get the chance.

The plucky ex-Marine from nearby Chittenango also is considering paring to 147 pounds and taking on Don Jordan for the world welterweight crown. He is in daily training.

"Certainly I'm looking for the Fullmer bout, that's my business isn't it," Basilio commented when asked what he thought of reports such a match was in the works.

Although Fullmer's manager Marv Jenson, has made no definite commitments, Basilio said he expected both parties to get together soon.

Basilio, who now varies between 156 and 158 pounds, would have to shed 10 pounds in order to meet Jordan. The match, being pushed by Syracuse promoter Norman Rothschild, would be held in the War Memorial Auditorium here.

If Basilio did meet Jordan, Fullmer's probable opponent would be Joey Giardello of Philadelphia.

Fullmer won the National Boxing Assn. 160-pound title by stopping Basilio in the 14th round last August at San Francisco.

College Briefs

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP)—Eastern Illinois jumped into an early lead and never was headed Friday night as it downed Eastern Michigan 79-72 in an Interstate Conference basketball game.

Eastern Illinois, paced by Larry Friedrich with 20 points, held a slim 38-35 halftime margin but bolstered it in the second half. Frank Manley was high man for Eastern Michigan with 19 points.

Eastern Illinois now has a 4-5 over-all record and is 2-0 in the IIAC. Eastern Michigan is 5-3 over-all and 1-2 in the league.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—Southern Illinois came from behind in the closing minutes Friday night to eke out a 69-65 Interstate Conference basketball victory over Central Michigan.

Central, which led 36-25 at the half, had held the lead throughout the game but Southern went ahead for the first time with seven minutes remaining when a hookshot made the score 57-56.

Charlie Vaughn paced Southern with 22 points. Gary Lee got 22 markers for the losers.

Southern now has a 7-4 over-all record and is 1-0 in the IIAC. Central is 6-7 over-all and 0-3 in the league.

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—Beloit handed Knox College its first Midwest Conference basketball loss of the season Friday night, 63-57, behind the 24 points of Tom Wrath.

Beloit led all the way and was in front 36-27 at halftime. Bob Hoffman and Bill Graning were high for Knox with 15 points each.

Knox is now 5-1 in the conference and Beloit is 5-2.

NEW YORK (AP)— Gaspar Ortega, known as the "Unlucky Indian" from Mexico because of his many split decision defeats, closed with a rush and won a unanimous 10-round decision over Stan Harrington of Honolulu Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

The small crowd booed the decision. Ortega weighed 147½, Harrington 147½ pounds, his lightest in many months.

There were no knockdowns in this spirited battle, marked by many toe-to-toe flurries. Although Ortega grabbed the ropes and held as he tired in the last round, he had landed enough telling blows in the round to bolster his slender edge.

Harrington opened up a lead in the early rounds with his pressing tactics while the Mexican tried to jab and moved his way to victory. When Ortega's handlers discovered he could not handle his man at long range, he was told to move into close quarters and trade.

Ortega's body blows slowed down Harrington in the fifth and sixth.

At the end of four rounds, Harrington had won three on all official cards. Two officials called the other even and gave the third to Ortega.

Down the stretch it was Ortega all the way. Referee Harry Ebbets, whose final score was 5-3-2, scored the last five rounds for Ortega.

Judge Tony Castellano gave Ortega five of the last six on the way to his 5-4-1 scoring. Judge Nick Gamboli also gave Ortega five of the last six while compiling a 6-4 edge. The AP card was 6-4 for Ortega.

Indict Scott Man On Charge Of $1,300,000 U.S. Grain Shortages

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A federal grand jury Friday indicted a Winchester, Ill., man on charges of converting more than one million dollar's worth of grain belonging to the Commodity Credit Corp.

The man, Richard L. Coultas, also was charged with filing approximately $100,000 in false storage claims against the government.

U. S. Atty. Harlington Wood Jr. said the shortages were discovered at the Coultas Bros. warehouse facilities at Florence, Ill., in March 1959.

The indictment charges a total shortage of 300,000 bushels of corn, 175,000 bushels of wheat and 2,000 bushels of soybeans with a total value of approximately $1,300,000.

The shortages were concealed over a period of more than two years by construction of wooden platforms near the tops of bins giving the appearance that the bins were completely filled, the indictment alleges.

Coultas was arrested shortly after the discovery. He is free on $10,000 bond and is scheduled for arraignment in U. S. District Court Jan. 21.

The grand jury also indicted Elmer H. Kunze, 51, of Belleville on charges of income tax evasion.

Kunze allegedly reported a total adjusted gross income of $3,606.40 for the years 1953, 1954 and 1956 with a tax due of $21.

The indictment charges that Kunze's income for the period was actually $17,731.80 with a tax due of $2,703.79.

Kunze is free on $5,000 bond and is scheduled for arraignment in District Court Jan. 18.

Eight other indictments were returned by the grand jury but were suppressed until the persons involved are taken into custody or otherwise notified.

Mrs. Sadie Klein, Former Chicago Resident, Dies

Mrs. Sadie Klein passed away Friday evening at 606 North Church Street where she had resided since July 1, 1959. Mrs. Klein was a longtime resident of Chicago before coming to Jacksonville. She has one daughter in this vicinity, Mrs. Mildred West of Arenzville, at whose home she also spent a great deal of time.

She was born in Lemont Furnace, Penn., Dec. 9, 1876. She was the widow of Rev. John R. Klein.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. West; Mrs. Beatrice Retzman and Wendell Klein of Oak Park, Ill. There are eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

For many years Mrs. Klein was a missionary to the people in India. She was a member of the Free Methodist Church.

The body was taken to the Williamson funeral home and then to the Emmering funeral home in Oak Park. Funeral services will be held Monday, with burial in the Sputh Burlington Cemetery near Sycamore, Illinois.

Light Pole Sheared Off In Accident

A Chevrolet driven by Hobert L. Gibson, 1609 Elmwood, hit a city light pole in the 400 block of S. East St. at 9:42 p.m. Friday. The pole was sheared off and knocked onto the sidewalk.

Gibson was going south on East St. There are two barricades on East St. in that vicinity. Gibson said another car was going north and he got confused and hit the pole.

Gibson was taken to Our Saviour's Hospital by Odell Fellhauer. He had a cut on his left hand and another inside his mouth. He was treated and released from the hospital.

The entire front end of the auto, which is owned by the General Telephone Co., was damaged.

City police officers attended at the scene. A ticket was issued to Gibson charging driving too fast for conditions causing an accident.

Funeral Services Held Friday For Albert Overhake

MEREDOSIA — Friday afternoon funeral services were held for Albert Overhake in the Schaefer Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Leonard VanHyning.

Flowers were cared for by Mrs. Gerald Tribble, Mrs. Dorothy Baker and Mrs. Geraldine Miner.

Pallbearers were Frank Sullivan, Harold Tribble, Leo Murray, Ray Odaffer, Leroy Tribble and Gerald Tribble.

Burial was in East Cemetery.

TO DISCUSS NEW LEAGUE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) will meet with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick on Monday to talk over problems posed by the embryonic Continental League.

Keating's office said Friday the meeting was requested by Frick.

Keating last week said he'd be happy to act as mediator in disputes between the Continental League and the existing major leagues of which Frick is commissioner.

ALASKA ENTERS NCAA

NEW YORK (AP) — The new state of Alaska was formally added to membership in District 8 of the National College Athletic Assn. Friday in legislation passed at the group's annual convention.

The constitutional amendment also made Hawaii a member state rather than a territory. Other states in District 8 are California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

In eight football seasons, New York Giant halfback Frank Gifford has caught 241 forward passes.

Athletic Night To Be Held By Roodhouse Club

ROODHOUSE — Russell Chapman, furnishing his own program at Rotary club Wednesday night, presented a program of piano selections. Chapman is the club pianist.

It was announced that the annual athletics night will be observed next Wednesday night when the high school athletes will be feted.

Visiting Rotarians present this week for the dinner were Crit Haneline and Tom Cornish of Jacksonville. The two Junior Rotarians, Jim Evans and Jerry Locher, who had been guests during December, were instructed in the ideals of Rotary by Rotarian Ross Manning.

Students Fete Teacher

Miss Mabel Hopkins, teacher in the local elementary schools, was surprised by her pupils near the close of school Wednesday afternoon, with a party celebrating her birthday anniversary.

The children were assisted by the two room mothers, Mrs. H. L. Janvrin and Mrs. Ralph Conyers, who served ice cream, cake, and who presented each one present with party favors. Miss Hopkins received a billfold on which was embossed her name in gold.

The ladies also invited Mason Campbell to partake of the refreshments. Mr. Campbell was observing an anniversary on the same day.

Miss Hopkins was also guest of honor at a dinner party held that night at "The Homestead" at White Hall by friends and relatives including Mrs. J. Lee Hopkins, Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. M. Martin, and Mrs. Ethelyn Cuddy. Following the dinner, the group drove to the country home of Mrs. J. Lee Hopkins for a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds attended a birthday dinner held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Worrall, Winchester, rural route, honoring the Worrall's son, David, on his seventh anniversary Sunday. The dinner also celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mr. Worrall's mother, Mrs. Joe Worrall, Winchester.

Attending besides the Reynolds couple and Frank Walton, Roodhouse were Mr. and Mrs. Worrall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Worrall, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Worrall and family, Ray Dean McQuire, Bert Smothers, all of Winchester.

A birthday gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rawlins, east of Roodhouse, Tuesday afternoon, celebrating the 83rd anniversary of Mr. Rawlins which occurred on January 6. Present also were his wife, 82; his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lucas, both 83; his neighbor, John B. Hunt, 86; his wife's sister, Mrs. Carrie Harp, 86, and Mrs. Anna Wintler, 82. Assisting Mrs. Rawlins was a neighbor, Mrs. Hal Barber.

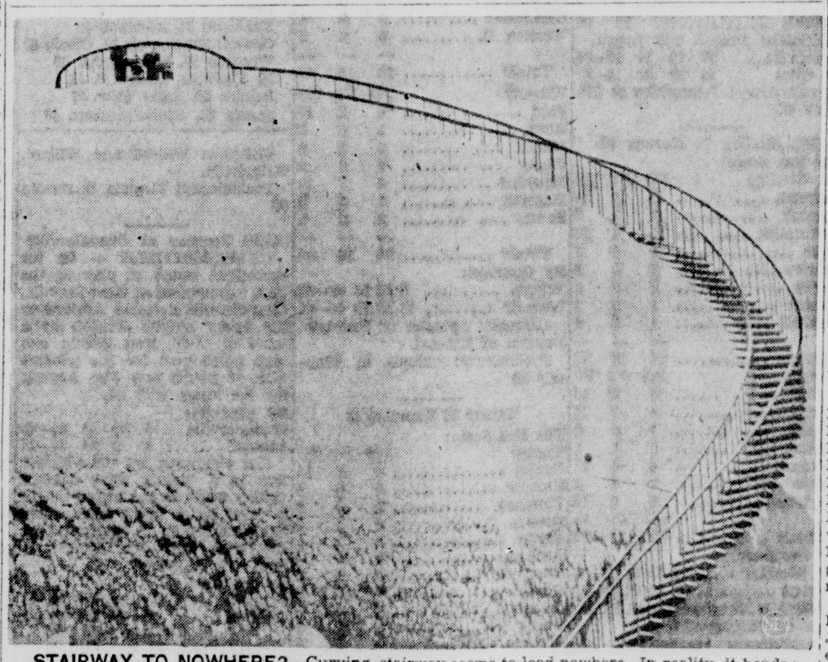

Harvey Kuenn is the seventh Detroit Tiger to win the American League batting title. Other champions were Ty Cobb (12 times), Harry Heilmann (4) and Heinie Manush, Charley Gehringer, George Kell and Al Kaline.

STANDING ORDER—Champions of the sports world are enshrined at Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum in London. The statues depict, left to right, Hogan Kid Bassey, Nigeria's former world feather foreman; Dick McTaggert, British Olympic boxing champion; Ingemar Johansson, world heavyweight titleholder; and Herb Elliott, record-wrecking miler of Australia.

STAIRWAY TO NOWHERE?—Curving stairway seems to lead nowhere. In reality, it bends around a snow-covered natural gas storage tank in Wilton, Conn. Snow and sky blend perfectly to create the illusion.

A HUNDRED YEARS IN THE HOLE—The nation's public debt of $65 million a century ago seems almost infinitesimal compared with today's. A decade later, as a result of the Civil War, it was over the $2 billion mark. Sketch above shows the debt history in 20-year intervals. After the Civil War high, it declined, on the average, until boosted by World War I. A whittling down of about $8 billion during the '20s was nullified by the depression and the beginning of World War II. Today, the government is spending as much for interest alone as the entire national budget in 1940. The debt is currently running at $291 billion, but hopes are that it will wind up around $284 billion at the end of the fiscal year.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

by Edna C. Gustine

YOU—AND COLOR

Color preferences are as varied as the human personality—and as unpredictable. We are all affected by color and whether we are consciously aware of it or not, we respond emotionally to it. Our responses differ according to our conditioning and association.

One individual, for instance, will find red in its many ramifications a stimulating and enjoyably exciting color, while another may regard it as being tense and enervating. Blue, to one, may suggest a feeling of serenity and restfulness, while others will find it a depressant.

When choosing the colors to be used in your home, key your color scheme to your personality. Let your own inner responses—your likes and dislikes—guide your selection. Never surround yourself with colors that irritate you, regardless of how fashionable they may be at the moment.

A background of muted colors gives the room sketched above an atmosphere of serenity. Ice blue walls are warmed by a citron-yellow rug, draperies and ceiling. The sectional sofa, the largest piece in the room, is also of citron yellow. Cerulean blue chair and rich brown tones of walnut tables give pronounced color accent. Bright accessories add distinction, may be removed as moods dictate.

The home furnishings for which you have registered a preference—well-scaled, handsomely designed pieces with a flair for casualness—await you here in our store. We've made sure that every piece we offer you is an outstanding example of efficient and enduring beauty and an excellent value. Come in today!

Blueboys Trail Most Of The Way As Eureka Ends Losing String

Illinois College had its ups and downs in a ragged showing Friday night as visiting Eureka led most of the way to break a four game losing streak, 76-70.

Both teams displayed the effects of the holiday layoff but it had little bearing on the close and exciting outcome. The Blueboys trailed most of the first half and had to come from behind to make up a 10-point deficit, 16-6, after going scoreless for five minutes.

Although the losers managed to knot the score five times, they saw the lead only three times in the first half and their slim margins came in the final three minutes of play.

Larry Scott got IC its first lead with three minutes remaining on a rebound, 30-29, and then the two contenders struggled for the leadership until sub Jerry Johnson sank two charity awards with eight seconds remaining to give IC a 37-35 halftime margin.

Coach Bill Merris' Blueboys opened the second half with a fast break and held a 2-4 point spread for the next five minutes of play but Eureka rolled back to knot the count at 43-all with 15 minutes remaining. IC then had to fight back in the next eight minutes of play to make up a six-point difference before guard Larry Brown evened the score at 53-53 with seven left to play.

Guards Larry Brown and Franklin Dawdy did their best to keep IC in contention with some clutch outshooting in the closing minutes of play but Eureka's control of the boards was the deciding factor.

Brown's 21 tallies led IC scoring while Thierer and Knox divided scoring honors for Eureka with 21 apiece.

Illinois is now 3-4 for the season while Eureka is now 1-4.

NCAA Rules No Substantial Change On Unlimited Substitution

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Friday delivered a surprise attack on unlimited substitution by formally recommending that no substantial change be made at this time in the football rules governing substitution.

The NCAA, meeting in its 54th annual convention, approved by majority vote (90-46) a resolution recommending its Football Rules Committee stick with current rules at least for the 1960 season.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee meets next week in Miami Beach, Fla., to consider the proposal made earlier this week by the American Football Coaches Assn. that unlimited substitution be returned to the college game for the first time since 1952.

In other convention business, the NCAA:

Overwhelmingly defeated a constitutional amendment that would have limited the athletic eligibility requirements for foreign athletes.

Approved a two-year program for controlled TV programs of college football during the 1960-61 seasons. Previously all contracts with the televising network have been for one year.

Clarified existing legislation which permits freshmen enrolled at member schools of less than 705 students to participate in NCAA (small) college division events. It was spelled out that these freshmen would also be eligible for three regular varsity seasons.

Certified a new bowl game in New York City, to be played either Dec. 3 or 10. Bowl backers said it would be between major teams.

GIANTS SIGN BECK

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants of the National Football League said Friday they had signed their 15th draft choice, tackle Bill Beck of Gustavus Adolphus College in Minnesota. The Giants also have signed Bill Poland, a former Rhode Island fullback. He was a free agent.

MacMurray Stops Carthage, 98-79

CARTHAGE—Coach Bill Wall's Highlanders ended a three-game losing string by trouncing Carthage Friday, 98-79, for victory number six in 10 starts.

MacMurray held a 54-45 advantage at halftime but came back stronger in the second half to outscore Carthage, 26-8, in the next eight minutes of play to hand the Redmen loss number six in eight outings.

With 11 minutes left in the game, MacMurray substitutes came on to finish up.

Gary Little of Jacksonville led Highlander scoring with 26 points on 13 field goals.

The Highlanders hit 54 per cent of their shots while Carthage connected on 41 per cent.

St. Mary's 42 Chandlerville 40

MT. STERLING—Sharpshooting Jerry Monckton led the Eagles of St. Mary's to a 42-40 victory over the Chandlerville Comets Friday night as he dumped in 24 points for the Eagles' cause. On the rebounding Ed Kock looked good in the first half with a majority of his team's rebounding.

For the losing team Dave McCullough was high man with 17 tallies on 8 field shots and 1 charity toss.

The first half saw the Comets using a press and zone defense but this was not enough to stop St. Mary's and they led at the end of the first half by a 29-22 score.

The second half was close and the Mt. Sterling team was able to outscore their foes in the third quarter but the final quarter was even up at 40-40 with 5 seconds left in the game when Jerry Monckton sunk 2 charity tosses to give the Eagles their ninth victory of the season.

District Elks Meeting Jan. 16-17 At Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE — The Southwest District meeting of the Illinois Elks Association will be held Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 16 and 17, in Jerseyville at the lodge rooms of Jerseyville Elks Lodge No. 954.

Robert Madson is general chairman for the meeting which opens at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon with registration and a bowling tournament. From 6 to 7:30 a smorgasbord will be served in the club rooms and Howard Eichen and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing during the evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

The program for Sunday includes registration and bowling tournament beginning at 10 a.m. with the district meeting to be convened at 3 p.m. During the business session there will be entertainment for the women in the club rooms. A cocktail hour has been arranged for 5 o'clock.

Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock at the Holy Ghost Hall. During the evening there will be dancing with music to be furnished by the Harry Lewis orchestra.

The present officials of the Jerseyville Lodge are as follows: Exalted Ruler, Robert Murray; Leading Knight, Robert Madson; Loyal Knight, Virgil Pistorius; Lecturing Knight, Dale Staples; secretary, James Allen; treasurer, Fred Herold; Tiler, David Heitzig; Esquire, Joseph Susnig; Chaplain, Harry Gray; Inner Guard, Alfred Belermann; Trustees, Harold Schneider, Louis Gorman and Arch D. Nelson.

Mae Newberry, Harry Edwards Wed In Ashland

ASHLAND—Miss Mae Newberry and Dan Young, both of Virginia, Ill., were united in marriage last Saturday night at the home of Harry Edwards, Justice of Peace in this city.

Witnesses were Mrs. Harry Edwards and Miss Johanna Plowright.

The groom is employed at the Cass Service station in Virginia, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stribling left Monday for Mesa, Arizona, to spend the remainder of the winter months. They had been there, but returned to attend the wedding of their son, L. E., and Miss Joan Nordsiek a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cosner returned to their home in Kenosha, Wis., after spending the holiday vacation here at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Susan Cosner.

AN OLD FRIEND GETS A NEW NAME

YES, WE'VE CHANGED OUR NAME!

As a farmer you will be interested to know that we changed the name of our local offices to Federal Land Bank Associations on January 1, 1960.

We believe the new name will more closely identify local associations with the Federal Land Bank System.
